

This book belongs to Virginia Thulin

Dear Virginia:

Honestly I think you and I are about the silliest things that ever lived.
Well I'm getting you back now for saying all you did in my annual.
Golly there's so many things to remember.
Don't you ever dare let anyone read this you you snake.
Golly remember the day Bill signed my annual. Remember I'm writing over this, isn't that terrible. Remember when we went looking for a job the first day, how perfectly dumb we were I mean you were.
Well at least you've got a job that's more than I have, but you just wait, I'll get one too.

Well aren't you enjoying camping the little landing Bin supposed to be taking care of?

You know someday I might get to know that guy in the Shipper and like him. Gee, I'll never forget the day you busted Montgomery Ward window that was really funny,

I think we hid in among the bushes.
Dolly maybe Verne & I will move back someday and then there'll be little V's running around.
What am I saying.

Dolly God gave you a nice skinning figure your lucky ^{girl} diet all the time to obtain my lovely figure (ahem).

Honestly I'm running out of stuff to say but I'll keep going.
Do you think I'll ever get my dress done!

Keep coming down this summer will you? you old worm. Don't take the worm business to heart. Please.
Remember when we stood on the corner of 12th & main and talked at noon and night. And when I walked with Kenneth I howl and howl embarrassed I was. And all the

Dear Virginia

Lots of luck in future years. See you next year.

Dear Virginia,
Well honey, there is one thing I wanted for your last year: I wanted for that your might be our Cherleader. But you were still S.K.
Sincerely
Eileen Abbott

Clara M. Brown.

time I keep asking you that endless question Do you think
- - - likes me or Do you think he will take me to the prom. Well that was all found out. Now I'm still worrying.

If I go to the prom next year
I'll get home at 7:00 instead of a quarter to 5:00.

Remember how I drive our lemon & (over)

John Charles Hansen
I hope for many good wishes!

mean can. You know there's the dearestest new dress down in Verbins I'd like to have but I won't get it.

You know we've known each other six months and I've truly enjoyed every minute of it.

Remember when I went into the shoe store to take back a pair of shoes and then came back out with the same thing. (In nuts I guess (hum I should talk). Remember going into Schwager's store & seeing a certain (can't spell) blond curly headed man. He, I'm sure had a lot of adventures with the opposite sex. What am I saying.

When I get married if I ever do you can be my brides maid, I'd give you visit of honor, but that's reserved.

Dear Virginia-- Remember last semester study hall,
 Love,
 Horatio Peterson

"Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam . . . at"

Fremont High School

Fremont, Nebraska

Lloyd C. Bennett.

Do you think great hope so.
 I could write someday when this you'll at least think of me. You will won't you? I hope. See I hope a carnival corner this summer will you go with me if one comes.
 you better. See I hope I have as much fun in school next year as I had this year.
 I wish you'd be a dress designer when we graduate so we could go to school together work together

PRINTING

FREMONT PRINTING COMPANY
 Fremont, Nebraska

ENGRAVING

CAPITAL ENGRAVING COMPANY
 Lincoln, Nebraska

STUDIO PHOTOGRAPHY

SKOGLUND STUDIO
 SMITHORPE PICTURE SHOP
 Fremont, Nebraska

CANDID CAMERA PHOTOGRAPHY

BILL DEVRIENDT, DICK HODGES, and BOB SORESEN

and he old maids together or else get married together or can't do that you're going to be my bride-maid but you'll

How up when you see this But please on the man I just love is wait long thing the year

Well the old vocabulary is just about running out I I should like that I

I don't think
I will, I hope you can read this. I'm sure you can Please tell your mother not to bawl you out for coming home late

Volume XXXVI

Editor	-	Susan Reynolds
Business Manager	-	Robert Murphy
Advertising Manager	-	George Ely
Adviser	-	William H. Hice

Portraying Our

but I guess its my fault for writing in your annual. I don't would have to take of kids tonight you

1942 Black and Gold

know I could go on writing forever and ever. See aren't
I awful though. You know
I still want write through to your whole book you there so much to talk about. See here's the building where Miss Lucas works maybe I better stop here for now.

To depict patriotism on the home front, the 1942 Black and Gold portrays Fremont High School students and alumni who are preparing for the post-war future while working to insure the preservation of the American way of life.

Town and Our People

Leaders at Home

Representing the many Fremont teachers who are graduates of Fremont High School is FRANCES SPRINGER, '17, an instructor in the local schools since receiving her A. B. degree from Nebraska Wesleyan University. President of the English division of District 2 of the Nebraska State Teachers Association, Miss Springer has taught in the first, second, third, and sixth grades as well as in Junior and Senior High School. A member of Eastern Star, she is also the guardian of the Fremont Job's Daughters.

SPRINGER

RUDOLPH SCHURMAN, '98, has served Fremont in many capacities since he first entered the Department of Utilities office following two years at the Fremont Normal. After working in the automobile business, he taught Junior High School auto mechanics for two years. Having served as Dodge County deputy treasurer from 1927 to 1937, Mr. Schurman was elected county treasurer in 1938. Past president of the Izaak Walton League, he is the father of Carol Schurman, '23, and the grandfather of two future Fremont graduates, Joan and Robert Schurman.

After attending the University of Nebraska for three years, DALE MILLIKEN, '12, joined the United States Navy as a member of the lone overseas Naval Railroad Battery in World War I. Choosing banking as a profession, he next worked in the Fremont National Bank, transferred to a North Bend bank for two and a half years, and then returned to the former to be made vice-president. Past president of the Rotary and Golf Clubs and treasurer of the Naval Relief, he is the father of James, '41, and Tommy, an eighth grade student.

Champion among Fremont bowlers is RICHARD WINKELMAN, '23, who received $1240 as first prize in the 1941 National Brunswick Sweepstakes and won first again this year. He has also won two state titles and one tri-state title at Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Past president of both the state and local Junior Chamber of Commerce and a Creighton Law School graduate in 1928, he has been in local practice since 1932 and city police judge for six years.

Not only did EARL LEE, '07, marry an alumna, Rebecca Pierce, '09, but he is also the father of Jackson, a graduate, and Robert, a sophomore. After receiving his A. B. degree from the University of Nebraska, he studied law in the office of Courtright and Sidner. Entering the Nebraska bar in 1914, he became a partner in the firm now known as Sidner, Lee, and Gunderson. A president of the Y. M. C. A. for twelve years, Mr. Lee is past grand master of Grand Lodge A.F. & A.M. of the Nebraska Masons.

Representing younger grads who have entered professional fields is DR. STEPHEN SPANGLER, '33, a Junior Chamber of Commerce director. A student at Kemper Military Academy for a year, he later attended the Northern Illinois College of Optometry in Chicago, where he received a Doctor of Optometry degree in 1937. After having practiced in Cheyenne a year, he came here in 1938 and set up his private practice.

One of the few women graduates holding a public office is PEARL RAY THOMPSON, '02. Once a teacher in Fremont's elementary schools for six years, she has taken work at the University of Chicago, Northwestern University, and Lake Forest College since receiving her B. Sc. degree from Midland. After the death of her husband, Mr. J. I. Ray, Mrs. Ray was appointed to complete his term as county superintendent of schools for a year before being elected to the office. Vice-president of the Altrusa Club, she has worked untiringly to promote the Dodge County Rural School Choir.

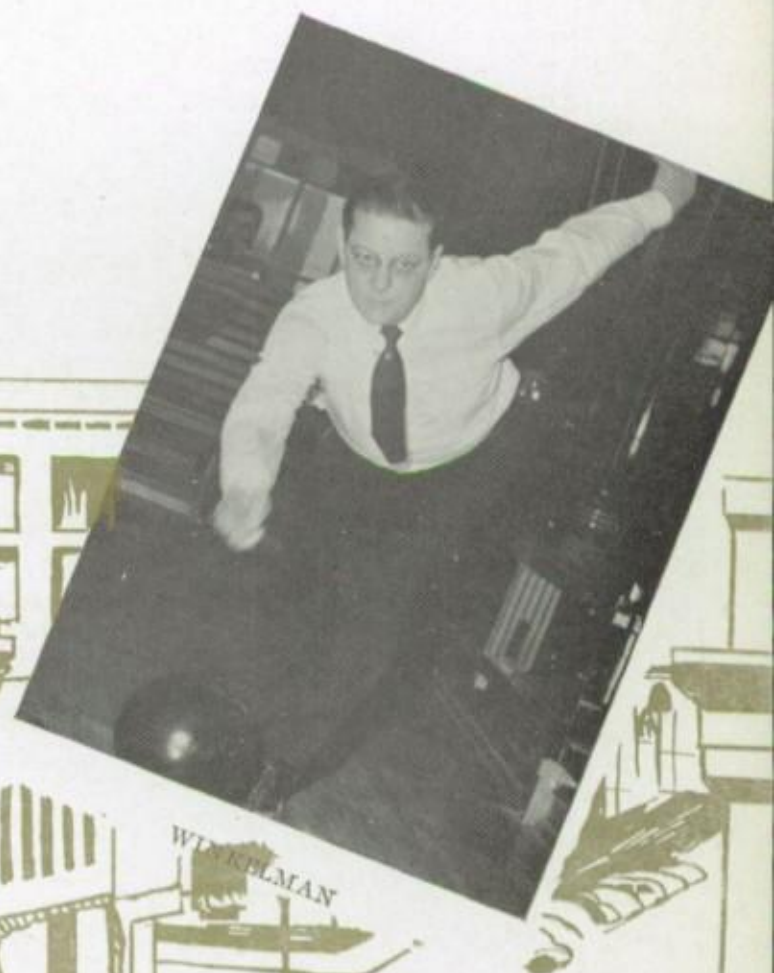

SCHURMAN

MILLIKEN

THOMPSON

The DAIRY BAR
WALLICK
LUTHER'S RESTAURANT

WINKELMAN

LEE

SPANGLER

GAETH

THE PIERCES

HASLAM

BALDWIN

Representing Fremont's many outstanding physicians is DR. GEORGE HASLAM, '17, former Black and Gold editor. In 1926, after receiving his M. D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania, he began his medical practice in Fremont. Chairman of both the Red Cross and Civilian Defense medical committees, Dr. Haslam will be followed through school by his three children—George, a junior; John, a freshman; and Florence, a second grade pupil.

ARTHUR BALDWIN, '09, an air enthusiast, has worked his way up in the insurance and real estate business to become senior partner in the firm of Baldwin-Peterson. The father of Betty June, a senior, and William, '38, Mr. Baldwin is president of the Mercantile Credit Company and the Nebraska Broadcasting Company as well as treasurer of the Inland Broadcasting Company. Past president of Kiwanis and the Chamber of Commerce, he is now vice-president of the Y. M. C. A. and a trustee at Midland.

A Nebraska graduate, FLORENCE SWIHART, '24, was Fremont Tribune city editor prior to becoming public relations director for the Stephens National Bank. For her story of Secretary of War George Dern's funeral train as it passed through Fremont, she was awarded the Nebraska Press Association's prize for the best news story of 1937. As a journalist, Miss Swihart wrote features from first hand contact with Dalies Frantz, American pianist; Eleanor Roosevelt; George Furns and Gracie Allen; Mildred Dilling, foremost woman harpist; Tom Mix; Heber J. Grant, Mormon Church head; and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Rohde, former minister to Denmark.

One of the many young Fremont business men who are Fremont High School grads is ROLAND GAETH, '28, Junior Chamber of Commerce president. Beginning work as a bookkeeper at the Fremont National Bank after he was graduated, he is at present an assistant cashier. Secretary-treasurer of the local chapter of the National Aeronautics Association, Mr. Gaeth is a past exalted ruler of the Elks and is district deputy grand exalted ruler for the Nebraska East District of Elks.

As a father-son combination, RUSSELL PIERCE, '07, and RUSSELL PIERCE, Jr., '38½, are both working for American defense. Mr. Pierce on the home front in his furniture business and Russell, Jr., in the United States Army Air Corps. After attending the University of Nebraska for two years, Mr. Pierce established his present business. Since then he has been active as a Mason and a past commander of the American Legion. Russ, Jr., attended Midland College two years before enlisting in the Air Corps last summer. Receiving his commission from the Sacramento, California, field, he is now a second lieutenant stationed at Fort Myers, Florida.

Influential in civic affairs for many years, LLOYD HAVEN, '01, established himself in his local cleaning business after two years at the University of Nebraska. A member of the Board of Education for six years, Mr. Haven is serving his seventh year as city councilman. An adviser of the local DeMolay Chapter, Mr. Haven was one of the first eleven men in the United States to be awarded the DeMolay Distinguished Cross of Honor.

SWIHART

HAVEN

Leaders Afieled

Worthy of Fremont's highest respect is REAR ADMIRAL MILO C. DRAEMEL, '02, of the United States Navy. A graduate of the United States Naval Academy in 1906, he returned to that institution as commandant of midshipmen after being in command of the Pennsylvania, former flagship of the United States Fleet. Prior to the December 7 attack on Pearl Harbor, Admiral Draemel was in command of the destroyers of the Battle Force. Because of the many staff changes occurring during a war, his present position cannot be definitely stated. On March 14, however, word was received from his wife in Seattle, Washington, that he was at that time chief of staff to Admiral Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the United States Pacific Fleet.

DRAEMEL

JAMES D. MARSHALL, '21, has been successfully engaged in engineering work since 1925 when he received his B. Sc. degree from the University of Nebraska. Although his interests in high school were centered in football and The Rustler, of which he was editor, civil engineering took the spotlight at the university. A partner in the Kansas City, Missouri, firm of Marshall & Brown, Mr. Marshall has turned from designing school buildings and bridges to designing industrial plants commissioned by the War Department.

Helping to protect America as a member of the United States Marines is CAPTAIN RICHARD N. JOHNSON, '21, former Black and Gold editor now stationed at Camp Elliott, San Diego, California. Receiving his A. B. degree from the University of Nebraska, he joined the Marines in 1927 and went to China. Upon his return to this country, he took his LL. B. degree at the University of Nebraska Law College. Until his election as a senator of the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature in 1938 and again in 1940, Captain Johnson had practiced law in Omaha and Fremont.

Selected to represent Fremonters in the United States Army is LIEUTENANT EGBERT HAMMOND, '31, member of a pioneer Fremont family. Leaving his position at the Department of Utilities in January, 1940, Mr. Hammond, a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Elk's Club, went with the Fremont National Guard company to Little Rock, Arkansas. Commissioned as a second lieutenant in 1940, he is now a first lieutenant. According to his wife, the former Margaret Anderson, '33, Mr. Hammond is stationed in the Hawaiian Islands with the Hawaii Service Command.

JOHNSON

HAMMOND

MARSHALL

LOOMIS

BOYD

MARSH

While serving as editor-in-chief of both the FHS Annual and The Rustler, ZELA LOOMIS, '08, found that he had newspaper blood. After one summer at the Fremont Normal, he became a cub reporter and city editor of the Fremont Tribune. From 1912 until the present time Mr. Loomis has had a share in the Columbus Daily Telegram of Columbus, Nebraska. At his suggestion, his pedigree reads: Zela Loomis, editor, FHS Annual, 1908; general manager, Columbus Daily Telegram, 1942.

Distinguished as a brilliant composer and pianist, JEANNE BOYD, '08, has had a most outstanding and interesting career. After her graduation from the Frances Shimer College, Miss Boyd first taught at the Lyceum Arts Conservatory and Bush Conservatory before joining the faculty of the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. In April, 1939, she played for the Crown Prince and Princess of Denmark at the one social event given for their Royal Highnesses in Chicago. Vice-president of the Society of American Musicians and of the MacDowell Society in Chicago, her works include a cantata, "The Hunting of the Snark"; an orchestration, "Andante Lamentose"; and many vocal, piano, and organ compositions.

WILLIAM MARSH, '31, who during his University of Nebraska years helped obtain subscriptions for the Student Union, is now director of that organization. A graduate of the university in 1937, Mr. Marsh was editor of The Cornhusker, president of the Innocents, drum major of the ROTC, and a member of the University Players, Kosmet Club, and Student Council. Employed by the Union Oil Company of Covina, California, until taking his present position, his success is due partly to his winning personality and smile.

NED ABBOTT, '92, second editor of the Fremont High School Lantern, is one of Nebraska's most outstanding citizens. After receiving his A. B. and LL. B. degrees from the University of Nebraska, Mr. Abbott entered the teaching profession. After serving as superintendent of schools at Tekamah and Plattsmouth, he moved to Nebraska City in 1912 to become superintendent of the Nebraska School for the Blind, a position he still holds. Mr. Abbott, who has written numerous magazine articles, is a former president of the Nebraska State Historical Society, a past exalted ruler of BPOE, a charter member of the Nebraska City Rotary Club, and the recipient of the Nebraska City Chamber of Commerce's service medal.

ABBOTT

GIDLEY

BERGE

Chosen to represent the priesthood is the REV. LAURENCE E. GIDLEY, '31. Following his graduation from Conception College, Conception, Missouri, in 1933, he entered Conception Monastery as a Benedictine monk. In 1936 he received his A. B. degree in philosophy from St. Benedict's College in Atchison, Kansas. After spending four years in theological study, the Rev. Gidley was ordained on May 2, 1940, and is now teaching speech, debate, and dramatics in Conception College High School and homiletics in Conception Minor Seminary.

Representing the many graduates who have become homemakers and mothers is LAURA WHELEPLEY, '21. After her marriage to Mr. Wendell Berge, assistant attorney general in charge of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice, Mrs. Berge did personnel work in the Chemical Club Employment Bureau in New York and was circulation manager of the Science News Letter in Washington, D. C. Her interests now are centered chiefly in her six-year old son, her beautiful home, and her garden.

Representing the teaching profession is NATHANIEL HAMILTON McGIFFIN, '20. A former editor of the Black and Gold, he holds an A. B. degree from Hamilton College, Clinton, New York, where he won major letters in football, basketball, and track. Since his marriage to Adelaide Morrow, a member of Fremont's Class of '22, Mr. McGiffin has been an English instructor and track coach at Summit, New Jersey, Senior High School.

Beginning his career in high school by singing in the glee club and four operettas, ROBERT SPEAKER, '31, is an outstanding young musician in this country. Having attended Midland College two years, he received a scholarship to the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago where he earned a B. Mus. degree before joining the teaching staff. Noted particularly for oratorio work, Mr. Speaker has sung in "The Messiah" in the Chicago Municipal Auditorium and in Milwaukee. Frequently using Miss Jeanne Boyd's compositions in his concerts, he appeared with her in a recital for the Crown Prince and Princess of Denmark in Chicago and in a Fremont Concert in 1939.

JOHNSEN

HARVEY M. JOHNSEN, '13, editor of the Fremont High School annual when it was christened the Black and Gold, has risen to the position of judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit, the activities of which are centered in and around Kansas City, Missouri. After receiving his A. B. and LL. B. degrees from the University of Nebraska, Mr. Johnsen served on the faculties of the Creighton and Omaha Law Schools and on the Nebraska State Supreme Court for two years by appointment. He also has the honor of being a past president of both the Omaha Bar Association and the Nebraska State Bar Association.

SPEAKER

MC GIFFIN

YOUNG
MURPHY

HARVEY
JOHNSTON

MORROW
WELLS

Board—Not Bored— Of Education

By Robert Murphy, '42

Conferring with LaVonne Elmer, Superintendent John Hansen takes a personal interest in student activities and problems.

Every Fremonter who has followed this year's work of the Board of Education knows that its six members—Dr. J. Tilton Young, R. A. Johnston, Glenn Wells, Dr. Andrew Harvey, Dr. H. N. Morrow, and Leander Murphy—have done an outstanding job.

Although this year's budget exceeded last year's by $3,015, from that amount $1,000 of woodworking equipment and three visual education machines were purchased, a new Senior High library constructed, twenty-two Junior High rooms painted, and additional recreational grounds acquired for West Side School.

Anticipating a shortage of vital school supplies next year, the Board of Education wisely let out fifteen bids for equipment and supplies immediately after war was declared. The commercial department, for instance, will be able to carry on business as usual since its supply of typewriters was purchased before prices rose and stocks were frozen. This saving alone amounted to $63.00. Another item almost unobtainable now is paper towels. Today the fifty-five cases ordered during Christmas vacation sell for $72.00 more.

Because these isolated instances are typical of the care always given when public funds are spent, members of Fremont's Board of Education are known throughout Nebraska as individuals whose interest indicates they are not bored of education.

HANSEN
CORBETT

HATCH
DUNLAP

MITTEN
ELMORE

VAUGHN
GARDNER

BURKHOLDER
GERHART

CLARK
HANLON

Training Plus Ability Equals Fremont High's Faculty

By Patricia Jensen, '42, and Betty Rhea, '42

Because of his friendly nature, Superintendent JOHN G. HANSEN (A. B., Wayne State Teachers College; M. A., University of Nebraska), is tops with Fremont students. Mr. Hansen holds many offices including those of District 2 vice-president of the Nebraska State Teachers Association, lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis, vice-president of the Nebraska State School Boards Association, and chairman of advancement for the Pathfinder District of the Boy Scouts of America.

DORIS HATCH, secretary of Superintendent Hansen, acquired her high school and college education in Fremont and was formerly secretary in the Junior High School principal's office. For that reason and because she is always willing to do favors, Doris, a member of the Junior Women's Club, is a well-known friend of all students.

The adjective "swell" goes to Principal HAMILTON F. MITTEN (A. B., Midland College; M. A., University of Nebraska). Besides his many responsibilities at school, Mr. Mitten is chairman of the Nebraska High School Activities Association's District 2 managing committee and is a member of Rotary's board of directors, the committee for national defense, and the Y. M. C. A.'s board of directors.

The amiable secretary of Principal Mitten is MAXINE VAUGHN, an alumna of Fremont High School. Because she can remain cool and collected as business whirls about her, Miss Vaughn does much to keep the affairs of the school running smoothly.

MAY BURKHOLDER (A. B., Midland College; M. A., University of Nebraska), efficient Latin instructor, is a co-sponsor of the Girl Reserves. Much of the success of this organization is due to the long hours she has spent working and planning for its activities.

Because of his outstanding ability as a director, RONALD M. CLARK (A. B., Peru State Teachers College), new instructor of vocal music this year, produced a superior A Cappella Choir. Co-sponsor of the Junior Class, Mr. Clark has been given the "O. K." stamp of approval by students.

FLORENCE MILLER CORBETT (A. B., M. A., University of Nebraska), energetic social studies instructor, is a past women's golf champion of Fremont. Her courses are extremely interesting since she has visited scores of historical shrines in her travels through Canada, Europe, Cuba, Alaska, and the United States.

Likable L. HARTLEY DUNLAP (A. B., Peru State Teachers College), A-1 in students' hearts as the new science instructor this year, has been 1-A in the United States Army since his enlistment in February.

A hard worker, T. HARRISON ELMORE, who has specialized in manual arts at the University of Chicago, Stout Institute, and the University of Nebraska, is an instructor in that subject as well as the head of the Industrial Arts Department.

WAYNE A. GARDNER (A. B., Midland College; M. A., University of Nebraska), small and lively vocational guidance instructor, has placed many students in positions with local organizations and firms. First director of the local trade training program, Mr. Gardner is Hi-Y sponsor.

Co-sponsor of the Junior Class, friendly KATHRYN GERHART (A. B., University of Nebraska), teaches two languages, English and German. Miss Gerhart, a P. E. O., is also an active member of the A. A. U. W. and the Junior Women's Club.

Because of her outstanding personality, tiny and vivacious FRANCES HANLON (A. B., M. A., University of Nebraska), instructor of English, supervisor of extracurricular activities, and adviser to high school girls, scores an immediate "hit."

MEHRENS
TEAL

OLSEN
WILES

SCHNABEL
WILSON

SMITH
WESTCOTT

SOKER
YELKIN

SPRINGER
YOST

To have traveled in thirty-eight of the forty-eight states and one province of Canada is an experience of industrious ANITA MEHRENS (B. Sc., University of Nebraska). Miss Mehrens has aided in the modernization of the homemaking course offered to Senior High girls.

Before going to college, top notch Band Director WALTER R. OLSEN (B. Sc., Midland College) traveled with a show and circus, did radio work, and played in a theatre and dance band. This summer Mr. Olsen will teach woodwinds, brass, percussion, and direct the all-state band during the all-state high school course at the University of Nebraska.

In his after school hours, sincere EDWARD SCHNABEL (B. Sc., Midland College; M. A., Colorado State College of Education) coaches the track team and assists in coaching the Varsity Football team. An instructor in mathematics and science, Mr. Schnabel belongs to Phi Delta Kappa and Nebraska State Science Teachers' Association.

Elected to succeed Mr. Dunlap as science instructor during the second semester was good-natured HERBERT SMITH (B. Sc., M. A., University of Nebraska), who came to Fremont from Wayne High School. His large scale Victory garden occupies many of Mr. Smith's after school hours.

Red-headed and affable BERTHA SOKER (B. Sc., University of Nebraska), co-sponsor of the Pep Club, stepped directly into a myriad of activities after joining the commercial department's staff this fall. Miss Soker is second state vice-president of the Nebraska Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Sympathetic and understanding FRANCES C. SPRINGER (A. B., Nebraska Wesleyan University) continued her duties as co-sponsor of the Pep Club for the third consecutive year.

LENORE TEAL (A. B., M. A., University of Nebraska), demure French teacher, did much to promote the first successful language club in this school for years, the French Club. Miss Teal, who also co-sponsored the Senior Class, holds memberships in Phi Sigma Iota, Phi Beta Kappa, Mu Phi Epsilon, and the Palladian Literary Society.

Cool and collected HELEN WILES (A. B., Nebraska Wesleyan University; M. Sc., University of Southern California), Girl Reserves co-sponsor, instructs classes in both history and English. During a recent trip to Mexico Miss Wiles attended an eight weeks' Spanish course.

When next year rolls around, the head basketball coach will be purposeful DON C. WILSON (A. B., Midland College; M. A., University of Nebraska), mathematics instructor who coached the tennis, Reserve Football and Reserve Basketball teams this season. Mr. Wilson is also president of the Fremont Teachers' Forum.

Sponsoring Fremont High School's first Intramural bowling team for girls, capable MARY JEAN WESTCOTT (B. Sc., University of Nebraska) not only directs G. A. A. activities but is also a member of the state committee for six player field hockey rules.

Not to be forgotten for the athletic achievements he inspired is former Coach VIRGIL YELKIN (B. Sc., University of Nebraska), who was called to duty as a second lieutenant in the United States Army during the latter part of February.

This spring good-natured HERBERT YOST (B. Sc., University of Nebraska) completed his second year of vocational agriculture instruction in the Industrial Arts Building. Prior to joining the Fremont faculty, Mr. Yost taught agricultural students in four other schools for eight years.

With his smile and friendly interest, Principal Hamilton Mitten helped students be at ease in his pleasant office.

Classic example of frozen action is this shot of a football pep rally from the assembly balcony. Capturing the unposed hurry and motion of school life, the picture shows Miss Kathryn Gerhart, Joe [unclear], Melvin Hansen, Kathryn Legge, and Delores Diedrichs [unclear] for various classes as Charles House directs the Pep Band [unclear] final number.

Tomorrow's Leaders

Realizing their responsibilities as the citizens and leaders of tomorrow, sophomores, juniors, and seniors take advantage of a varied and complete educational program which prepares them for future success by coordinating each individual student's mind, hand, and body.

(1) Warren Anderson, Waunetta LeGrand, Betty Jane Higgins, Magdalene Launer, Colleen Callaway, Bill Eidam, Venice Kohlmeier, and Alice Marie Williams study war moves in their European history class.

(2) Having a recitation period in class are Darlene Cusick, John Price, Bill Hanson, Janice Spotts, Alma Hunt, Kenneth Glismann, Jacqueline Lamberty, Elaine Lahman, Hubert Coats, and Betty Bruce.

(3) Busy learning fundamental English rules are Lawrence Lundin, Robert Stephenson, Don Powers, Jim Rousey, Kenneth Tanke, Bill Schiller, Dorothy Weihe, Dorothy Metschke, Betty Van Horn, Rose Ranieri, and Kay Murphy.

(4) As Rella Wheelock, Robert Bubbett, Gene Muir, Dean Riegel, Joyce Padden, Elden Karlin, and Sigurd Daehnke, a senior, listen attentively, Jacqueline Miller gives a special report in one of Mrs. Florence Corbett's history classes.

(5) Under the new supervised study plan, Clarence Raschig, Virginia Kingry, Alma Hronek, Norman Karlin, Bob Lee, Dona Jean Clausen, Patricia Hensens, Joan Nelson, and Marjorie Masters have time to prepare their lessons in class.

(6) During the first semester, Rosemary Reynolds, Elaine Kortum, George Boosalis, Charles Martin, Mabel Realph, Loma Moss, and Arlene Jacupke not only studied composition and grammar but also read outstanding works of literature.

(7) Miss Frances Springer's bulletin board helps Floraine Pred, Duane Kaise, Mary Ellen Kissell, Larry Smutz, Dorothy Ruppert, Tommy Allen, Violet Heller, and Dorothy Dew see the practical side of English.

*Dear Virginia
Best of luck to a swell gal.
"Jo" Nelson*

Rounding The First Lap

By Nancy Frank, '44 and Charles Martin, '44

As the Class of '44 entered Fremont High School last fall, its members began the first lap of their final years in a public school. Introduced to an independence heretofore unknown to them, these students were required to use all their resources, talents, and ability to earn their place in the student community.

With Dennis Zakovec, president; Rodney Ball, vice-president; Melvin Matson, secretary; and Mrs. Florence Corbett and Mr. Donald Wilson, sponsors, as their leaders, the class was well represented in the various extracurricular activities. Beginning their athletic careers, sophomores found places on the Reserve and Varsity Football, Reserve Basketball, and Track teams as well as in Intramural sports.

To prove their worth as musicians, a number of members were active in Band, Orchestra, A Cappella Choir, and both vocal and instrumental small groups. The class also had active participants on the Student Council and Student Readers' Board and in Hi-Y, Pep Club, Girl Reserves, and similar groups.

While they devoted much time to these activities, the newcomers in high school spent even more of their time studying; for the class was always well represented on the honor roll throughout the year.

By doing their part in upholding the fine traditions of Fremont High School, those of the Class of '44 successfully rounded the first lap and are ready to continue in full force for their final two school years.

(8) In a class taught by Mr. Edward Schnabel, Harriet Furstenau, LeRoy Brown, Virginia Franklin, George Brown, Elaine Doerneman, Marjory Hanson, Rodney Ball, and Gretchen Grefe ponder over a difficult problem in mathematics.

(9) Hard at work on a geometry examination are Francis Rheinschild, Dorothy Manzel, Fred Gayton, Dennis Zakovec, Mary Louise Helt, Berniece Jugler, and Margaret Ann Hickman.

(1) Before Mr. Don Wilson's business arithmetic class begins, LaVina Perkins, Bette Blakency, Ralph Mets, Anne Anderson, Jim Furstenu, and Darlene Coates talk about the coming game with Norfolk.

(2) Harold Thurm, Bob Hahn, Jim Feild, Melvin Matson, Dorothy Jensen, Robert Johnson, Albert Ibsen, Doris Rinde, Pat Martin, Adele Carstens, Mary Ellen Kissell, and Dona Jean Clausen listen to their instructor's explanation of a theorem in geometry.

(3) In a Latin class, Marilyn Douglas, John Scoville, Jean Rump, Delores Lovell, Lavon Maben, Lynn French, LaVina Schlote, and Doris Rinde learn about Roman life.

(6) In order to learn how to appreciate music and poetry, Joe Carlson, Charlotte Ann Lewis, Juanita Salazar, John Stout, and Curtis Carroll listen to recordings of masterpieces by world famous composers and writers.

(7) Myrtle Daniels, Marcella Bayer, and Mary Lou Hoganson watch Lena Mae Wittwer, Mary Broten, Nancy Frank, and Genene Jensen play a fast game of ping pong in the gym.

(8) Mr. Hartley Dunlap explains the complicated mechanism of the motion picture projector in the visual education room to Bill Lyders, Caroline Lahmann, Roberta Schaeufele, and Lois Wetgen.

(9) Miss Jean Westcott, with the help of Jacqueline Lamberty, shows Shirley Hageman, Marian Schow, Mary Lou Phelps, and Roberta Zorn the correct method of applying first aid to an injured arm.

(4) After testing their knowledge in English grammar, Miss May Burkholder explains the examination to Marcella Ball, Jim Bokowski, Jacqueline Miller, Kenneth Nelson, and Doris Peterson.

Sophomores

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

Lay the Foundation

Self-mastery is a trait that can be learned in no classroom; it is, instead, something acquired by meeting and successfully overcoming each challenge.

Even though the precise wording of the definition of a relative pronoun or of the rule for finding the square root of a number may eventually be forgotten, an understanding of the principles behind such rules and definitions will remain.

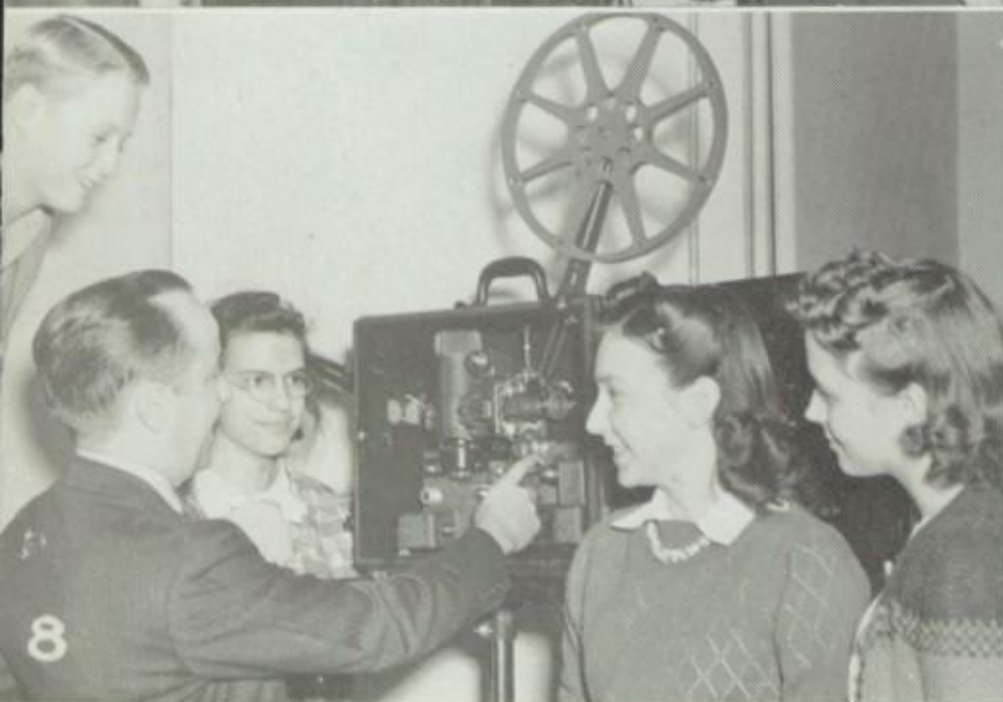

In being required to take only physical education and English, each sophomore in his choice of electives is permitted to lay the foundation for his chosen vocation.

(5) Carmen Freeman, Darrell McDuffee, Dorothy Weihe, Lloyd McDuffee, Florence Eckert, and Beatrice McMahan try to understand the complicated biological experiment Ronald Bennett is illustrating on the board.

Lots of fun and happiness to you guys. Remember study in Jr. H.S. and my math. Beatrice

Remember study in Jr. H.S. and my math. Mary Lou Rogerson

(1) As Pete Eggers clowns, Waunetta Le Grand, Mary Ann Maiker, Lyle Dirrim, Gernelle Keener, Lucille Rasmussen, and Marcketa Singer read the latest issue of The Rustler.

(2) Finishing various pieces of shop work in the Industrial Arts Building are Harold Fowler, Robert Dickmeyer, Dean Egger, Dean Riegel, James Wilkins, and Charles Grover.

(3) During a study period, Colleen Callaway, Melva Callahan, Eula T. Poel, Dick Kallenbach, David McGath, Larry Smutz, Cleo Forsberg, Elaine Lahman, Arlene Ivey, and Clara May Brozen search for reference material in the library.

(4) Clarence Sinner, Ardis Luedinghoener, Wilmer Westhal, and Paul Larson study in the library as Frank Wilkins and Albert Diederich exchange views on the forthcoming Norfolk game.

(5) In the four minutes between classes, Bill Walstead, Jason Gould, Don Krcmarik, Jim Hanson, Howard Wadsen, Jacqueline Malcolm, and Phyllis Johnston talk about activities in and out of school.

Hi Virginia Bill Olson

(6) Viola Brass, Marian Brewer, Arlene Ivey, Carolyn Eskilsen, Elmer Anderson, and Phyllis Sorensen get their lessons while Don Ageton dreams of the time when school will be out.

*Best of Luck,
"Jackie" Malcolm*

Heading Into the Home Stretch

By Mary Richards, '43; Richard M. Donnell, '43; and Susan Reynolds, '42

*Dear Virginia
Good luck
in the coming year
Neva Engel*

After two years of participation in both the educational courses and extracurricular activities of Fremont Senior High School, the juniors, individually and as a class, are now heading into the home stretch.

Under the leadership of Charles Smith, president; Joyce Neumann, vice-president; LaVonne Elmer, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Kathryn Gerhart and Mr. Ronald M. Clark, sponsors, the class opened the year with the annual Hare and Hound Chase. An unusual Junior Orpheum, carrying out a hill-billy theme and written by Bill Colley, Ila Lee Monovitz, Mary Alice Cawood, and Ginger Reeder, was presented in March. To climax an eventful year, the Junior Class entertained the Senior Class at the May Prom.

Thus by taking part in these activities as well as those of the athletic, music, and other departments, the juniors are now prepared to assume the responsibilities required of them during their final year of high school.

(7) Under the watchful eye of Miss Kathryn Gerhart, Don Dobrovolsky speaks convincingly while Melvin Schwanke, Donna Lou Peterson, Alice Wheelock, Charles Smith, Neva Engel, and LeRoy Watson listen.

(8) Lois Koopman, Jo Ella Olesen, LeRoy Watson, Delores Harms, Marjorie Launer, Mary Arvanetis, and Lois Ann Martin are also interested in the speech Don is giving.

*Best of Virginia Wishes,
Irene Kallstrom
Lots of Luck
Harold*

(1) In Mr. William Hice's oral English class Hal Spohn drives a point home to Norman Larsen, Merlin Anthony, Frances Springgate, Carole Mosier, Marjorie Dodge, and Evelyn Diedrichsen.

(2) In the same class, Helen McCarthy, Margie Reed, Joyce Neumann, Elaine Hartmann, Betty Thompson, Irene Kallstrom, Harold Walters, and Betty Bader are obviously amused by Hal's humor.

(3) Time before class is not wasted by Patty Rasmussen, Bonnie Strain, June Lueninghoener, Harold Wilch, Elaine Dickerson, Betty Jane Hilgenkamp, and Jim Lonergan, who discuss the latest gossip.

Juniors

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

Widen Basic Knowledge

In planning their curriculum for three high school years, students have an opportunity to take many courses in different fields and to widen their basic knowledge.

They are required to earn six credits in English since what is learned in that subject is of importance and can be used throughout life. Although one semester of oral English is required in addition to the sophomore English course, credits may be earned in such diversified interests as journalism, dramatics, and literature.

The remainder of each individual's course is made up of electives. For those who wish work in mathematics, advanced algebra and business arithmetic are furnished. Latin, French, and German may be taken not only to learn the tongue of a group of people but also to become acquainted with varying customs and beliefs. A wide selection of scientific studies, including physics, chemistry, biology, and integrated science, helps students explore the mysteries of the physical world about them.

(4) Proving that work as well as fun enter into public speaking, Patricia Foley, Bill Colley, Grace Jilg, Bud Jastram, Ralph Romans, Ruby Gifford, Delores Diedrichs, and Dale Janowski study diligently.

(5) In Miss Lenore Teal's French 2 class, Eileen Buck, Theresa Nau, Kay Reynolds, Carolyn Motter, Jack Anderson, and Ginger Reeder struggle untiringly with the pronunciation of a difficult passage.

(6) Relaxing from the work of dissecting bugs in biology, Betty Widman explains the secrets of the barometer to Kenneth Skoog, Ronald McCarty, Leo Peirce, and Don Harvey.

(7) Because they find the study of the elements more to their liking, Bernice Sommers, Betty Bracket, Gene Wild, and Mary Richards perform rudimentary experiments in the chemistry laboratory.

Dear Jenny¹⁾
Remember the good times we had! (going bike riding)
Those were the good old days, see you next year. Good luck to a swell girl!
Bernice Sommers

Juniors

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

Awake to World Affairs

With the world about them in chaos and with nations being crushed so a few may rise to power, it is only practical and logical that young people in high school should be made aware of contemporary affairs. For when this war is over, the problems of a reconstruction period will become those of the students of today.

In the junior year of each individual's school career, he is required to take two semesters of American history. Work in this subject enables him to view the past of this country and to understand the factors concerned in its growth so he may acquire a solid background for a study of the present day situation.

In order to understand a democratic form of government as it exists in America, future citizens must practice as well as study democratic living. A well-organized Student Council and activities and clubs directed by student leaders help to mold ideas of self-government in the minds of juniors.

(1) In one of Miss Helen Wiles' classes, Pete Madsen, Lola Rieck, Bill Gunderson, LeVerne Montanye, Burnell Furstenau, Roma Rohn, and Darlene Bahle are amused by a humorous aspect of American history.

(2) Jack Hannon, Larry Shanahan, Irene Kallstrom, Robert Winther, Carol Yaryan, and Paul Johnsen are thoughtful as Miss Wiles explains some of the more serious problems of American history.

(3) Dick Arie, a senior, Roslyn Green, Arlene Maryott, Arlie Atwood, and Shirley Canaga put their training into practice by typing letters as Dorothy McKenzie goes to Miss Bertha Soker for instructions.

Juniors

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

Specialize According to Talents

In this age of specialization, the person who masters one phase of work well instead of spreading out thinly into several fields is generally considered wisest.

In Fremont High School the number of practical subjects offered to give students training and practical experience is rapidly increasing. A complete secretarial course in the commercial department can be obtained from typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, commercial law, and actual office practice.

A Smith-Hughes course in vocational agriculture and home economics was initiated last year to give students experience in those lines. Girls in the homemaking department not only have learned to design and make dresses, budget money, and prepare meals, but they have also studied interior decorating, having made a living room for their personal use at school.

To learn appreciation of the fine arts, students may work in both the vocal and instrumental music departments and the art department. The two of these practical courses are the industrial arts program, which embraces those interested in auto mechanics or general shop work, and the vocational arts program, which integrates school work with work done in business firms.

(4) To check their speed and accuracy, Robert Kosta, Charles Quay, Billy Olson, Virginia Thulin, George Goodhard, and Dick Hepperly take a time test in personal typing.

(5) Lois Sorensen, Miss Anita Mehrens, Leola Herre, Margie Mead, Betty Ann Neisius, Marguerite Perkins, Vernice Paulsen, and Lorene Brown discuss homemaking problems.

(6) Reading fashion magazines in the attractive home economics living room are Betty Wagner, Carmen Realph, Marcella Jirovsky, and Bonnie Lou Weidner.

*Dear Virginia
lots of love Marguerite*

Virginia, Best of luck in all your Marilynn Miles

(1) In Mr. Ronald Clark's chorus class, Eileen Abbott, Darlene Vinderslev, Lavina Schlote, Ralph Conrad, James Brozen, Juanita Tharp, and Avis Shriver spent part of each hour period vocalizing.

(2) Miss Elaine Lucas supervises the work of Bruce Lehman, Betty Mendenhall, Harold Bader, and Charlotte Dorsett, who specialize in various projects best suited to their individual interests and talents.

(3) In Mr. T. Harrison Elmore's general shop course Paul Steffen, Don Dobrovolsky, Harold Atzbach, James Otteson, Carol Larsen, Richard Peterson, and Donely Goransen learn to work skillfully with wood.

(4) After seeing a visual education film, Yvonne Christensen, Douglas Adams, Helen Greenlee, Darlene Piere, Betty Burbank, Wanda Johnson, Betty Bader, Elaine Hartmann, and Leona Wittman return to class.

(5) Taking time out from their morning schedule of classes, Jerry Dykeman, Margaret Stennfeld, Janice Gaines, Nanette Sampter, Keith Perry, Jack Harding, and Donald Wild loiter in the hall. Although the four minutes between each class give them a chance to relax from the strain of studies, they also enable all students to form bonds of friendships through conversation about social activities and lessons.

(6) Ila Lee Monovitz, Geraldine Peterson, Bettie Beck, Jim Paulin, Herbert Davis, Bill Higgins, Margaret Nielsen, and Gerald Dickhute get absence checks from Miss Maxine Vaughn in the office.

(7) The locker corridor for boys affords an ideal place for Jerry Cornell, Dick Cusick, Jack Emmons, Robert Fahk, Richard Sievers, and Calvin Christensen to chat before school, between classes, and at night. If the photographer, however, had ventured farther down the corridor, he would have been able to get a similar picture; for girls also find their locker corridor fine for confidential gossip.

Juniors

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

Learn Art of Friendliness

Necessary for the welfare and happiness of every human being are friends. In future years, when either good or bad conditions overtake the students of today, a friend and confidant will be invaluable. Throughout their school life students make friends and contacts, but in high school close friends become dearer, more necessary. It is in high school that students must learn tact and self-control so they may be likeable and pleasant.

In front of the school, on the stairs, and in the hall, students mingle, talk, laugh together. In the extracurricular activities they work independently and as a group to advance their personal status as well as that of the class.

As these boys and girls associate with each other, they are successfully preparing themselves for the time when they will have to cultivate friends without the aid of a school atmosphere.

(1) Dwain Bronson, Carl Rasmussen, Jerry Miller, Paul Anstine, Earl Pedersen, Betty Widman, Marcella Miller, Althea Yeoman, LaVonne Elmer, Charles Butler, Daton Camp, Dale Milligan, Gayle Gainsforth, Orris Lamprecht, Val Gene Claussen, and Dick McDonnell say "V for Victory."

(2) Kenneth Woslager, Virginia Murphy, Doris Wilmer, and Marie Jensen continue to visit between classes as Victor Wennstedt and Kenneth Wild start for the third floor.

(3) Frank Schinkel, Bill Nelson, and Lila Woods continue to kid one another even though Laura Johnson, Verda Carlberg, and George Haslam feel it's "high time" to go home.

(4) Yvonne Christensen, Charleen Kelly, Charles Smith, Melvin Hansen, and Lila Peterson have a few minutes of leisure at noon before the bell rings.

(5) Mary Alice Catwood, librarian, answers the questions of Don Thomassen, Lucille Peters, Benny Utterback, Merle Jensen, Thelma Johnson, Ruby Gifford, and Lou Jean Samuelson.

Juniors

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

Develop Study Habits

No personal success or gain can be acquired from a school by any person without a certain degree of work on his part in that school community. No basic knowledge will be widened, no idea of world events conceived without concentrated thought, work, and study.

A supervised study plan has been adopted in this school to enable students to work on school assignments in each class. A well-equipped library with every type of book is at their disposal.

Given all this help, students with any initiative or will to work are able to learn the art of studying which, once gained, will never be lost.

(6) Agnes Peterson, Bob Sawtelle, Betty Lou Jelinek, Marjorie Ritthaler, Jackie Mitchel, and Dick McDonnell obtain material for different subjects from the library.

(7) Making use of Fremont High's excellent collection of reference material and fiction books are Marcene Krcmarik, Jack Townsend, Ralph Mets, Beverly Chudomelka, and Audrey Osborn.

Crossing the Finish Line

AKERLUND

ALLEN

ALLEN

ANDERSON

ANDERSEN

ARIE

AUSTIN

BABENDURE

BAHDE

BAHNER

BAKER

BALDWIN

A member of the Girl Reserves (3,4) as well as Home Room president (3) and vice-president (4), JEAN AKERLUND, who plans to attend college next year, took a commercial course. Her favorite subject, though, was French.

Looking forward to teaching in a rural school next fall before going on to college, BETTY ALLEN, hard-working, faithful pianist for the vocal music department (3,4), Junior Orpheum (3,4), and Girl Reserves (4), also found time to give private instruction to young piano pupils.

Track (3,4), Intramural (2,3,4), and Science Club (2) claimed the leisure time of DALE ALLEN, who majored in mathematics and studied mechanical drawing in order to prepare for a college engineering course.

Active in Pep Club (2,3), Girl Reserves (3,4), A Cappella Choir (2,3,4), and the Junior Orpheum (2,3,4) and secretary of her Home Room (3), MARY ANDERSON was most interested in small vocal group work (2,3,4).

Another prospect for the field of engineering is MERLE ANDERSEN, a mathematics major who belonged to the Pep Club (3,4).

Always willing to do the hard labor behind scenes for any concert given by the Band, RICHARD "Dick" ARIE was in that organization (2,3,4), Track (3), Reserve Football (3), and Hi-Y (3,4) besides serving as his Home Room's vice-president (4).

A newcomer from Wahoo this year, LEWIS "Lewy" AUSTIN, a member of the Orchestra (4), was a School Patrol (4) and Hi-Y (4) worker.

SHIRLEY "Boomie" BABENDURE, who was on an Intramural bowling team (4), participated in Pep Club (2), Girl Reserves (3,4), and G. A. A. (1). She specialized in commercial training and driving a '41 "Chevie."

With a hobby of collecting miniature soap bars, ELAINE "Bates" BAHDE majored in commercial subjects while taking part in Pep Club (2,3) and Girl Reserves (2,3,4).

Sociology and other social studies were the favorite subjects of JOYCE BAHNER, known as "Sarge" to military-minded friends.

Typing was the favorite subject of BETTY LOU BAKER while hiking and swimming are two activities she enjoys most during her leisure summer hours.

Holding membership in Pep Club (2,3,4), Girl Reserves (3,4), Dramatic Club (2), and Press Association (4), BETTY JUNE "Baldy" BALDWIN, Black and Gold staff (4), spent many hours writing clever and original feature stories which made her a valuable member of The Rustler staff (3,4).

ERMA BARTLING, whose ambition is to become a secretary, named Latin as her favorite subject and embroidering and cooking as her hobbies.

Vice-president of the Orchestra for four years and a member of instrumental small groups for two years, BONNIE "Bon" BARTON, Pep Club (3), spends her summers roller skating and swimming.

Having participated in Pep Club (2,3) and Girl Reserves (4), MARY BATTIATO, whose favorite subject was commercial law, plans to become a stenographer next year.

A real musician, MARILYN BETKIE devoted much of her time to piano, having taken lessons for about six years. Besides doing piano accompaniment work, she also specialized in commercial subjects.

With bowling as her hobby, MARJORY BETKIE had different interests than her twin sister, Marilyn; for she sang with the A Cappella Choir (4) and majored in home economics.

Following a precedent set by others in his family, MORRIS BITTNER was a high school debater although he was also active in the Science Club (3).

Better known as "Gee Cee," JANICE BLAKESLEE, who collects perfume bottles, belonged to the Dramatic Club (2), A Cappella Choir (3,4), Girl Reserves (3,4), Pep Club (2), and Student Council (4) and was a candidate for DeMolay Sweetheart (4).

Petite DOROTHY BLANCHARD, whose favorite subject was commercial law, devoted her time to the Girl Reserves (3,4) and roller skating.

Going to California after graduation is EVERETTE BOGENREIF, a worker on The Rustler (4) and in Intramural (2,3), whose main hobby is dancing.

Well-built TOM BRACKET was in Reserve (1,2,3) and Varsity (4) Football, Swimming (2), and B Club (4). School Patrol (1,2,3,4) and Band (1,2,3,4) were his other activities in school. Building gas model airplanes was his chief hobby.

Willing to spend many hours typing and working on The Rustler (4), CHARLIE BREMNER participated in Girl Reserves (2,3) and Pep Club (2,3).

To create interest in Penny Day, Bill Reuter, Betty Ritchie, Kathy Legge, Charles House, Verne Daniel, and George Ely, all seniors, helped stage an amusing assembly.

ADELINE BREWER, a member of Pep Club (2,3,4) and Girl Reserves (2,4), librarian (4), and Home Room secretary (3) and president (4), excels in roller and ice skating. She plans to teach in a rural school.

Planning to go to Baltimore, Maryland, after graduation is JOYCE BRONSON, who majored in foreign languages and was a member of the Girl Reserves (2).

LORETHA "Larry" BRONSON, active in Girl Reserves (2,3), considered bookkeeping and English her favorite subjects and skating, dancing, and reading good entertainment.

BARTLING	BARTON	BATTIATO	BETKIE	BETKIE	BITTNER	BLAKESLEE
BLANCHARD	BOGENREIF	BRACKET	BREMNER	BREWER	BRONSON	BRONSON

BRUEGGEMANN

BRUEGGEMANN

BYORTH

CARLSON

CASSELL

CHRISMAN

CHRISTENSEN

CHUDOMELKA

CLARK

CONRAD

COPPOCK

CROUCH

CUSICK

DAEHNKE

Class Secretary-Treasurer (4) RICHARD "Dick" BRUEGGEMANN was chairman (3) and secretary (4) of the Student Readers' Board. While maintaining one of the highest scholastic averages in school, "Dick" also served as president of the Science Club (3), belonged to the Pep Club (3), and took part in Intramural (3).

Just like his brother "Dick," ROBERT "Bob" BRUEGGEMANN was in Pep Club (3) and on the Student Readers' Board (4). Unlike his brother, "Bob," Student Council president (4), had Black and Gold (4) and Library (4) work as his other activities.

With a smile of friendliness for everyone, JANE BYORTH, Home Room secretary (3), had varied interests; for she was in Pep Club (2,3), Girl Reserves (3), A Cappella Choir (4), and The Rustler staff (3).

A vociferous backer of Fremont teams, JEANNE CARLSON was an active participant in Girl Reserves (3,4), A Cappella Choir (4), Press Association (4), and Pep Club (2) Council (3).

Bashful and with a twinkle in his dark eyes, HAROLD CASSELL majored in social studies and kept track of county license numbers as a hobby.

Using friendliness as a by-word, JOE "Trapper" CHRISMAN was in Reserve (2) and Varsity (3,4) Football, Reserve (2) and Varsity (3,4) Basketball, Track (2,3,4), and F Club (4) and was a Junior Rotarian in March (4). Joe's high school athletic career reached its climax when he was elected honorary co-captain of the Varsity Basketball squad.

SHELDON CHRISTENSEN, a newcomer to Fremont from Hooper this year, distinguished himself in the field of dramatics when he had the leading male role in "Jittering Spooks," this year's fall play.

Interested in collecting stamps and snapshots, VALBURGA "Val" CHUDOMELKA, active in G. A. A. (3), plans to attend a nurse's school in Omaha this fall.

An outdoor girl with a deep interest in sports, BETTY JAYNE CLARK, whose activities included Girl Reserves (4), Pep Club (2,3), and A Cappella Choir (4), was married and left school during the second semester.

Although DORIS CONRAD returned to Atlanta, Georgia, after having spent one semester here, she was active in Girl Reserves (4), a Home Room officer (4), and a professional roller skater.

Another recruit from the South, HALLIEFAYE COPPOCK enrolled in Fremont High in September for her senior year. Halliefaye, outstanding art and dramatics student, plans to attend the Kansas City Art Institute next year.

Prior to her marriage to Kenneth Kirchner, '41, in December, BETTY LOU CROUCH, '41½ graduate, participated in Pep Club (2) and Girl Reserves (2).

Enough credit cannot be given JAMES CUSICK, an untiring slave for every organization in which he had a part. Playing in the Band (1,2,3,4), "Jim" held the offices of corporal, lieutenant, and captain, having earned all three by his hard work in getting equipment ready for concerts. He was Hi-Y (2,3) president (4), Press Association treasurer (4), a Black and Gold staff member (3,4), Rustler (3) business manager (4), and a Junior Rotarian in December (4).

Coming from Kearney High School last fall, IONA DAEHNKE, called "Blondie" by her friends, plans to enroll in an Omaha hospital next fall since she has chosen nursing as her profession.

lots of fun in the future Phyllis Ruppert.

Pep Club (2) Council (3), A Cappella Choir (2,3,4), Dramatic Club (3), and Girl Reserves (2,3,4) were the activities of MARJORIE "Marge" DAILY, a continual "A" citizen.

Hi-Y (3,4) and School Patrol (4) were the interests of VIRGIL FRENCH, who derived his greatest pleasure in school in the typing and shorthand classes.

GERALD "Jerry" FULLINGTON, a social studies major who participated in Football (4) and F Club (4), enjoyed history more than any other subject.

Holding the presidencies (4) of the Pep Club (2,3,4), the A Cappella Choir (2,3,4), and his Home Room (2,3,4), handsome VERNE DANIEL, Junior Orpheum (2,3,4) co-master of ceremonies (3) and class vice-president (3), was a Junior Rotarian (4) and a member of Hi-Y (2,3,4), vocal small groups (2,3,4), Student Council (2,4), Black and Gold staff (2,3,4), and the Reserve (2) and Varsity (3,4) Basketball and Golf squads (2,3,4).

During his career in Fremont High School, independent ROBERT DORSETT, vocal small groups (2,3,4), Press Association secretary (4), and class secretary (3), was a member of the Black and Gold staff (4), A Cappella Choir (2,3,4), and School Patrol (2). "Bob," a librarian (3), was also editor-in-chief of The Rustler (4), Student Council secretary (2), and Hi-Y (2,3) secretary (4).

A newcomer from Schuyler High School was DORIS DUNKER, a Girl Reserve (4) and a commercial and social studies major whose favorite subject was shorthand.

Coming from Wahoo High School this year, PHYLLIS DWYER was a commercial student. When not in school, she spent her time collecting pictures of movie stars.

Advertising manager (4) of The Rustler (3,4) and Black and Gold (4), GEORGE ELY was a member of Pep Club (2,3), A Cappella Choir (3,4), Hi-Y (2,3), School Patrol (2,3), and Press Association (4). Aside from taking part in the Junior Orpheum (3,4), Football (2), and Intramural (4), George was Home Room vice-president (4) and Reserve Basketball manager (3).

Drumming and cheering his way through high school, ROY FARRIS was a cheerleader (2,3,4), Student Council secretary (2), Black and Gold sports editor (4), Press Association councilman (4), Junior Rotarian (4), and an editor-in-chief of The Rustler (4). "Junior," an ardent admirer of blondes in general, starred in Basketball (3,4) and Golf (2,3,4) besides working overtime for the F Club (4), Pep Club (2,3,4), Band (1,2,3,4), instrumental small groups (2,3,4), Junior Orpheum (1,2,3,4), and Pep Band (2,3).

Athletically inclined CAROL FEUERSTEIN, librarian (4), was a member of the Pep Club (2,3), Dramatic Club (3), A Cappella Choir (3,4), Girl Reserves (2,3,4), and G. A. A. (1,3) during her high school days.

Minoring in Pep Club (2,3,4), Student Council (4), and School Patrol (1,2), MELVIN FOWLER majored in athletics and journalism. In the former field, "Mike's" activities were Reserve (2,3) and Varsity (4) Football, and Intramural (4); in the latter, Black and Gold (4), Rustler (4), and Press Association (4).

Two of the high school inseperables were ROBERT FOX and Charlotte Anne Nelson, '41. When he was not with his "heartbeat," "Bob's" activities were Football (1,2,3,4), F Club (3,4), and Dramatic Club (3).

DAILY	DANIEL	DORSETT
DUNKER	DWYER	ELY
FARRIS	FEUERSTEIN	FOWLER
FOX	FRENCH	FULLINGTON

Planning to continue his work in vocational agriculture at the University of Nebraska next year, BURNELL FURSTENAU, had building model airplanes as a hobby.

Girl Reserves (2,3,4) and Commissary (3,4) occupied most of the time of GERTRUDE GARFIELD, a commercial major.

Although her plans for next year are indefinite, ELIZABETH GEISER was definite in her preference for Band and English.

LOREN "Cy" GIEBLER, famous for the way he wielded a tractor around the golf course, was active in F. F. A. (2,3,4).

Better known as "Red" to his pals, WARREN GOLLEHON, one of the few members of the Varsity Basketball team (4) who was not afflicted with illness or injury during the season, also participated in Reserve Basketball (2,3) and Hi-Y (3,4).

KATHRYN "Curly" GROVER, well-liked by all her friends, took a commercial course and named snapshot collecting as her hobby.

Transferring to Fremont from Westport High School, Kansas City, Missouri, in his junior year, WILLIAM "Bill" GUMB was chairman of the rally and courtesy committees of Pep Club (3,4) and participated in Hi-Y (4) and Debate (3).

Swimming, typing, and Girl Reserves (2,3,4) were the main interests of ETHELYN "Tink" HACKNEY, who plans to enter the secretarial field.

Sweet, good, and studious are the three words which best describe ELOISE HACKSTOCK, a commercial major whose greatest likes were shorthand and art and whose aspirations reached toward the stenographic or secretarial fields.

Two-wheel turns in his gray "Chevie" helped ALVIN "Al" HAGEDORN, Hi-Y (4), supply Fremont's corners with rubber.

Although he was extremely quiet around school, EUGENE HAISCH played Basketball (2), took a business course, and indicated an interest for mechanical drawing.

Bright-eyed JEAN HANSEN, a foreign language major who held membership in the Girl Reserves (2,3,4), plans to be a stenographer or secretary.

MONA JANE HANSEN belonged to only one organization, Girl Reserves (3,4), because she found that ice skating, swimming, hiking, and commercial work filled her spare time.

Another commercial major, a Girl Reserves (3,4) member, and an outdoor enthusiast was JOAN HARMS, an "A" citizen who genuinely enjoyed her classes in sociology and office practice.

FURSTENAU
HACKNEY

GARFIELD
HACKSTOCK

GEISER
HAGEDORN

GIEBLER
HAISCH

GOLLEHON
HANSEN

GROVER
HANSEN

GUMB
HARMS

HARTSOCK	HAUGHAWOUT	HEIDENREICH
HELLER	HERMAN	HERMAN
HERRE	HESKETT	HINDMARSH
HOLUB	HOUSE	IVEY

Enjoying knitting, reading, and dancing during her leisure time, CORINNE "Sock" HARTSOCK was active in Dramatics (4), A Cappella Choir (4), Girl Reserves (4), and G. A. A. (1,2).

With a position in an office as her goal for next year, DOROTHY HAUGHAWOUT joined the Girl Reserves (4) and enjoyed Senior English.

Aside from Senior Class President and an army private, JEAN HEIDENREICH'S activities included Student Council (2), Pep Club (2,3), A Cappella Choir (4), Girl Reserves (3,4), and class treasurer (3). "Jeannie," a DeMolay Sweet-heart candidate (4).

Intent on joining Uncle Sam's forces either in the air or on the sea after graduation is EDWARD "Ed" HELLER, a social studies major and member of the School Patrol (3).

Reserve (1) and Varsity (4) Football, Reserve (1,2) and Varsity (3,4) Basketball, Golf (1,2,3,4), F Club (4), Band (1,2,3), Orchestra (2,3), Black and Gold staff (3,4), Hi-Y (2,3), Rustler (3) sports editorship (4), Library (4), and Press Association (4) were the activities of DALE HERMAN, an October Junior Rotarian (4). "Tink," who has had thirty hours of solo flying, plans to enter the air corps after two years at the University of Nebraska.

Industrious is the adjective best fitting NONDA HERMAN, accompanist (3) of Girl Reserves (2,3,4), who not only was on the honor roll every time except once in Junior and Senior High Schools but also won superior ratings in the piano division of the District 2 Music Contest (2,3).

Between eight-thirty and four o'clock each school day BETTIE HERRE'S main interests were Daton Camp, Pep Club (2,3), Girl Reserves (4), Science Club (2), Rustler (4), and French Club (2,3,4).

Although he had Pep Club (4), Orchestra (1,2), small vocal groups (1,2,3,4), A Cappella Choir (3,4), Rustler (3), and the presidency of the French Club (4) to keep him busy, THEODORE "Ted" HESKETT could usually be seen with a sad note in his eye and the song—"Somebody Else Is Taking My Place"—on his lips.

Quiet, but mighty and powerful, GLEN "Harpie" HINDMARSH was a '41½ graduate. While in school, he was in Reserve (2) and Varsity (3,4) Football and in Track (2,3).

"Just to keep on roller skating and start working" are the plans of OPAL HOLUB.

Besides being a Junior Rotarian (4), drum major (3,4) and corporal (4) of the Band, and a DeMolay member, CHARLES "Chet" HOUSE was a member of the Pep Club (4), Orchestra (2,3), small instrumental groups (4), A Cappella Choir (4), and Hi-Y (4).

Planning to work next year so she may take a business course in some college later is CLARA-BELLE "Clara" IVEY.

Comer Heine, Janice Blakeslee, Charles House, Genevieve Kaarstad, Abe Krasne, and Jean Heidenreich were only six of the happy throng attending the first all-school party.

JACUPKE	JENSEN	JENSEN
JENSEN	JOE	JOHNSON
JOHNSON	JOHNSON	JOHNSON
JOHNSON	JOHNSON	JUGLER
KAARSTAD	KELLER	KENT

A mainstay on the Tiger Varsity Football squad (3,4), GERALD "Sparky" JACUPKE participated in Reserve Football (2) and Intramural (3) besides serving as secretary (4) of the F Club (3) and being a member of the Athletic Board (4), (4). Completing the activities of "Jerry," a Junior Rotarian (4), were Rustler collections manager (4), Track (3,4), and Swimming (2).

KENNETH JENSEN, librarian (4) and Hi-Y (2) membership chairman (3) and vice-president (4), was active in Tennis (3), Reserve Basketball (2), Baseball (1,2), F Club (2,3,4), and Athletic Board (3).

KENNETH H. JENSEN, known as "Kite" to his friends, participated in Swimming (4), A Cappella Choir (3,4), and Hi-Y (4).

Petite PATRICIA "Patty" JENSEN, president of the Press Association (4) and French Club (4), was a member of the Pep Club (2,3), Dramatic Club (3), Black and Gold staff (4), Girl Reserves (3,4), and Rustler (4).

Sports—Football (2,3,4), Track (2,3), Intramural (2,4), and F Club (2,3,4)—took the spotlight in DONALD JOE'S high school career. Besides being on The Rustler advertising staff (4), "Don" was an outstanding worker in the art department.

One of this year's school leaders was JOHN BYRON JOHNSON, associate editor (4) of the Black and Gold (3), an editor-in-chief and sports editor (4) of The Rustler (3), Student Council vice-president (4), Home Room president (4), Varsity Basketball co-captain (4), and membership chairman (4) of Hi-Y (2,3). "Bud's" other activities were Orchestra (3,4), small instrumental groups (3), Band (1,2,3,4), F Club (4), Reserve (2) and Varsity (3,4) Basketball, Tennis (3,4), Quill and Scroll (4), and Junior Rotarian (4).

Although her plans for next year are uncertain, CALLA JOHNSON, Girl Reserves (4), named shorthand her favorite subject.

The plans of GERALD "Jerry" JOHNSON, F. F. A. member (3,4), are to work on a farm.

A Cappella Choir (4) and Girl Reserves (4) were the activities of GLADYS JOHNSON.

A social studies and foreign language major, blonde LILLIAN JOHNSON, a Girl Reserves member (3), named reading her hobby.

Another of those "number please" girls next year will be VIVIAN JOHNSON, G. A. A. (1,2,3) vice-president (4) and Girl Reserves member (4).

Probably best known as the business manager of The Rustler (4), LEO "Lippy" JUGLER also had other activities—Basketball (3,4), Track (3), Intramural (2), Pep Club (2,3), Black and Gold (4), Hi-Y (4), and School Patrol (2).

KLUGE

KNAPP

KNOELL

KNOELL

KNOELL

KOHLMEIER

KOSTA

KOUNOVSKY

KRASNE

KRUSE

LAMBERTY

LARSON

GENEVIEVE "Gennie" KAARSTAD, Pep Club (2,3) secretary (4) and French Club president (4), participated in the work of the Athletic Board (3), Dramatic Club (3), A Cappella Choir (4), Student Council (4), and Girl Reserves (2,3,4).

An ambitious lad, PAUL KELLER was Student Council vice-president (3), librarian (3,4), city councilman on Boys' Day (3), and Hi-Y member (3,4).

VIVIAN "Pat" KENT, who particularly liked Pep Club (2,3), skating, hiking, reading, and English, was an "A" citizen.

While building up a reputation as a thoughtful, hard working student who majored in mathematics and languages, ELAINE KLUGE found time to be a member of Girl Reserves (3) and vice-president of French Club (4).

Assisting Miss Helen Marr with Commissary (3,4) work and participating in Pep Club (3) and Girl Reserves (2,3,4), IONA KNAPP "liked civics best."

In addition to working as a fountain girl at Petrow's after school and majoring in social studies, HELEN KNOELL, '42½, was secretary (2) of G. A. A. (3).

Interested in Fremont's new vocational agriculture program, ROBERT KNOELL was a hard worker in F. F. A. (4) and served on a Junior Orpheum committee (3).

WILLIAM KNOELL, like his brother, Robert, was definitely interested in agriculture. "Bill" spent most of his time actually farming at his home near Ames.

A newcomer to Fremont this year, having moved here from West Point, JOHN KOHLMEIER proved valuable to the sports department; for he was in Football (4), Intramural (4), and F Club (4).

ELAINE KOSTA, a social studies major, found homemaking and her hobbies of collecting sea shells and traveling definitely satisfying.

Professing a desire to become a secretary, quiet JEAN KOUNOVSKY confined her school activities to Pep Club (2) and Girl Reserves (3,4).

Coming to Fremont from Oakland High School as a senior, ABNER KRASNE majored in commercial subjects and hopes to attend the University of Nebraska. "Abe's" outside activities included Swimming (4), Pep Club (4), A Cappella Choir (4), and Hi-Y (1,2,3,4).

Majoring in social studies and deriving great personal pleasure from bookkeeping, FRANCES KRUSE, '42½, also took part in Girl Reserves (4).

Planning to work in a foundry, to play football at Midland, or to join the Navy, RICHARD "Dick" LAMBERTY will be remembered as one of Fremont's Football (2,3,4) "greats." In spring the interests of "Sledge," F Club (3) president (4), Athletic Board member (2), and Junior Rotarian (4), were confined to Track (1,2,3,4).

Having moved to Fremont this fall, PHYLLIS LARSON transferred to Omaha Technical High School at the beginning of the second semester. "Phil's" main interests were dancing and sewing.

James Robinson, Sheldon Christensen, and Bill Reuter receive actual experience in the field of radio as they broadcast over KORN.

Hoping to become a stenographer, BETTY JEAN LAUNER, Rustler (4), completed a commercial major and was active in Pep Club (2,3), Girl Reserves (3,4), G. A. A. (2), and Press Association (4).

While Intramural (2), general shop, and civics were ROBERT LAUNER'S chief interests in school, "Bob" found time after three-thirty to work and be an active DeMolay.

Although uncertain about her plans for the future, ROBERTA LAURSEN took part in G. A. A. (1), Pep Club (2), A Cappella Choir (4), and Girl Reserves (2,4).

Hoping to attend Iowa State College after graduation, CONSTANCE LEE, better known as "Connie," majored in science and mathematics and filled an already crowded schedule with Pep Club (2,3), vocal small groups (4), Dramatic Club (2,3), A Cappella Choir (4), Girl Reserves (4), Science Club (2,3), and Library (3).

A newcomer to Fremont High as a junior, KATHRYN LEGGE proved herself to be an honor student and an "A" citizen besides serving as A Cappella Choir (3) vice-president (4), Girl Reserves (3) secretary (4), Student Council (3) president (4), and Senior Class vice-president.

EDMUND LEWIS, better known as "Slaughter," proved a terror to gridiron opponents and a Romeo where women were concerned. Besides starring in Football (2,4), Track (3,4), Swimming (2,3,4), and Intramural (2,3), "Ed" was F Club (3) sergeant-at-arms (4), and a member of Hi-Y (2,3).

Showing a decided preference for music and journalism through her work as an A Cappella Choir (2,3,4) soloist and an editor-in-chief of The Rustler (4), PATRICIA "Pat" LUCAS contributed to this year's success of the Pep Club (2,3), vocal small groups (2,3,4), Dramatic Club (2,3), Black and Gold (2,4), and Girl Reserves (2,4).

LUANNA MAHLIN was a familiar and welcome figure as a librarian (3,4) under Miss Ruth Harris. "Pinky" also answered to roll call in Pep Club (2,3), Dramatic Club (3,4), Girl Reserves (2,3,4), and French Club (2,3).

Because of illness, ROBERT "Bob" MALLONEE was unable to complete his work this year. When able to be here, however, his chief hobby and business was photography.

LAUNER	LAUNER	LAURSEN
LEE	LEGGE	LEWIS
LUCAS	MAHLIN	MALLONEE
MANDRELL	MANZEL	MANZEL

MARTIN	MASTERS	MATSON	MC GEE	MEHAN	MEINES	METSCHKE
MILLIGAN	MOELLER	MOFFET	MOLLER	MONAHAN	MOORE	MORTENSEN

Although VIRGINIA "Ginny" MANDRELL, Girl Reserves (4), liked music and was in A Cappella Choir (2,3,4), her favorite subjects were in the commercial field. She plans to attend a business school next year.

Finding dancing and skating to be her most enjoyable outside activities, GOLDIEMAE MANZEL, a social studies major who plans to become a clerk after graduation, participated in G. A. A. (3).

Pint-sized HAMILTON MANZEL found typing and journalism to be his favorite subjects. In athletics "Ham" made up for his size with skill and speed while participating in Basketball (3), Tennis (3), Intramural (2), and F Club (4).

Sweet and unassuming, GLORIAN MARTIN moved to Fremont from Scribner last fall but left early in the second semester to attend Omaha Technical High School.

A thorough and steady worker, ELEANOR MASTERS found roller skating and hiking to be her favorite outside activities. While at school she participated in Pep Club (2,3) and Girl Reserves (2).

HARRIET MATSON, a social studies major who named senior English as her favorite subject, spent much of her time roller and ice skating although she also took part in Pep Club (2,3) and French Club (3).

MILDRED McGEE, a social studies major interested in homemaking, economics, roller skating, and sewing, plans to take a job after graduation.

Tall, deep-voiced JAMES MEHAN was active in A Cappella Choir (3,4), Student Council (4), Reserve Football (2,3), and Reserve Basketball (1,2).

A '41½ graduate, BERNICE MEINES' main interest, hobby, and subject was art. Because of her sweet disposition, her friends call her "Bunny."

Known chiefly for her quiet, retiring disposition, MARGIE METSCHKE, '42½, a social studies major, enjoyed bookkeeping, typing, and horseback and bicycle riding.

Her black hair, sparkling eyes, and continual smile made BESSIE MILLIGAN a well-liked girl in school.

With mathematics as his favorite subject, EARL MOELLER found that School Patrol (1,2,3,4), Intramural (2,3), and Boy Scout work filled most of his time.

Tooting a French horn in the Band (1,2,3,4) and small instrumental groups (2,3,4) kept WARREN MOFFET busy. Other activities of "Waddy" were Intramural (2), Swimming (4), Dramatic Club (4), and Hi-Y (3,4).

Dancing, 4-H Club work, Girl Reserves (3), and hiking filled the school days of DOROTHY MOLLER, a language major.

A versatile musician was REX MONAHAN, who played a baritone horn in Band (1,2,3,4), small instrumental groups (3), and Service Pep Band (2,3,4) and was a bass in the A Cappella Choir (4). "Nails" also participated in Tennis (3), Pep Club (4), Hi-Y (2,3,4), Student Council (2,3,4), and Press Association (4).

DONALD H. MOORE plans to attend business college after graduation. "Don," a member of The Rustler staff (3), was active in Hi-Y (3,4) and School Patrol (2,3).

A course in homemaking and Girl Reserves (2) occupied the time of EVELYN MORTENSEN when she was in school. Outside, piano and dancing were her main activities.

Looking forward to a pre-nursing course at the University of Omaha, WILDA MOSIER, a consistent "A" citizen, was secretary (4) of the Orchestra (2,3) and participated in Pep Club (2,3) and Girl Reserves (3,4).

Quiet, demure BETTY MOSLEY was an active member of Pep Club (3), Orchestra (1,2,3,4), Girl Reserves (2,3,4), and The Rustler staff (3).

Everybody's friend, JACK MUNDY was Home Room secretary (2,4), librarian (3), and Student Council sergeant-at-arms (4). He was also active in Reserve (3) and Varsity (4) Football, Reserve Basketball (3), Track (2), and Intramural (2,4).

A justice on the Supreme Court of Boys' State in 1941, ROBERT MURPHY was business manager of this book and advertising manager of The Rustler (4). "Bob," who plans to study medicine after graduation, was also active in Intramural (2,3), Pep Club (3), Hi-Y (3,4), Science Club (3), School Patrol (2,3), and Press Association (4).

Loyal to all school causes, ROBERT MURRAY had good ideas for the Student Council (3,4). "Bob," Dramatic Club (2) vice-president (3), was also active in Pep Club (2,4), Hi-Y (3,4), A Cappella Choir (2,3), Tennis (2,3,4), Reserve Football (3), F Club (4), Junior Orpheum (3), and Intramural (2).

A hard worker for her 4-H Club, ALICE "Al" NELSON was in French Club (4), Girl Reserves (2,3,4), and Dramatic Club (3).

A thoughtful and careful student, MARGARET NELSON was an all "A" citizen and a member of Girl Reserves (3,4). Because she wants to become a secretary, she was a hard worker in shorthand, typing, and office practice.

Commissary business at the second school party was rushing for Mrs. Mildred Lang and Miss Helen Marr, who sold hot dogs to Leo Jugler, Bob Dorsett, and Verne Daniel.

MOSIER	MOSLEY	MUNDY
MURPHY	MURRAY	NELSON
NELSON	NELSON	NIELSEN
NIELSEN	OLMSTED	OLSEN

Hoping to enroll as a student at Midland next fall, MARIE NELSON was an active member of A Cappella Choir (3,4) and Girl Reserves (2,3).

An ardent bowling fan and fine dancer, BEULAH NIELSEN, who plans to work after graduation, was a member of Pep Club (2) and A Cappella Choir (4).

One of Mr. Wayne Gardner's trade training pupils, ELMER NIELSEN, who enjoyed bookkeeping and was a social studies major, spent his afternoons working as a stock clerk at the Diers Motor Company.

Winning superior ratings in district and regional music contests with his superb cornet playing became a habit with Class President (2,3,4) ROBERT OLMSTED, first chair cornetist (4) in the State Music Clinic (3), Boys' State Representative (3), an editor-in-chief of The Rustler (4), and September Junior Rotarian (4). "Bumstead's" other activities included Band (1,2,3,4), Orchestra (1,2,3,4), small instrumental groups (1,2,3,4) Pep Club (2,3,4), Black and Gold staff (3,4), and Hi-Y (2,3) cabinet (4).

Transferring to Fremont from Hooper High School so that she might take chemistry, LAV-VERNA OLSEN'S activities were G. A. A. (1,2,3), Girls' Glee Club (1,2), Mixed Chorus (1,2), and French Club (4).

Girl Reserves (2,3) kept MARGARET ANN OLSON, a transfer from Columbus High School, pretty busy. She did, though, find time to do French Club (4) and Library (2) work.

Clean-cut, affable WENDELL "Wendy" PAR-SON, Black and Gold writer (4), was a hard- worker in the vocational agriculture department, for he served as F. F. A. treasurer (3) and presi- dent (4).

A boy who used to whiz through any mathematical problem given him was REINHART PAULSEN, who was in Intramural (4) and Hi-Y (4).

VERNICE PAULSEN, '42½, came to Fremont from Bancroft High School. She was a member of Girl Reserves (4) and named journalism as "tops" on her study list.

Another loyal member of the F. F. A. (3,4), DALE PAULSON was busy with 4-H Club activities when not working on his farm.

A good worker who hopes to secure a position in some defense plant, ROBERT PAYNE was es- pecially interested in United States history.

Majoring in social studies, of which sociology was her favorite, VIRGINIA PEDERSEN found time for A Cappella Choir (3,4) and Girl Reserves (3,4).

An energetic cheerleader (2,3,4), BETTY PE- TERS was in Pep Club (2,3,4), Girl Reserves (2,3,4), and on the Athletic Board (2). She en- joyed dancing and skating most out of school.

Coming to Fremont from Belen, New Mexico, MARILYN PETERSON majored in social stud- ies. Next fall she plans to attend Midland College.

MARJORIE PETERSON, an enthusiastic music student, was in Band (2,3,4), Orchestra (1), small instrumental groups (2,4), and A Cappella Choir (2,3).

Popular as an entertainer with his well-known ac- cordion, PETE PETERSON was a Hi-Y (3,4) and School Patrol (2,3,4) member.

Working on the trade training program at the Peterson Machine Shop, RICHARD PETER- SON was in Hi-Y (3,4) and School Patrol (2,3).

Musical is an adjective that really applies to ROBERT PETERSON; for he was in A Cap- pella Choir (2,4), Band (3,4), Pep Band (4), and vocal and instrumental small groups (3,4). "Bob's" other activities included Pep Club (2) Council (3), Hi-Y (3,4), and Junior Orpheum (3,4).

A Cappella Choir (3,4), Girl Reserves (3), and Pep Club (2) took about all of BETTY ANNE PFABE'S time. She was also one of the "high pressure" Commissary salesmen (4).

OLSON

PETERS

PARSON
PETERSON

PAULSEN
PETERSON

PAULSEN
PETERSON

PAULSON
PETERSON

PAYNE
PETERSON

PEDERSEN
PFABE

PLAMBECK

POLLOCK

PRUYN

REBBE

REED

REESON

REUTER

REYNOLDS

RHEA

RICE

RINDE

RITCHIE

To get a job which will help "Keep 'Em Flying" is the patriotic desire of DALE PLAMBECK, whose chief interest in school was the A Cappella Choir (4).

Known as "Shoestring" to his friends, ROBERT POLLOCK manifested an interest in sports by going out for Swimming (2,3,4) and Golf (1,2,3,4) in addition to working on the Black and Gold (3,4) and Rustler (3,4). "Bob" was also a Hi-Y (2,3,4) and Press Association (4) participant.

Called "Jo-Jo" in place of her childhood nickname, "Prune," good-natured JOAN PRUYN belonged to Girl Reserves (2,3,4) during her school career.

LOUIS REBBE, Hi-Y (4), seemed to find the great outdoors his natural environment; for he spent much time hunting, fishing, and gathering gun shells.

Girl Reserves (2,3,4) took part of MADELINE REED'S time, but her main interest was Orchestra (3,4). She also played in the Fremont Symphony Orchestra.

Another fishing and hunting enthusiast, red-headed DENIS "Denny" REESON liked to read books concerning aviation when not playing Intramural basketball (2).

Carrying one of the heaviest study schedules, WILLIAM REUTER was also active in Swimming (2,3,4), Reserve Football (1), F Club (1,4), Pep Club (2,3), Dramatic Club (3), Dramatics (4), Hi-Y (2,3,4), and School Patrol (1). "Bill" was also a Band (1,2,3) corporal (4), Home Room president (3), an Eagle Scout, and DeMolay master councilor.

Distinguished by her giggle, lovable SUSAN REYNOLDS, editor-in-chief of this book and Rustler (4) business manager (3), divided part of her time between journalism and music; for she was in A Cappella Choir (2,3,4) and small vocal groups (2,3,4). Fremont's 1941 Girls' State representative, "Susie" was also in Quill and Scroll (4), Pep Club (2,3), Student Council (4), and Dramatic Club (2,3). A continual "A" citizen and honor roll student, she was Girl Reserves (2,4) district president (3).

One of the most efficient girls in school, BETTY RHEA was a member (2), vice-president (3), and president (4) of Girl Reserves. A vivacious cheerleader (2,3,4) and a member of Pep Club (2,3,4), Betty had the Press Association (4), Black and Gold (3,4), and The Rustler (3,4) for her other activities.

Doing some of the hardest work in the journalism department, LEONARD RICE was an editor-in-chief of The Rustler (4), associate editor of the Black and Gold (3,4), and Press Association member (4). "Lynx" also participated in Reserve (2) and Varsity (3,4) Football, Swimming (3), Intramural (3,4), and F Club (3,4).

Because of her interest in music, RUTH RINDE, a valuable and faithful member of Girl Reserves (2,3,4), was in the Fremont Symphony Orchestra as well as in Orchestra (3,4) and small instrumental groups (4).

Witty and hard-working BETTY RITCHIE proved her value as a staff writer for both The Rustler (3,4) and Black and Gold (3,4). Besides being a Home Room officer (2) and librarian (3,4), Betty had four other major activities—Girl Reserves (2,3,4), Pep Club (2,3,4), Dramatic Club (2), and Press Association (4).

Because he spent so much time hunting, fishing, boxing, and working on his mother's farm, ARNOLD RIX found little time for extracurricular work.

One half of the Class of '42's second set of twins, JAMES ROBINSON belonged to the Dramatic Club (3), School Patrol (1,2,3,4), and Camera Club (2,3).

PAUL ROBINSON, the other half of the set, was also a member of the School Patrol (1,2,3,4) and Camera Club (2,3) besides playing Intramural basketball (2) and participating in Pep Club (3).

A fine musician, GEORGIA ANNE ROSE was a Band (2,3,4), Orchestra (1,2,3,4), and small instrumental groups (4) member who hopes to attend a conservatory of music. Her other activities were G. A. A. (1,2) and French Club (3).

Senior President Ernest Larson, Janice Blakeslee, Junior President Bob Olmsted, Jean Heidenreich, Mary Alice Caswood, and Miss Lenore Teal were leaders of the 41 Junior-Senior Prom grand march.

Best wishes for future success
Best of luck in the future
Paul Grob

RIX	ROBINSON	ROBINSON
ROSE	ROSEN	ROSENBACH
RUHRER	RUMP	RUMP
SCHNEBEL	SCHULTZ	SCHULTZ
SCHWABE	SCOTT	SHADA

A combination of Pep Club (2), Girl Reserves (3,4), and G. A. A. (2) work kept SHIRLEY ROSEN busy.

Although CARLYLE ROSENBACH played Reserve Football (3), Golf (2,3) was the sport uppermost in his mind. Hi-Y (2,3,4) and School Patrol (4) were his other two interests.

A dancing enthusiast was DOROTHY RUHRER, G. A. A. member (4). This summer Dorothy plans to leave Fremont for Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

PATRICIA "Patty" RUMP divided time not spent in studying among the Pep Club (2) Council (3), Girl Reserves (2,3,4), Science Club (3), Rustler (4), and the Black and Gold (4).

WILLIAM "Bill" RUMP, September Junior Rotarian (4) and Boys' State representative (3), was in Reserve (2) and Varsity (3,4) Basketball. A baritone in the A Cappella Choir (2,4) and a Hi-Y (3,4), Student Council (2), and Press Association (4) member, "Bill" spent many hours

Although he held Hi-Y (2,3,4) and F Club (4) memberships, WILLIAM SCHNEBEL felt that music and sports were his two major interests. "Bill," a Band (1,2,3,4), Orchestra (2,3,4), and small instrumental groups (1,2,3,4) member, played Varsity Football (4) and Reserve (3) and Varsity (4) Basketball.

Black-haired DONNA JEAN SCHULTZ, Dramatics (4), participated in the activities of the Pep Club (2) Council (3) and Girl Reserves (4).

Dramatics (4) in school and collecting snapshots out of school provided WEALTHY SCHULTZ her greatest pleasure.

When not at a Pep Club (2,3) or a Girl Reserves (3,4) meeting, JANE SCHWABE was singing with the A Cappella Choir (4) or preparing herself for secretarial work.

BESSIE SCOTT derived her greatest pleasure in school from personal typing. Her extracurricular time was divided between Pep Club (3) and Dramatic Club (4).

Besides being a "Rock of Gibraltar" on the Varsity Football (3) team, Co-Captain (4) CHARLES "Rissi" SHADA participated in Reserve Football (2), belonged to the F Club (4), and worked on The Rustler (4).

Marjorie Nelson, Dale Wiegert, Kathryn Legge, Mary Alice Cawood, Donna Lou Peterson, Ray Steen, and Dick McDonnell sign each other's 1941 All-American annuals.

LOIS SIERCKS, who liked to dance, was much intrigued by bookkeeping. She hopes to put her training in that subject into practical service after graduation.

Small but mighty LLOYD SINNETT, whose favorite sport was bowling, was an Intramural (3,4) and Hi-Y (4) participant.

Languages and science were the particular interests of MARIE SINNETT, a French Club (4) member who enjoyed collecting pictures.

MARVIN SORENSEN, a prodigious eater whose favorite subject was bookkeeping and who collected statues of animals as a hobby, was a Hi-Y (2) member.

An ace cameraman, ROBERT SORENSEN is represented in this book and the Warrior of Midland College by many excellent pictures. When not absorbed in his photography business, "Bob" was in Hi-Y (2,3,4), School Patrol (3,4), A Cappella Choir (4), Science Club (3), Camera Club (3), Press Association (4) and was on the Black and Gold (4) and Rustler (4) staffs.

All of RUTH SORMAN'S extra time was given to the Pep Club (2,3), Dramatic Club (3), and Girl Reserves (3,4). Typing and shorthand were Ruth's favorite subjects.

When he wasn't seeing Jane Byorth, JOHN SOUKUP, Pep Club (4) and F. F. A. (3,4), diverted his interests to music—Band (1,2,3,4) and A Cappella Choir (4).

Always willing to do hard work, Student Manager (2,3,4) HARLAN "Stats" SPOTTS was a Hi-Y (2,3,4) and F Club (3,4) member.

Loyal in his support of Hi-Y (2,3,4), RAYMOND "Ray" STEEN was connected with The Rustler (4), Black and Gold (4), Athletic Board (4), and Press Association (4).

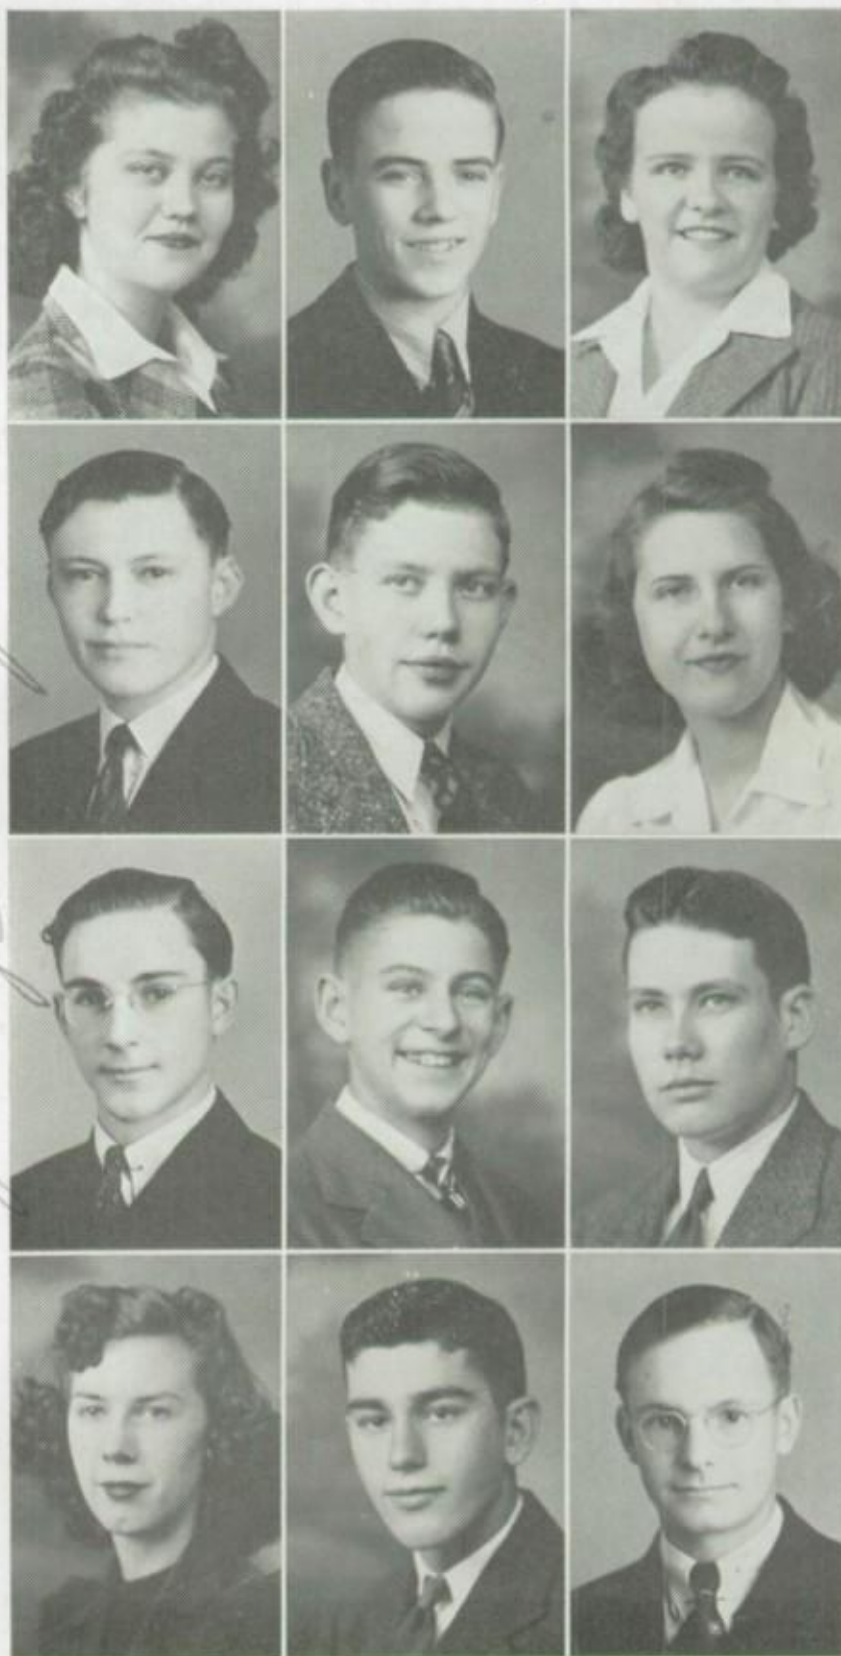

Active in G. A. A. (3) and Pep Club (2), LOIS STENNFELD was a dancing and roller skating devotee. She had her major in social studies.

"Shorty" in the true sense of the word, RALPH STOUT, a Home Room president (4) and Hi-Y (3) member, had a full sports schedule the year round; for he was in Reserve (3) and Varsity (4) Football, Reserve Basketball (3), Track (3,4), and Intramural (3,4).

Finding hunting and fishing more to his liking, LELAND SVECT'S only extracurricular activity was Hi-Y (2). He also enjoyed working on mechanical drawing in the Industrial Arts Building.

Good-natured MARY LEE TEGT, whose favorite subject was typing, was an ardent rooter for the Pep Club (2,3,4). She was also a Girl Reserves (3) hobby group chairman (4).

LORRAINE THOMSEN, who intends to become a nurse, came here as a junior from Scribner High School.

SIERCKS	SINNETT	SINNETT
SORENSEN	SORENSEN	SORMAN
SOUKUP	SPOTTS	STEEN
STENNFELD	STOUT	SVECT

TEGT THOMSEN THURM WALLS WALRAVEN WEDBERG WEIDNER
WEINBERG WELLS WESTPHAL WHALLEY WHITEMAN WIEGERT WILLIAMS REIS

Diminutive ELNA THURM, a veritable ball of fire who was one of Miss Ruth Harris' top librarians, was a member of Pep Club (2,3,4), Girl Reserves (3,4), Dramatic Club (3), and G. A. A. (1).

Coming to Fremont from Missouri Valley, Iowa, ROBERT WALLS, Home Room secretary (4), was in Varsity Football (4) and Hi-Y (4) before moving to Greenville, Mississippi, at the close of the first semester.

Sports took most of LENEL "Bud" WALRAVEN'S time; for he was a participant in Reserve (2,3) and Varsity (4) Football, Reserve Basketball (3), Intramural (2,4), and F Club (4).

Kept busy on the Black and Gold (4) and Rustler (4) staffs and in French Club (4), LLOYD WEDBERG blew off his extra steam in Intramural (3,4) and on his ever-popular harmonica.

Although G. A. A. (1,2,3) kept tiny ELSIE MAE WEIDNER busy, she found time to collect match book covers and roller skate when not tending to her school lessons.

One of the wittiest and peppiest boys in school, ROBERT WEINBERG was known throughout Nebraska for his snappy cheerleading (4) and Pep Band directing (2,3). Tops as a feature writer in journalism, "Bob" worked on the Black and Gold (4) and Rustler (4), and was in the Press Association (4). A Junior Rotarian (4) and co-master-of-ceremonies (3,4) for the Junior Orpheum (2), he was also in Pep Club (2,3,4), Hi-Y (3,4), F Club (4), Band (2,3,4), Intramural (2), and Golf (2,3,4).

CHARIS WELLS, a Rustler (3) editor-in-chief (4), was a top-notch journalist; for she was on the Black and Gold (3,4), Board of Publications (2), and in Quill and Scroll (4). "Charie," Home Room officer (2,4), displayed her versatility by serving as librarian (3) and secretary (3) of the Student Readers' Board (4), by belonging to Girl Reserves (2,3,4), Dramatic Club (2,3), Pep Club (2,3) Council (4), and Student Council (2).

As she derived a great deal of pleasure from singing, VICTORIA WESTPHAL, Girl Reserves member (4), thoroughly enjoyed her work in the A Cappella Choir (2,3,4).

A sportsman at heart, DONALD "Don" WHALLEY, Swimming (2,3) captain (4), had his name on the membership lists for Golf (2,3,4) and Intramural (2,4). Class vice-president (2), "Don" was also in the Junior Orpheum (3,4), A Cappella Choir (2,3,4), and small vocal groups (3,4).

An industrious sociology student, ROBERT WHITEMAN majored in languages and was a member of the French Club (4).

Sports—Football (4), Baseball (2), Reserve Basketball (3), and Intramural (4)—were not enough to occupy DALE WIEGERT'S time. "Wamp," a librarian (4) and Rustler worker (4), was also in Band (2,3,4), Orchestra (2,3,4), small instrumental groups (2,3), Pep Club (2,4), and Junior Orpheum (3).

Although English was her favorite subject, LAURA WILLIAMS, Girl Reserves (4), spent most of her school hours mastering a commercial course.

Although he was in Football (3), Track (3), Intramural (4), and Student Council (4), CHARLES "Charlie" REIS still found time to work many hours at the Industrial Arts Building.

SENIORS WHOSE PICTURES DO NOT APPEAR

1941½

GERALD MCCARTHY WILMA WIEGAND

1942

ROLAND CHUDOMELKA ROBERT TURNER
DARLENE LARSON ROBERT WEIHE
CLARENCE LOVELL CATHERINE WITTWER
CLARA PIPER LOIS WOLVERTON
WILBUR PRICE

1942½

WILLIAM SUDDETH EUGENE HAMMANG

Graphically showing that careful preparation must precede any finished performance, this shot does not necessarily portray the publications department; instead, it represents the hard labor put into every organization. For Betty Rhea, Girl Reserves president, and Bud Johnson, basketball star, shown working with Mr. Otto Crouch, The Rustler printer, exemplify the versatility of student workers in every field.

Preparation Through Participation

Fremont High School's extensive extra-curricular program is developed to fit the needs of every personality; consequently as each individual prepares for a finished performance in an activity, he accumulates invaluable experience and wisdom for the years ahead.

Verne Daniel, one of the leaders of the reform faction, explains the projected student government change to Mary Anderson, Jean Heidenreich, Chas Wells, Tootie Monovitz, Ray Steen, Gennie Kaarstad, Betty June Baldwin, Bill Colley, Dale Wiegert, Carolyn Motter, Ted Heskett, George Haslam, Nanette Sampter, Connie Lee, Jeanne Carlson, Ginger Reeder, and Charles Martin.

No Tyranny Here

By Betty Rhea, '42

To gain new theories and ideas for student government and new plans for Student Council projects, Jerry Jacupke, Lois Koopman, Charlotte Dorsett, Eileen Abbott, Jack Mundy, Gennie Kaarstad, Marilyn Douglas, Melvin Fowler, Calvin Christensen, Hal Spohn, and Verne Daniel study bulletins about Student Council groups of schools in all parts of the country.

Because no tyranny was ever shown by either the Student Council members or the sponsor, Principal Hamilton F. Mitten, the needs and desires of all Fremont High School students were met in a completely democratic way this year.

Such activities as the sponsoring of two school dances, the presentation of assembly programs, and an all-out participation in student government were among the projects which made this year a successful one.

In November there arose a heated political battle concerning a student government problem—that of the election of student representatives—on which leaders of both sides expressed their views before the student body.

The arguments put forth by the faction advocating the continuation of electing representatives from home rooms were opposed by the reform faction's arguments calling for representatives to be elected at general meetings of the three classes.

Those of the reform party felt that holding elections in home rooms made it possible for students neither interested nor capable to hold office as council members. Those in favor of retaining the present method declared that the election of representatives at general class meetings would result in a clique form of government.

Lots of luck, Virginia Phyllis

With the help of Principal Hamilton Mitten, their sponsor, Janice Blakeslee, Wanda Johnson, Susan Reynolds, Marcella Ball, Nancy Frank, Phyllis Johnston, Marjorie Hanson, Jackie Miller, Jackie Lamberty, and Helen McCarthy arrange an evening of entertainment that will satisfy every guest at the first all-school party in the City Auditorium.

Kathryn Legge, Student Council president for the first semester, tells Ginger Reeder, Donna Lou Peterson, Jimmy Hanson, Mary Alice Cawood, Jim Mehan, Bud Johnson, Rex Monahan, Dick McDonnell, and Charles Reis about the District Student Council convention she and Mary Alice attended in Wichita, Kansas, during October.

Students expressed confidence in their present system of self-government when they voted 330 to 203 to retain the home room system of nomination and election.

Although this political uprising caused the student body to be divided into two definite sides for awhile, it proved that democratic ideas were predominant in the thoughts and actions of all students since both the will of the majority and the rights of the minority were respected.

Students holding office during the controversy were Kathryn Legge, president; Bud Johnson, vice-president; Mary Alice Cawood, secretary; and Rex Monahan, sergeant-at-arms. Officers for the second semester were Bob Brueggemann, president; Kathryn Legge, vice-president; Eileen Abbott, secretary; and Jack Mundy, sergeant-at-arms.

The second semester members were challenged by the fact that they had to win the cooperation and support of the minority party. This they did by showing their fellow students that regardless of the means used to elect representatives, any student government is only what the student body chooses to make it.

Twenty-two individuals were elected from the home rooms each semester. Since home room discussions on various topics were led by the representatives and the summarized opinion taken back to the regular meetings held on Thursdays, the 1941-'42 Student Council demonstrated that it was of the students, by the students, and for the students.

Mind . . . Spirit . . . Body . . .

By Melvin Fowler, '42

Mr. Tom Coffman, Y. M. C. A. secretary, collects the luncheon fee from Jimmy Hanson, Jerry Dykeman, Jim Feild, Bob Pollock, Bob Olmsted, Kenneth H. Jensen, Dick Hepperly, and Bob Johnson as they enter the dining room.

Focusing its attention on an educational defense program, Fremont's Hi-Y Club, the largest in the state because of its eighty-five members, had a good basis for the set-up with its platform of clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living.

Hi-Y President Jim Cusick conducts an impressive initiation ceremony with the help of Mr. Wayne Gardner, George Haslam, Mr. Jess Hansen, Bill Rump, Louis Rebbe, and Bob Murphy.

The program for each weekly noon luncheon was planned to emphasize this educational angle. Throughout the year members heard several patriotic talks by local individuals. One that drew a great deal of interest from the Hi-Y audience was given by the manager of the local United States government sheet-metal school. Nick Neff, personnel director of the Nebraska Defense Corporation, told of the bomb-loading plant at Mead. While many other topics were discussed, all pertained in some way to the different phases of defense.

Outstanding among another type of program were films showing defense work being done by the Bell Telephone Company. In arranging for all these programs and talks, members of the local Hi-Y group demonstrated that they are preparing themselves for the future and for the defense of America by educating themselves now.

No defense program is ever complete unless there is one section of it devoted to the building of morale. The most important project inaugurated to maintain morale was the purchase of War Bonds. Each week a committee collected money for the club's War Bond fund. Approximately six weeks elapsed before enough money had been collected for the first bond. Three very ardent morale builders of a different nature were the excellent cooks who prepared the meals served at the meetings. Provision was made in the social program of the year to have several parties and banquets, also good for the spirit of any group of people.

Bob Johnson, Jim Feild, George Haslam, Kenneth H. Jensen, Jim Furstenau, Paul Anstine, Mr. Tom Coffman, Jim Paulin, Bill Rump, Jim Lonergan, Daton Camp, Bob Murphy, Virgil French, Paul Johnsen, Leland Svect, Bill Gunderson, Hal Spohn, Joe Carlson, Pete Peterson, Bob Pollock, Charles House, Bob Olmsted, Richard Peterson, Bud Jastram, Don Harvey, Bill Colley, Marvin Peterson, and Mr. Wayne Gardner wait for the business meeting to begin.

Listening to the Rev. Arthur Taylor are Jack Hannon, George Goodhard, Dick Arie, Bill Reuter, Louis Rebbe, Bob Murray, Ray Steen, Ralph Romans, Bob Hahn, Jim Lonergan, Hal Spohn, Jim Paulin, Bob Johnson, Jim Feild, and Calvin Christensen.

All these projects were under the guidance of four very capable men. The first was the faculty sponsor—Mr. Wayne Gardner, director of the high school trade training program. Assisting him were Mr. Tom Coffman, Y. M. C. A. secretary, and the Rev. Charles A. Myers, rector of the St. James Episcopal Church and the ministerial sponsor. The Purple Key representative on the advisory board was Mr. Gerald Meyers.

Always an asset when there is work to be done is a capable group of officers. The local club could boast just such a cabinet; for proof of their capability came when every member was reelected the second semester. The cabinet officers for this year were Jim Cusick, president; Kenneth Jensen, vice-president; Robert Dorsett, secretary; Dick Hepperly, treasurer; Don Harvey, program chairman; Bob Sorensen, banquet chairman; Bud Johnson, membership chairman; and Bob Olmsted, publicity chairman.

(Left, above) Devouring their food in a business-like way are Leo Jugler, Melvin Fowler, Bob Murphy, Jim Cusick, Lynn French, Kenneth Jensen, Harold Fowler, Charles Martin, Jimmy Hanson, and Charles House.

(Left, below) Alvin Hagedorn, Val Gene Clausen, Marvin Sorensen, Bill Gumb, Dick Kallenbach, Duane Kruse, Burnell Furstenau, Charles Smith, Dick Hepperly, Jerry Dykeman, and Dale Janowski seem thirsty as they begin their lunch.

The Reserves Serve

By Betty Ritchie, '42

This war won't be won by men alone. The American girls, like those in England, Russia, and China, must do their part to meet total war by the shortest possible route; and every means used to bring this about will be justifiable.

In February, two months after the bombing of Pearl Harbor, the Fremont Girl Reserves completed plans for assisting the United States' financial program by sponsoring a drive to stimulate the sale of War Stamps and Bonds. To carry out this major project, two Girl Reserves from each home room were chosen to sell these stamps and bonds one day each week. A goal of $750 was set, and a huge thermometer in the main hall showed the school's weekly gains. By the second week in May a total of $846 had been raised.

Pinch-hitting for workers who usually assist charitable purposes but who are now employed in defense work, Girl Reserves members sold poppies for the American Legion, bangles for the tuberculosis fund, tags for the Salvation Army, and collected dimes for the infantile paralysis fund.

For the first gathering of the year, the girls, following paper trails, journeyed out to the Fremont Boys' and Girls' Camp. After lunch was served around the campfire, a note was written to next year's members and placed in a wooden chest which will be opened on similar occasions each fall hereafter when another note from that year's club will be added.

On October 14 the formal program of the year commenced when 176 girls were initiated during a candlelight service. The membership exceeded any number ever attained since the local chapter, an outgrowth of the Y. W. C. A. Club, held its initial meeting in the fall of 1925. Another impressive service was the Easter service, which was held in the Mayflower chapel of the Congregational Church with the Rev. Arthur Taylor as guest speaker.

Although Miss May Burkholder and Miss Helen Wiles were the active sponsors of the Girls Reserves, they were assisted in many ways by Mrs. Glenn Wells, Mrs. F. E. Wood, Miss Daisy Spickard, and Mrs. Hamilton F. Mitten, all members of the local Y. W. C. A. Council. These women were selected by the Fremont Women's Club, the organization backing Girl Reserves.

To further girls' hobbies and to interest those girls who did not have a hobby, the club was divided into eight groups of the members' own choosing—fine arts, chorus, Service A, Service B, craft, charm, book review, and fancy work.

Ginger Reeder, Betty Rhea, Mary Richards, and Susan Reynolds, past and present officers of this district of Girl Reserves, meet with Miss Helen Wiles and Miss May Burkholder, club sponsors, to plan next year's conference, to be held in Columbus under the auspices of Kramer High School.

Carolyn Motter and Mary Richards collect money for defense stamps from Victoria Westphal, Darlene Bahle, Wanda Johnson, Donna Lou Peterson, Roberta Zorn, Corinne Hartsock, Marcella Ball, Pat Lucas, LaVonne Elmer, Jeanette Reeson, Phyllis Sorensen, Wilda Mosier, and Eileen Abbott.

Nanette Sampter and Mary Alice Cawood check on hobby group attendance with Alice Nelson, Eileen Abbott, Charis Wells, Doris Rinde, Betty Jean Launer, Genene Jensen, and Mary Lee Tegt, hobby group chairmen who directed activities.

Betty Rhea, president, reads a letter of appreciation from the Tuberculosis Association to Betty Allen, Kathy Legge, Betty Ritchie, Susan Reynolds, Tootie Monovitz, Mary Alice Cawood, Mary Richards, and Jane Schwabe, cabinet members.

Starting in January, each group, under the leadership of a Women's Club member, met monthly at a member's home. Ladies serving as leaders of groups in the order mentioned above were: Mrs. A. F. Follen, Mrs. David Kavich, Mrs. Lynn Sleister, Mrs. A. O. Fasser, Mrs. G. R. Wallick, Mrs. J. C. Baker, Mrs. Oscar Lyders, and Mrs. Edward Schnabel.

In order to attend the district Girl Reserves over-night conference, held November 21 and 22 at David City, twenty-five girls chartered a bus. At the meeting Ginger Reeder and Mary Richards were elected to serve as recorder and vice-president respectively on the cabinet for next year's conference.

Among the entertainments for the year were the traditional Girl Reserves-Hi-Y Christmas party on December 18, the heart sister party on February 10, and the mother and daughter tea on April 21.

Officers for the year were Betty Rhea, president; Ginger Reeder, vice-president; Kathryn Legge, secretary; Carolyn Motter, treasurer; Susan Reynolds, program chairman; Betty Ritchie, worship chairman; Ila Lee Monovitz, social chairman; Mary Alice Cawood, service chairman; Jane Schwabe, publicity chairman; Mary Richards, song leader; Betty Allen, pianist; Patty Rump, financial chairman; and Nanette Sampter, librarian. The club met in a group in the Senior High School auditorium during home room periods the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month while the cabinet convened on the other Tuesdays.

Ending the club's activities for the year was the May breakfast. During a candlelight service old officers retired and the newly elected cabinet for the ensuing year was installed.

This "To find and give the best," the Girl Reserves slogan, was exemplified throughout the year; for something new and better was constantly being attained.

Dear Virginia, I hope you had a lot of success in your Be seeing you. Sincerely, Genene Jensen

At a meeting of the book review hobby group Laura Ann Lyman reads selections chosen by Rosemary Reynolds, Charlotte Ann Lewis, Betty Bruce, Phyllis Sorensen, Genene Jensen, Adele Carstens, Mrs. Oscar Lyders, sponsor, and Virginia Franklin.

Safety for Numbers

By Robert Sorensen, '42

Safeguarding those 650 pedestrians who traveled back and forth, to and from Fremont High School for 180 days was the task of the School Patrol, which this spring completed its third year without an accident of any kind occurring while members were on duty.

The only two corners the boys patrolled this year were the intersections of Ninth and Main and Tenth and Main. After leaving the Senior High building at 11:56, when a special dismissal bell rang at the end of the fourth period, they remained on duty until 12:05 when all hurried home for a hot lunch. Returning at 12:55, they did patrol work until 1:05 when they reported to fifth period classes. Their final period of duty was from 3:29 to 3:35. Working at football and basketball games was also part of a patrolman's duty.

Besides receiving five-tenths of a credit a semester, each boy was also given complimentary tickets to the Empress Theater provided he had maintained a satisfactory attendance average prior to the time the tickets were distributed. This year the patrol was organized under the sponsorship of Mr. T. Harrison Elmore, industrial arts instructor. Bob Sorensen was named captain while James Robinson, first lieutenant, served as secretary. Two separate squads, commanded by Second Lieutenants Bob Winther and Paul Robinson, alternated on the two corners every week.

Four individuals—Charles Martin, Bob Stephenson, Virgil French, and Carlyle Rosenbach—served during the entire year. Joining the force at mid-year were Lewis Austin, Ed Heller, Don Smith, and Earl Moeller. Pete Peterson, Marvin Peterson, and Don Powers served the first semester.

Standing at the intersection of Ninth and Main and directing traffic is Lewis Austin, a second semester patrolman. First Lieutenant James Robinson takes down some notes relative to a traffic violation while his brother Paul, a second lieutenant, continues to patrol his beat.

Before going out on duty on a snappy fall day, Captain Bob Sorensen, closest to the door, gives orders to those under him. From left to right, Marvin Peterson, James Robinson, Virgil French, Charles Martin, and Robert Stephenson listen carefully to their assignments.

Farming For America

By Wendell Parson, '42

Another phase of work was with livestock. In this instance members judged a class of Belgian draft horses at the Charles Abbott farm. Wendell Parson, Albert Christofferson, Dale Paulson, and Louie Lundin hold the horses as Kenneth Markussen and Calvin Christensen take notes for oral reasons. Francis LeGrand and Tom Bucklin are the two onlookers.

One phase of F. F. A. work this year was the repairing of farm machinery so it would last longer now that there is a shortage of materials and labor. Here three boys—LeRoy Watson, Loren Giebler, and Norman Larsen—explain the mechanism and adjustment of a grass mower to a group of farmers at the Diers Motor Company.

It has been said that an army travels on its stomach. Because this is so and because this nation is engaged in war, the necessity of training more and better farmers becomes increasingly more important; for the men in the armed forces as well as all civilians must continue to be supplied with food. Contributing their part to the national effort, F. F. A. clubs throughout the nation study everyday farm problems and the principles of farm management.

The Fremont chapter, organized a year ago last fall, started with a capital of $7.50, all received from members in the form of dues. Today the chapter, through transactions and investments, has increased its assets to $105. The main source of income has been from the sale of over 160 hog troughs made with a mold which the chapter bought for $55.

Another source of income has been from the sale of 1200 pounds of livestock mineral feed composed of bonemeal, ground limestone, and salt. Not only have the members been building up the chapter's assets, but they have also invested a total of over $7,650 in farming.

As in other activities, contests are held to serve as an incentive for vocational agriculture students. Twelve boys from Fremont along with 300 other Nebraska students participated in a contest held December 10 at Columbus and sponsored by the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association. Twelfth and eighteenth places went to Wendell Parson and Kenneth Wild respectively.

On April 23, 24, and 25, a state contest sponsored by the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture at Lincoln was attended by six boys. The only Fremont returning home with an award was Bob Beck, who placed first in egg grading and candling.

Those who have been the presiding officers for the past year are: Wendell Parson, president; Norman Larsen, vice-president; Francis LeGrand, secretary; Calvin Christensen, treasurer; and Bob Beck, reporter.

They Press the Issue

By Robert Olmsted, '42

On the Monday following each publication date of The Rustler, Mr. William Hice, adviser to the staffs, pointed out the strong and weak points of the preceding issue, outlined plans for improving the next edition, and made suggestions for getting better make-ups and news coverage. Attending to these words of wisdom are Patty Jensen, Press Association president; Betty Rhea, columnist and Junior High news editor; Paul Keller; Jim Cusick, business manager; and George Ely, advertising manager.

In an effort to improve their news coverage and editing, staff members from time to time sought the suggestions and criticisms of professional newspapermen. Mr. Lester Walker, publisher of the Fremont Tribune and Fremont Morning Guide, grants an interview to Tink Herman, sports editor; Roy Farris, an editor-in-chief; Bob Weinberg, "Bi-Weekly" columnist; and Bob Dorsett, another editor-in-chief.

Although The Rustler office is essentially a place for work, as is demonstrated by Leo Jugler, business manager, and Ray Steen, it also affords a place for relaxation. Believing wholeheartedly that this is true, Bill Rump, sports editor; Betty June Baldwin, columnist; Betty Ritchie, feature editor; and Susan Reynolds, Black and Gold editor, take a minute off from their various duties to catch up on the latest gossip.

Every other week the advertising manager and his assistants had the job of soliciting and writing advertising. Bob Murphy submits a layout to Mr. Charles Marr for his approval. The "cokes" held by Melvin Fowler and Don Joe add additional pleasure to the transaction.

Once a month advertising collections had to be made by the collections manager and his staff of assistants. Bob Pollock writes a receipt for Mr. Grover Spangler, Fremont jeweler, while Bob Sorensen, staff photographer; Bob Olmsted, an editor-in-chief; and Everette Bogenreif keep an eye on the money.

Entering its twenty-third year of publication last September, The Rustler for the fourth consecutive year adhered to the policy of changing major staff members every six weeks so more students might have practical experience in bringing new ideas to the paper. One major change in make-up was to limit the number of editorials in every issue to two. Another innovation this year was the use of cuts within editorials.

In November, twenty-three staff members attended the Nebraska High School Press Association convention held in Lincoln where Mr. William Hice, staff adviser, was a guest speaker for the second year.

In December final approval was given for the formation of the Fremont High School Press Association, established for the purpose of improving Fremont High's two publications.

When opposition to the Student Council arose in January, The Rustler devoted one issue to presenting both sides of the question by having leaders of the opposing factions each write an editorial and by giving full coverage to the controversy in its news columns.

To round out a banner year, The Rustler retained its All-American rating for the fourth consecutive time.

Pat Lucas, Bud Johnson, Leonard Rice, and Charis Wells, four outstanding editors-in-chief, study the harmony, contrast, and balance of the front page make-up planned for a coming issue.

(Above) As they receive their assignments for work from Black and Gold Editor-in-Chief Susan Reynolds, Betty Rhea, Betty June Baldwin, Tink Herman, and Betty Ritchie, staff writers; Bud Johnson, associate editor; Roy Farris, sports editor; and Bill Rump, another writer, jot down notes which may be of help when they write annual copy for various stories.

(Below) Bob Murphy, business manager, outlines plans for a smooth, efficient sales campaign to Lloyd Wedberg, circulation manager; Bob Brueggemann, advertising assistant; George Ely, advertising manager; Eileen Abbott, business assistant; Ray Steen, collections manager; Donna Lou Peterson and Mary Alice Catwood, collections assistants; and Patty Rump, circulation assistant.

Mr. William Hice, staff adviser, explains the general idea and plan for the 1942 Black and Gold to Mary Richards, junior editor; Bob Dorsett and Wendell Parson, staff writers; Bob Olmsted, senior editor; Nancy Frank, sophomore editor; Charis Wells, organizations editor; Charles Martin, sophomore editor; and Bob Weinberg, feature editor.

Statistically Speaking

By Susan Reynolds, '42

The 1942 Black and Gold is the first Fremont High School annual

- To print 510 copies;
- To operate on an $1800 budget;
- To sell $600 worth of advertising;
- To offer picture ads for advertisers;
- To use four colors other than black;
- To contain 112 pages mirroring school life;
- To be the heir of an All-American book, the 1941 Black and Gold.

Valued for their hard work were Bob Sorensen, staff photographer, and Patty Jensen, Pat Lucas, Verne Daniel, Bob Murray, Ginger Reeder, Jim Paulin, and Leo Jugler.

It was necessary for Gennie Kaarstad, Jackie Lamberty, Elaine Doerneman, Hal Spohn, George Haslam, Jim Paulin, Lloyd Wedberg, and Jim Feild to hold several committee meetings with Miss Lenore Teal, French Club sponsor, before they could complete plans for their second semester party at the auditorium.

After the French movie "Mayerling" had been presented in the high school auditorium under the French Club's sponsorship, Dick McDonnell, Elaine Kluge, Herbert Davis, Ted Heskett, Lila Woods, Bill Colley, Mary Alice Cawood, Ed Lewis, Nancy Frank, and Louie Semrad discussed it in that foreign language.

Neither Vichy nor Vashy

By Lloyd Wedberg, '42

Now that France has fallen before the Nazi war-machine, its inhabitants have been floundering in a turmoil of confusion. Even in occupied southern France, those Frenchmen whose hearts are a part of the France they knew are not happy since over them is Nazi-dominated Pierre Laval. Although Walter Winchell in a broadcast during the year made a statement that France now has a Vichy-vashy government, one can be sure that French culture and language are not as dead as they may seem.

This year Fremont had a new club—the French Club, organized by Miss Lenore Teal, an indefatigable worker, to further her students' knowledge of French customs. Meetings were held weekly during class periods when phonograph records in French of such masterpieces as Gounod's "Faust" and Bizet's "Carmen" were played.

First semester presidents were Ed Lewis, Ginger Reeder, Bill Colley, Ted Heskett, and Hal Spohn. Lloyd Wedberg, Joyce Neumann, Nanette Sampter, Jim Paulin, and Louie Semrad served as vice-presidents while Donna Lou Peterson, Mary Alice Cawood, Nancy Frank, Jackie Lamberty, and Lila Woods were the five secretaries. Individuals elected as treasurers were Althea Yeoman, George Haslam, Jim Lonergan, Virginia Johnson, and Carol Yaryan.

As the classes merged into a closer organization called Le Cercle Francais, officers were chosen to head this central group. Hal Spohn was named president; Donna Lou Peterson, vice-president; Nanette Sampter, secretary; and George Haslam, treasurer.

At the opening of the second semester Bill Colley was reelected president of one class while Lloyd Wedberg, Jim Feild, Gennie Kaarstad, and Jim Paulin headed the others. The vice-presidents elected were Ted Heskett, Nancy Frank, Herbert Davis, Juanita Salazar, and Donna Lou Peterson. Secretary-treasurers were Hal Spohn, Lila Woods, Elaine Kluge, Jackie Lamberty, and Mary Alice Cawood.

The Sweetest Side of School

By Robert Murray, '42

If every nickel that has ever been spent in the Commissary were placed end to end in a line, a row of nickels a mile in length would be formed. Such is the record of that department which, since its inception four years ago, has come to be known as the sweetest side of school.

The management of all Commissary work this year was under the capable direction of Miss Helen Marr, assisted by Mrs. Mildred Lang. Both spent innumerable hours working so the department would continue to produce as much revenue as possible.

During the school week the Commissary was open daily at two different times—during the noon hour and for forty-five minutes following the home room period. Kept by a student salesman who sold the Commissary's "stock" of candy, nuts, cokes, and pastries, "shop" was at the east end of the first floor. The head student assistant to Miss Marr was Iona Knapp, who spent almost two hours daily performing her duties. During the few times when Iona was unable to be at her counter, Gertrude Garfield substituted for her.

Also included in the business hours of the Commissary were those evenings when a school event occurred. Many times when the din of a cheering section was at its height, hawkers' cries of "Ca-n-n-d-e-e, hot dogs!" were still clearly audible. The hawkers were all Commissary salesmen who were satisfying the crowd's appetite while athletes were satisfying the crowd's emotions. Most consistent in donating their services as aids during the year were Betty Pfabe, Charlotte Anne Nelson, Frances Springgate, and George Haslam.

Receiving the proceeds of the Commissary were eight high school organizations—Girl Reserves, F Club, Pep Club, Hi-Y, G. A. A., Sophomore Class, Junior Class, and Senior Class. Each group received a different percentage of the profits. The percentages were determined by each group's necessary expenses for conventions, parties, and other activities. Also maintained from the proceeds was a reserve fund, used to pay for the repairing or purchasing of equipment needed by the department.

Bill Reuter, Joe Carlson, John Soukup, and Jane Byorth give their nickels for cokes to George Haslam and Miss Helen Marr, Commissary director. Their contributions were but a fraction of the many dollars collected during the year, most of which is used to support school activities.

Faithful workers who spent most of their afternoons behind the Commissary table were Iona Knapp and Gertrude Garfield, selling candy to James Robinson, Margaret Olson, Evelyn Diedrichsen, and Delores Harms. Iona and Gertrude could also always be found working overtime at football and basketball games.

Gathered about the checking desk for a meeting of student librarians, Patty Jensen and Betty Ritchie carry on an animated conversation while Carol Feuerstein and Mary Alice Caswood listen. While waiting for Miss Ruth Harris, Elna Thurm, Paul Keller, Luanna Mahlin, Darlene Bahle, Adeline Brewer, and Robert Brueggemann chat about the problems and humorous incidents they experience every day while keeping order and checking out books.

Synonymous---Books, Morale, Victory

By Robert Dorsett, '42

Dear Mom:

Things are unusually dull here in camp after we've finished for the day. The nearest town is a little burg 20 miles away. There's nothing to do or see there after you do arrive. There are 40,000 intelligent fellows here, rapidly and eagerly training to become a hard-hitting fighting unit. We're told that we have the best-educated army in the world. I guess that's right. Why, all except three of my tentmates are high school graduates. Two are college men and the other fellow, Bill W., was working on his doctor's degree when he was drafted.

He and I have just returned from the post library. Bill found a book on Greek history, and I picked up a copy of "Disputed Passage." One of the boys has been getting commercial textbooks from the library and is brushing up on shorthand so he can get a transfer to another unit. Yes, that library comes in handy. I don't know what we would do without it.

The scope and activities of the Student Readers' Board are regulated by the amount of money students donate each Penny Day. Here Charles Martin, Richard Brueggemann, Miss Ruth Harris, and Marilyn Douglas count one Wednesday's collection.

Surrounded by an array of books, Charis Wells and Charles Smith inspect recent purchases while Joyce Neumann reads book reviews in the New York Times, a newspaper whose opinion the Board considers in arriving at decisions on new books.

The fellows . . .

* * * *

The soldier who wrote that letter was referring to a library filled with books collected in a nationwide Victory Book Campaign sponsored by the American Library Association, the American Red Cross, and the United Service Organizations. Fremont High School librarians and Student Readers' Board members cooperated with these organizations by conducting a book-gathering campaign which netted 500 volumes for military camp libraries. But the Victory Book Campaign was only one of their activities. Operating under the able supervision of Miss Ruth Harris, the Board in its second year collected approximately $160 on its Wednesday Penny Days and purchased over eighty books.

Selected by the Student Council, the personnel of the Board included Joyce Neumann, chairman; Richard Brueggeman, first semester secretary-treasurer; Charles Martin and Marilyn Douglas, publicity directors; and Charis Wells and Charles Smith, book reviewers. Three additional members—a senior, a junior, and a sophomore—elected at the beginning of the second semester were Robert Brueggemann, second semester secretary-treasurer; Hal Spohn, and Francis Rheinschild, book reviewers.

Carolyn Motter, Nanette Sampter, and Ginger Reeder look over Mary Alice Cawood's shoulder as she shows them a new book she has been fortunate enough to procure since many books have long waiting lists even before they arrive.

Eagerly scanning a shelf of newly arrived Student Readers' Board selections are Paul Keller, Nonda Herman, Donna Lou Peterson, and Bill Gunderson. Behind them can be seen a display of jackets of other volumes purchased by the Board.

In a survey taken during the first semester, Lyle Dirrim, deeply engrossed in reading "The Life of Daniel Boone," was found to have checked out more books than any other student.

James Robinson, Gene Wild, Donna Jean Schultz, Mary Battiato, Luanna Mahlin, Nonda Herman, Corinne Hartsock, Connie Lee, Jean Ann Koumovsky, Gennie Kaarstad, Arlene Maryott, Roberta Laursen, Helen Knoell, Warren Moffet, Evelyn Mortensen, Elna Thurm, Marilyn Peterson, Earl Pedersen, and Doris Dunker experiment with possible make-ups for the Junior Orpheum cast.

Change of Scenery

By Charis Wells, '42

Gazing into my crystal ball of past events, I see that the scene has changed. No longer is there a Dramatic Club in Fremont High. Bringing about the change was the apparent lack of interest on the part of last year's members. Now students interested in this field enroll for the dramatics class and receive a full credit as their reward.

As the haze in the glass lifts, I see spooks—"Jittering Spooks." The date is November 21, 1941. There is Marjorie Daily jittering in the leading role, but the performance she gives is definitely satisfying. Who is that blond sheik beside—no opposite—her? Ah, Sheldon Christensen, you too can act most effectively.

But out of the misty clouds comes a sinister figure—a bold, daring Devil Woman. It is she who forces the spooks to jitter. Yes, you, Ruby Gifford, a naturally sweet, pleasant sort of person, cast in the role of a murderess. Although your days were numbered, your performance was tops.

Oh, oh! Dust in the crystal can be seen. No, that's not right; it isn't in the crystal. It's "Dust in the Road," by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman. This, my crystal ball of past reports, was the play presented by the dramatic department on February 20 at Columbus in the District 2 declamatory-one act play contest. An excellent rating was given this play because of the strong support Albert Diederich, James Robinson, and Warren Moffet gave Halliefaye Coppock in her leading role. Bill Reuter, probably the "John Barrymore" of his class, also received an excellent rating in this contest for his reading "Humoresque."

Bill's dramatic career began last year when he gave an outstanding performance as Lew in "Sorority House." Besides carrying a major role in "Jittering Spooks" this year, he participated in radio productions, gave a reading for the Women's Club, and concluded his "career" on May 15 with a brilliant portrayal of Principal Bradley in Clifford Goldsmith's "What a Life." The crystal ball and I commend you, Bill, for your invaluable service to the 1941-'42 dramatic department.

The mist in the crystal now rises to allow a peek into the first semester class. Stepping into the foreground is a young lass, Marjorie Daily, heroine of "Jittering Spooks" who was active in radio work and gave a reading for the Women's Club in January.

In Midland's One Act Play and Poetry Festival on March 20, Christopher Morley's "Thursday Evening" was enacted by Lois

Sorensen, Warren Moffet, Roma Rohn, and Luanna Mahlin while Arlene Maryott and Nonda Herman represented Fremont in reading interpretative poetry.

Now pausing in the foreground of the crystal are Bernice Meines, Wealthy Schultz, Sheldon Christensen, Ruby Gifford, James Robinson, Connie Lee, Roma Rohn, Nonda Herman, Betty Bracket, Gene Wild, Calvin Christensen, Elna Thurm, and Marilyn Peterson—cast members of "What a Life" and participants in radio productions.

This year, as always, the crystal ball reports that the highlight of the dramatic year was the spring play. Portraying the life of Henry

Aldrich, this comedy centered around the catastrophes resulting from Henry's asking Barbara Pearson to the Spring Dance. Earl Pedersen was cast as Henry; Lois Sorensen, Barbara; Bill Reuter, Principal Bradley; Gene Wild, Mr. Nelson; and Halliefaye Coppock, Miss Shea. Because he so ably portrayed the part of a detective in the fall production, James Robinson again played the part of a sleuth in "What a Life."

With the last particles of the gray mist still about me, I, Charis Wells, step out as the mystic in the crystal ball to congratulate the members of the 1941-'42 dramatic department and Miss Clarabelle McDermant, their director, for an active and successful season. The scene has changed.

A mysterious shriek has drawn Marjorie Daily and Sheldon Christensen, leading players in "Jittering Spooks," to the scene of the crime.

In another scene from "Jittering Spooks," Ruby Gifford, Sheldon Christensen, Marjorie Daily, Bernice Meines, and Bill Reuter are "mummified" by the potency of a mysterious formula Detective James Robinson has found.

In "Thursday Evening," the play presented in Midland College's One Act Play and Poetry Festival, Lois Sorensen, Roma Rohn, and Luanna Mahlin prepare to teach Warren Moffet the art of dishwashing.

*Lots of good luck
and best wishes,
Evelyn Olsen*

Scaling the Heights

By Patricia Lucas, '42

Well worthy of the honor, the A Cappella Choir this year assumed the status of a daily subject offering full credit. This progressive move, coupled with Director Ronald M. Clark's outstanding directing and dynamic personality, produced one of the greatest Fremont High School choirs of all time and enabled it to secure for the third consecutive year a "superior" rating in the District 2 Music Contest, held here April 17 and 18 with almost 2,000 high school musicians participating.

Other entries receiving this top rating were the Madrigal Singers, a mixed octet, a girls' octet, and three soloists—Susan Reynolds, entered in girls' medium voice; Bob Dorsett, boys' medium voice; and Pat Lucas, girls' low voice. Kay Reynolds and Mary Anderson, both sopranos, received ratings of "excellent."

On December 4 and 5, Fremont played host to 400 high school musicians participating in the sixth annual music clinic of the Nebraska State Music Educators' Association. Representing Fremont High's vocal department in the 180-voice super choir of the clinic were Kay Reynolds, Mary Anderson, Bob Dorsett, Susan Reynolds, Verne Daniel, and Pat Lucas.

Five appearances during the Yuletide season were climaxed by the annual Christmas concert, presented December 21 at the City Auditorium. Selections for these concerts were made from a repertoire of fifteen carols, hymns, and chorales.

During the course of the school year, the eighty-voice choir sang on fourteen different occasions before an estimated total audience of 10,000. Besides singing with the Fremont Symphony Orchestra and at Baccalaureate Services, the A Cappella Choir

Lots of luck
Virginia and much success -

Gernelle Keener

LEFT TO RIGHT, FRONT ROW:
Westphal, Blakeslee, Lee, Sampter, Olesen, Johnson, Kaarstad, Carlson, Widman, Daily, Nelson, Frank, Ball, Reynolds, Mandrell, Ruppert, Johnson,
Sorensen; SECOND ROW: Reynolds, Allen, Clark, Betkie, Kelly, Bunney, Samuelson, Rump, Pier, Motter, Catwood, Pedersen, Richards, Byorth, Schwabe, Anderson, Keener, Lucas, Hickman; THIRD ROW: Douglas, Hartsock, Nielsen, Feuerstein, Miller, Gamsforth, Lonergan, Dykeman, Krcmrik, Jensen,
Rump, Matson, Schaeufele, Heidenreich, Legge, Rinde, Schorn, Rasmussen; FOURTH ROW: Pedersen, Sorensen, Han-non, Soukup, Gunderson, Camp, Whalley, Plambeck, Monahan,
Mehan, Colly, Meskett, House,
Ely, Daniel, Krasie, Peterson.

made appearances before the Junior and Senior High Schools, the local Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, and banquets sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Nebraska State Music Educators' Association. The choir's annual spring concert, held May 18 at the City Auditorium, was highlighted by Robinson's modern cantata, "Ballad for Americans."

Small vocal groups also played a prominent role in the music curriculum. In the various groups were Mary Richards, Kay Reynolds, Mary Anderson, Susan Reynolds, Doris Rinde, Carolyn Motter, Wanda Johnson, Jackie Miller, Jean Rump, Connie Lee, Pat Lucas, Collie Matson, Bob Dorsett, Earl Pedersen, Jim Lonergan, Bob Peterson, Verne Daniel, Daton Camp, Jerry Dykeman, and Don Whalley.

Betty Allen, assisted by Ruby Gifford, deserves recognition for her valuable aid as accompanist. Throughout the year Verne Daniel, Kathy Legge, and Don Whalley served as choir president, vice-president, and secretary respectively.

Dear Virginia,
Although I know
I hope to see you soon with love
Gernelle Keener

Mr. Ronald M. Clark and Betty Allen, accompanist, help Daton Camp, Jerry Dykeman, Verne Daniel, Don Whalley, Collie Matson, Bob Peterson, Jim Lonergan, and Bob Dorsett learn their boys' octet numbers.

For the fourth consecutive time, this year's eighty-piece Fremont High School Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Walter R. Olsen, rated Superior in the District 2 Music Contest.

During the fall, the Band marched between halves at football games executing numerous original formations, several of which featured the flag twirlers and "gun spinners." This marching band topped off its season by competing in a marching contest at the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock and Horse Show, where they gained second place. When Fremont was host to the Nebraska State Music Clinic on December 4, 5, and 6 for the first time in history, ten members of the Band participated.

An elimination contest was held in the high school auditorium to select thirteen instrumental soloists and groups who would represent Fremont in the District 2 Music Contest, which was held in Fremont, April 17 and 18. Those qualifying and gaining superior were Bob Olmsted, cornet; Jimmy Hanson, clarinet; Marjorie Peterson, bas-soon; Ginger Reeder, marimba; and Mary Lou Phelps, flute. Groups earning superior were the cornet quartet, consisting of Bob Olmsted, Bob Peterson, Byron Krasne, and Bob Olsen; and the brass sextet, composed of Bob Olmsted, Byron Krasne, Rex Monahan, Don Harvey, Louis Semrad, Jim Cusick, and Ginger Reeder. Members of the woodwind trio that gained a top rating were Bill Schnebel, Aaron Schmidt, and Charles House while Roy Farris, Ginger Reeder, Sidney Wells, Cleo Forsberg, Joe Carlson, who made up the drum ensemble, also rated superior.

The next important event was the National Regional Contest held in Omaha. There Fremont instrumentalists turned in their best performance to date. In addition to two highly superiors, there were seven superiors and one excellent rating. Highly superior was given to Mary Lou Phelps and the brass ensemble. Those winning superior places were Bob Olmsted, Jimmy Hanson, Ginger Reeder, Marjorie Peterson, the brass sextet, the woodwind trio, and the brass quintet. The drum ensemble was rated excellent.

First row: Marilyn Starb, Barbara Hanson, Marjorie Lang, Alice Jean Nielsen, Edythe Jastram, Mary Lou Phelps; second row: Byron Krasne, Donald Peterson, Louis Semrad, Jim Cusick, Ralph Conrad, Betty Bremner, Merle Champney, Pete Eggers, Bud Johnson; third row: Bob Hutchinson, Dick Arie, Bill Reuter, John Soukup, Julian Kronk, Aaron Schmidt, Genene Jensen, Tom Bracket, Rex Monahan, Marjorie Peterson, Herb Davis; fourth row: Johnny Haslam, Mary Ellen Kissell, Bob Bruce, Dale Wiegert, Kenny Headrick, Don Harvey.

Perfection In the Sections

By Virginia Reeder, '43

Elaine Henricksen, Keith Perry, Donald Byorth, Lynn French, Bob Dethlefsen, Dick Kallenbach, Jim Cusick, Joe Carlson, Ginger Reeder, Sid Wells, and Roy Farris gave body and base to the Band.

First row: Bob Johnson, Aaron Schmidt, Jim Hanson, Mildred Carlson, Marilyn Stark, Barbara Hanson, Marjorie Lang; second row: Charles House, Bob Weinberg, Duane Kruse, Paul Johnsen, Jim Feild, Alice Robinson, Doris Wilmer, Georgia Anne Rose, Don Peterson, Tom Bracket, Louis Semrad; third row: Bill Welsted, Duane Butterfield, Robert Winther, Wesley Stapleton, Betty Bruce, Byron Krasne, Bob Olmsted, Carol June Cross, Pete Eggers, Bob Peterson, Allan Krandsall, Bob Hutchinson, Dick Arie, Bill Reuter, John Soukup; fourth row: Lavon Maben, Dolores Moackler, Frank Taylor, Genene Jensen, Julian Kronk, and Herb Davis.

Superior--- No Strings Attached

By Joyce Neumann, '42

Some of the loveliest music in the Orchestra was produced by Joyce Neumann, Marjorie Johnston, Nadine Brown, Wilda Mosier, Darlene Larson, Rosemary Reynolds, Rosemary Motter, Marian Peterson, and Dorothy Jensen in the 'cello section.

Ruth Rinde, Phyllis Nichols, Don Ageton, Marjorie Johnston, Joyce Neumann; second row: Joe Ostrand, Donna Ogden, Gloria Pruyn, Jean Newman, Rosemary Reynolds, Rosemary Motter, Nadine Brown; third row: Marian Peterson, Wilda Mosier, Darlene Larson, Dorothy Jensen; fourth row: Anita Schnebel, Phyllis Adams, Janice Gaines, Elaine Henriksen, Helen Greenlee, Georgia Anne Rose, Lewis Austin, and Alice Marie Howard.

Beginning as a forty-five piece string group, the Fremont High School Orchestra ended the season as a complete symphonic organization under the excellent leadership of Mr. Walter R. Olsen. With Ralph Conrad as concert master, the Orchestra made numerous successful public appearances during the season of 1941-'42.

Leading the group as officers this year were Joyce Neumann, president; Bonnie Belle Barton, vice-president; Wilda Mosier, secretary; Lois Koopman, treasurer; and Bill Lyders, Marvin Peterson, and David McGath, librarians.

Members of the Orchestra which comprised the largest group ever to attend the State Music Clinic from Fremont were Ralph Conrad, Marjory Hanson, Ruth Rinde, Bonnie Barton, Phyllis Nichols, Jean Newman, Georgia Anne Rose, Helen Greenlee, Don Harvey, Marjorie Johnston, and Joyce Neumann.

Proving that the Orchestra's activities were not all work, two parties were held during the year. Last fall the Band, Orchestra, and A Cappella Choir joined in having a dance. For their spring activity the two former groups held a picnic at Wild Court Park.

Retaining the honor it won last year, the Orchestra again received a superior rating at the District 2 Music Contest. Members of the Orchestra who composed the string sextet, rated excellent in this year's contest, were Marjory Hanson, first violin; Bonnie Barton, second violin; Eugene Hammang, third violin; Phyllis Nichols, viola; Georgia Anne Rose, bass violin; and Joyce Neumann, cello.

First row: Ralph Conrad, Marjory Hanson, Bonnie Barton, Ruth Rinde, Phyllis Nichols, Don Ageton, Marjorie Johnston; second row: Jerome Hammang, Lois Koopman, Jewel Keller, Janice Potter, Marvin Peterson, Joe Ostrand, Carol Mosier, Gloria Pruyn, Donna Ogden, Jean Newman; third row: Madeline Reed, Mary Ann Nelson, Wilma Brunner, Mary Lou Schultz, Beth McGath; fourth row: Bill Lyders, Betty Mosley, David McGath, Priscilla Nuss, Helga Lenk, Edith Growcock, Anita Schnebel, Phyllis Adams, Janice Gaines, Elaine Henriksen, Helen Greenlee, Georgia Anne Rose.

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y—Victory," shout Melvin Hansen, Ginger Reeder, and Jim Lonergan, junior cheerleaders; Betty Rhea, Roy Farris, and Bob Weinberg, senior cheerleaders; and Marilyn Douglas, Gene Muir, and Charlotte Ann Lewis, sophomore cheerleaders.

Roots of Victory

By Betty June Baldwin, '42

The roots of victory in every school spring from an active, enthusiastic Pep Club, for it is only an organization of that kind that can create interest and generate added pep and enthusiasm—not only for all athletic contests but also for all other activities.

At the beginning of the 1941-'42 school year an entirely new plan for club membership was inaugurated. Two students, one boy and one girl, were chosen to represent each home room. Since the seven cheerleaders and those in the Pep Band were also members, the Pep Club's total membership was seventy-eight—forty-eight of whom were boys.

At the initial meeting votes were cast for the year's officers. After all ballots had been counted, it was found that Verne Daniel had been elected president; Joyce Neumann, vice-president; Gennie Kaarstad, secretary-treasurer; and Carolyn Motter and Charis Wells, assistants. Other members appointed to the council by the three officers and two sponsors of the club included Bill Colley, finance chairman; Bob Olmsted, constitution chairman; Mary Lee Tegt, courtesy chairman; Elna Thurm, costume chairman; Bob Weinberg, rally chairman; Betty June Baldwin, social chairman; Roy Farris, senior cheerleaders' representative; Ginger Reeder, junior cheerleaders' representative; and Charlotte Ann Lewis, sophomore cheerleaders' representative. Aiding materially in the activities of the club were the two efficient sponsors, Miss Frances Springer and Miss Bertha Soker.

To designate their membership in the club, members decided to wear black and gold slip-over sweaters. Besides creating interest and enthusiasm, the club also aided in the sale of candy and pop at every home game, planned pep rallies, and presented patriotic reviews between halves at games.

At a meeting held shortly after the basketball season had begun, the council elected Bob Weinberg to take the place of Roy Farris, who had won a berth on the varsity squad. Such action gave the seniors four cheerleaders during the year instead of the customary three. Representing the seniors both semesters were Betty Rhea and Betty Peters. Junior cheerleaders were Jim Lonergan, Ginger Reeder, and Melvin Hansen. To lead its yells, the Sophomore Class elected two girls and one boy—Marilyn Douglas, Charlotte Ann Lewis, and Gene Muir.

ALMA MATER

For her loyal sons and daughters Ever passing by,
Froudly stands our Alma Mater,
Dear old Fremont High.
Flag we love,
Black and Gold,
Float for e'er—
Old high school o'er thee.
May thy sons be true and loyal
To thy memory.

Bill Gumb, Bettie Beck, Gayle Gainsforth, Rosemary Reynolds, Doris Rinde, Nanette Sampter, Genene Jensen, Bob Hahn, and Ray Steen help Byron Krasne, Bob Olmsted, Johnny Soukup, Dick Arie, Bob Peterson, Lynn French, Bob Johnson, Jimmy Hanson, Jim Cusick, Aaron Schmidt, Pete Eggers, Georgia Anne Rose, Mary Lou Phelps, Mary Ellen Kissell, Rex Monahan, Don Harvey, Tom Bracket, Charles House, and Joe Carlson generate spirit in a Pep Rally.

Miss Bertha Soker, Verne Daniel, Joyce Neumann, Bob Olmsted, Charis Wells, Gennie Kaarstad, Elna Thurm, Betty June Baldwin, Mary Lee Tegt, Charlotte Ann Lewis, Bill Colley, and Ginger Reeder, cabinet members, plan the Pep Club party and dance.

Coming into the auditorium for a Wednesday afternoon meeting are Miss Frances Springer, Ann Anderson, Charlotte Ann Lewis, Marilyn Douglas, Floraine Pred, Kay Reynolds, Carmen Freeman, Jim Lonergan, Abe Krasne, Jim Paulin, Daton Camp, Helen Greenlee, Harold Fowler, Betty Peters, Charles Martin, Hal Spohn, Jim Feild, Ole Reis, Calvin Christensen, and Gayle Gainsforth.

Proving pictorially that careful thought, study, and work must be devoted to every sport—basketball, football, track, tennis, golf, and swimming—to make it beneficial, the camera has caught Coach Virgil Yelkin explaining basketball plays to Bud Johnson, Joe Chrisman, Tink Herman, Roy Farris, Warren Gollehon, Herb Davis, Bill Schnebel, Jack Anderson, Bill Rump, Verne Daniel, and Leo Jugler.

Preparation Through Competition

Competitive sports---intramural as well as interscholastic--enable Fremont students to develop their physiques and to become good losers as well as good winners. Both are assets which will enable them in later years to meet adequately the competition existing in all fields of endeavor.

"Not for A $1000"

By Roy Farris '42

Jerry Cornell, junior, cuts loose on an off-tackle slant for a gain of twelve yards until nailed by three Blair Bears.

Sometime in every normal boy's life comes the time when he wants to play football. He daily watches the varsity squad of Fremont High. If there is an exceptionally good player on the team, he idolizes him. He plays with the other boys in his neighborhood. Sometimes he comes home with a bleeding nose or a scratched face, but he knows it's all a part of the game.

In the summer of 1941 he decides that he is big enough and old enough to go out for football. So in the latter part of August he reads an announcement in the Fremont Tribune that gladdens his heart. Coach Virgil Yelkin has issued a call for all local talent to report.

One of the first responsibilities he undertakes is getting into shape. He practices running and fundamentals twice a day until school starts. His mother receives strict orders on what to prepare for meals. After practicing diligently for two weeks and surviving three squad cuts, he is ready for his first varsity football game. At first he is a little jittery, but after a couple of plays he really begins to enjoy the game. When it is his turn to carry the ball, he grits his teeth, digs in his cleats, and cuts loose like a ball of fire.

Members of this year's squad were, left to right: first row: Mundy, Jacupke, Bracket, Joe, Herman, Rice, Fox, Schnebel, Hepperly, McDonnell, Cornell, Heine; second row: Coach Yelkin, Manager Spotts, Fullington, Brass, Fowler, Thomassen, Kohlmeier, Chrisman, Wiegert, Lewis, Shada, Wennstedt, Mehan, Pfingston, Rump, Walraven, Assistant Coach Schnabel, and Manager Janowski.

Skirting around right end, Joe Chrisman stops an instant in order to give Jerry Fullington, behind a Schuyler player, and Glen Hindmarsh, 54, a chance to cut down a would-be tackle.

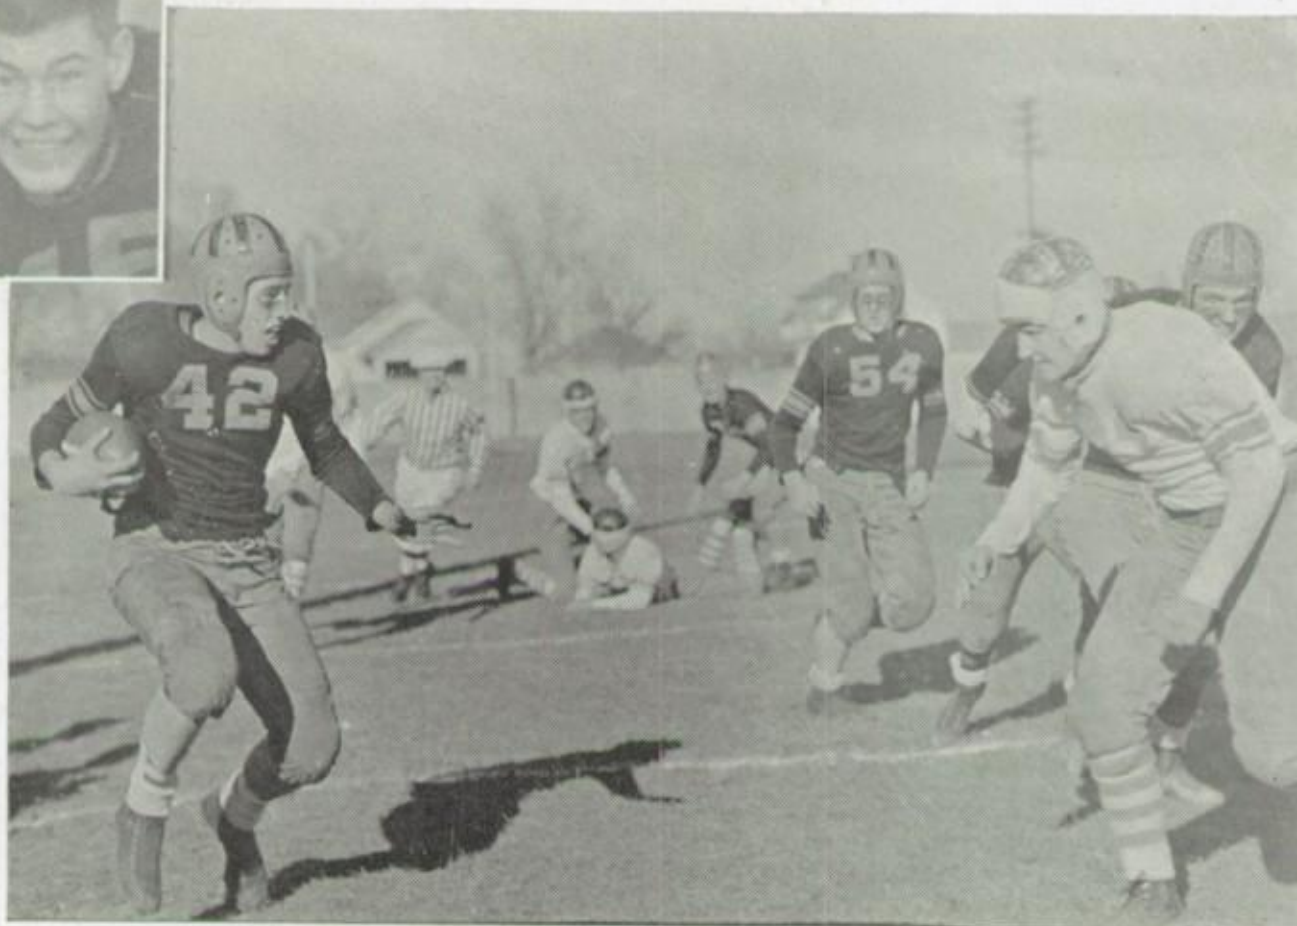

(Action picture at bottom of page) Don "Stubby" Joe, after breaking into the secondary, was finally downed by the tailback. The play was good for a first down.

STOUT

CORNELL

HEPPERLY

WALRAVEN

THOMASSEN

PFINGSTON

WENNSTEDT

Once in a while he misses a tackle or forgets a play, but he figures that is water under the bridge and tries to do better next time. Of course he hears about his mistakes from the coach during the half, but this makes him want to try all the harder. Win, lose, or draw, he has fun on the out-of-town trips. All of the team rest on their way to the game. He likes those steaks they get after a game and one of the biggest kicks of all is talking over different experiences encountered during the game—how so-and-so buried one of the opposing squads in the mud, or how three of them took out three-fourths of the opponent's line.

X
VIS

HEINE
JOE

KOHLMEIER
SHADA

JACUPKE
SCHNEBEL

LAMBERTY
HERMAN

MC DONNELL
CHRISMAN

FULLINGTON
HINDMARSH

BRACKET
RUMP

When the day of the last game rolls around, he recalls all the good times past. Even though he took some hard knocks and didn't get to play as often as he would have liked, he realizes that football has been everything he had hoped it would be. He has learned how to take it and give it; he has learned how to keep in good physical condition; he has learned how to get along with people. After the final game he digs out his old Rustlers and looks at the season's record:

19—West Point	6
0—Crete	6
7—Omaha Benson	27
14—Creighton Prep.....	21
14—Blair	0
0—Omaha North	6
25—Columbus	0
13—Schuyler	0
7—Norfolk	43
<hr/>	<hr/>
99	109

When Coach Yelkin presents him his football letter in assembly, he decides then and there that he wouldn't trade his high school football days for a thousand dollars.

In a pile-up like this, in which Fremont's Tigers attempted to plunge for a first down, everybody gets a good chance to bite, kick, and scratch.

Because of all the equipment worn by a football player, cooperation is essential even in preparing for a game. Here Glen Hindmarsh helps Dick Lamberty with his jersey before the Columbus game.

Not only are Fremont High students Tiger fans but grade school pupils also attend all Black and Gold athletic encounters and watch with interest the outcome of each.

Fate Drafts Success

By Leonard Rice, '42

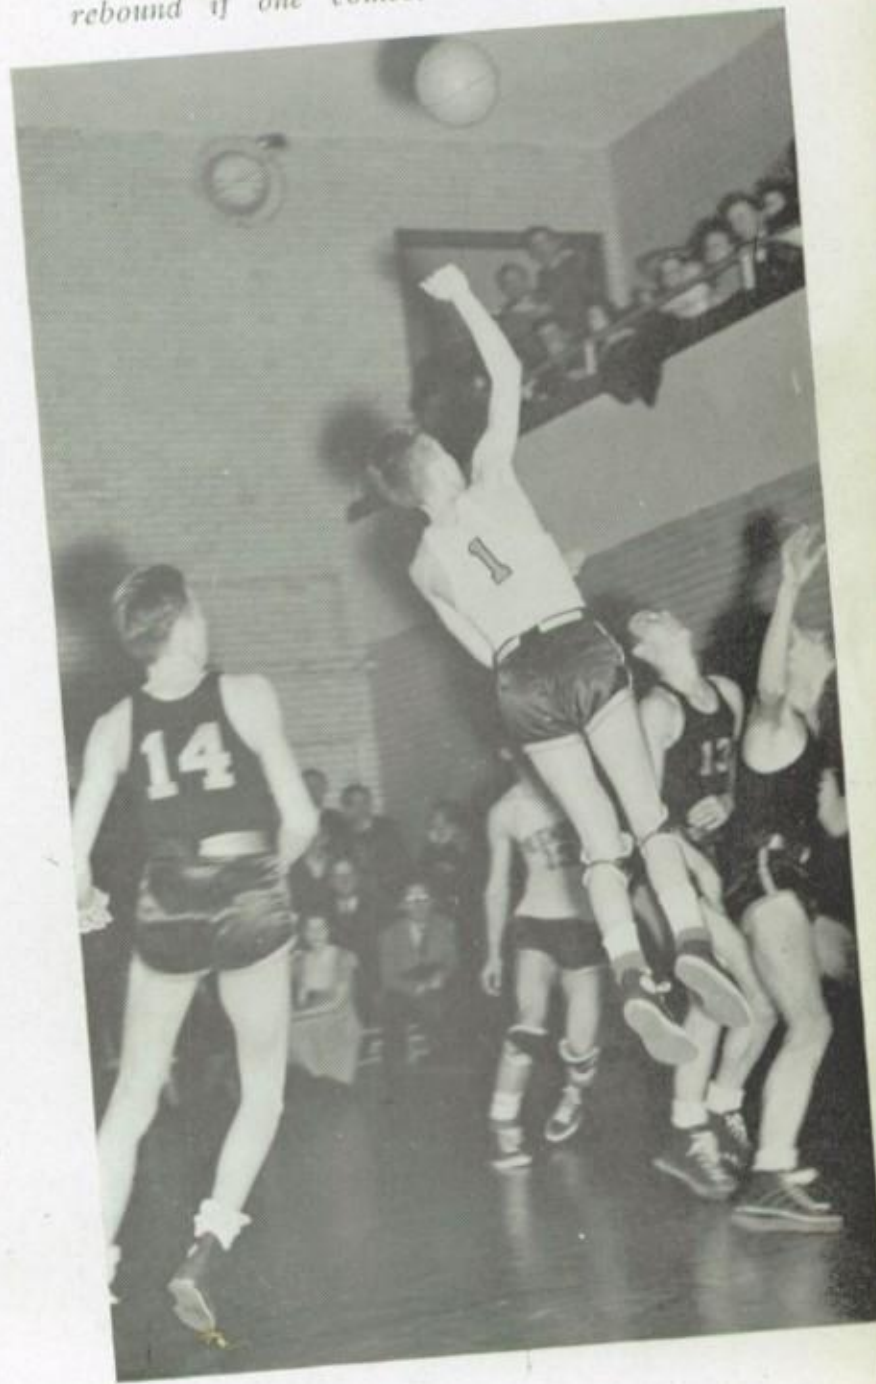

"Fate Drafts Success" is a most appropriate title for the story concerning this year's cage team, which, by winning nine out of seventeen games, ended the 1941-'42 season with a better than average percentage.

Fate first entered the Tiger camp when a stomach ailment forced Ham Manzel, first string forward, to the sidelines for the entire season. The second player to find himself behind the eight ball was Vic Wennstedt, first string center who missed three games because of a case of boils.

Then came the mumps. Bill Schnebel, senior substitute guard, was the first to come down with them. Joe Chrisman was the next victim. As his coolness held the team together when the going got tough, Joe, a letterman, was always a threat to his opponents. Next in line for this epidemic of swollen jaws was Bud Johnson, another veteran who was missed because of his outstanding ability to hit the hoop on outcourt shots.

Just as it seemed all would be well, another regular was hit. This time it was Warren Dribbling through to the middle of the free throw circle, Roy Farris, senior forward and top scorer of the 1941-'42 cage season, attempts to put a basket while Vic Wennstedt, junior center, watches for a rebound if one comes.

"Red" Gollehon, who missed action in two games since he was confined to his home with the flu. "Red," a first string member, was one of the scrappiest men at the pivot post for the Tiger aggregation. Another first string forward, Roy Farris, was lost to his teammates for one tilt. Cause—a heavy cold.

When all the Bengals were together again, it was almost time for the Class A district tournament at Columbus. The squad was in fair condition, but the fellows again felt the hand of Fate as Coach Virgil Yelkin received a call to report for active duty as a second lieutenant in the United States Army. Coach Yelkin was succeeded by Mr. Don Wilson, coach of Reserve Basketball, Reserve Football, and the tennis team.

In spite of their first-round setback at the district tournament, the Tiger basketmen turned in a creditable average for the season in addition to beating such teams as Omaha North, South Sioux City, and York. Many a professional sports writer also saw a moral victory for Fremont over Norfolk. Although the Panther five had a definite advantage in height, Fremont scored 37 points to Norfolk's 42 points.

There is probably no person who would say that nine victories out of seventeen encounters can be termed a poor season. During the 1941-'42 year the Tiger outfit defeated the teams of North Bend, West Point, Schuyler, Omaha North, York, South Sioux City, Blair, Valley, and Wahoo while losing to Creighton Prep, Lincoln Northeast, Norfolk, Omaha Benson, Crete, Beatrice, Columbus, and Hastings.

The 44 to 18 score the Tigers hung on Schuyler was the worst shellacking given to a team throughout the season while the Bengals' worst defeat came one evening when the Creighton Blue Jays banged out a 32 to 19 victory.

Four of the games played on this year's card were either won or lost during the last

With the fiery spirit which the Tigers displayed all season, Joe Chrisman, senior center, shoots a one-handed field goal against Hastings in the district tournament. Two of his teammates, Dick McDonnell and Vic Wennstedt, are ready for a rebound.

Fink Herman, senior guard and forward, takes a long shot during the Fremont-Hastings fray as Dick McDonnell, a junior who played an important part on this year's Tiger five, stands by to gain control of the ball.

WENNSTEDT

GOLLEHON

JOHNSON

HERMAN

MC DONNELL

THE RECORD FOR 1941-'42

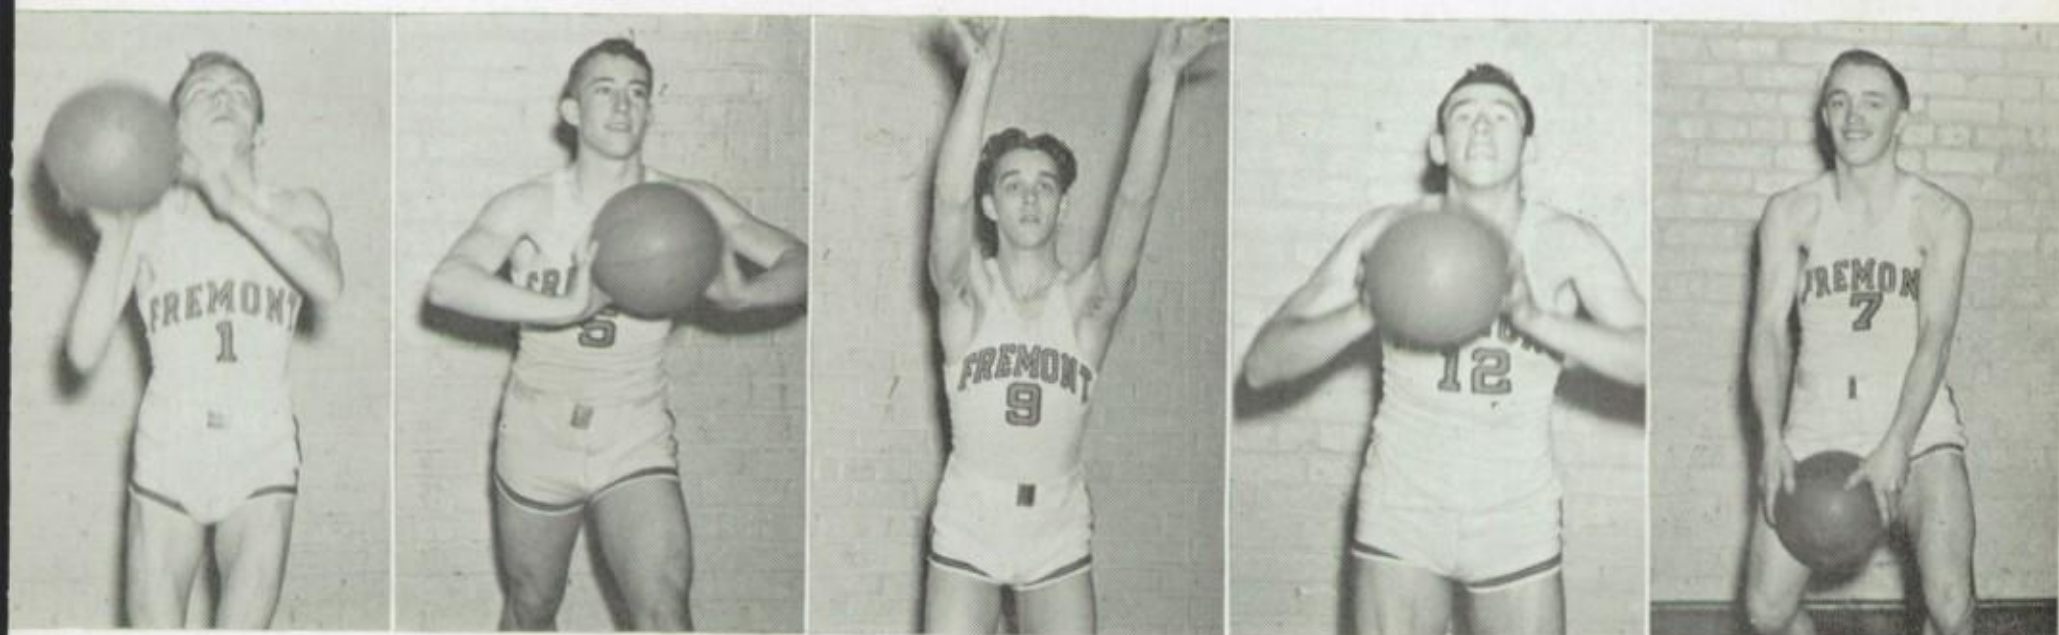

21—North Bend.....	15
24—West Point	17
37—Norfolk	42
21—Omaha North	20
11—Lincoln Northeast	13
44—Schuyler	18
31—South Sioux City	28
19—Creighton Prep....	32
28—York	27
32—Valley	27
27—Wahoo	20
19—Columbus	30
30—Blair	26
19—Omaha Benson....	32
31—Beatrice	42
27—Crete	33

District Tournament

29—Hastings	37
450	459

Bill Schnebel, Leo Jugler, and Herb Davis listen seriously to what Coach Don Wilson has to say before beginning a practice session. Harlan Spotts and Dale Janowski, student managers, can smile as they do because they are not on the spot.

FARRIS

ANDERSON

DANIEL

CHRISMAN

RUMP

thirty seconds of play. By downing Omaha North, York, and South Sioux City, Fremont managed to win three of the four. Only Lincoln Northeast was able to pull a crucial game from the fire.

Returning prospects for next season's hoopsters are Jack Anderson, who broke into the first string line-up late in the season because of his consistent playing; Vic Wennstedt, player of two positions—one at forward and the other at the pivot post; and Herb Davis, lanky substitute center on this year's outfit.

Graduating from the ranks of Black and Gold colors are Tink Herman, Bud Johnson, Roy Farris, Joe Chrisman, Verne Daniel, Warren Gollehon, Bill Rump, Ham Manzel, Bill Schnebel, and Leo Jugler.

Because he has moved to New Castle, Indiana, with his parents, Dick McDonnell, scrappy performer at the guard spot, will be missed from the 1942-'43 squad.

At the conclusion of the basketball season two seniors, Joe Chrisman and Bud Johnson, were elected by their teammates as honorary co-captains for the 1941-'42 season.

Top scorer during the current season was Roy Farris, who collected 105 points. Second and third places went to Joe Chrisman and Bud Johnson, who gathered 84 and 69 points respectively.

Dear Virginia:
 Hopefulness & wishfulness are two of your main worries!
 Ronald McCarty
 "Hope of '43"

Roland McCarty may not be a second Cornelius Warmerdam at the present, but it is Roland's kind of determination, practice, and spirit that makes good athletes and produces outstanding men on the Tiger track team.

Dash It All

By William Rump '42

When Coach Edward Schnabel lost several of his top 1941 trackmen because of graduation and transfers to other schools, the responsibility for a successful team lay heavily on eight returning lettermen—Jack Anderson, George Boosalis, Jerry Cornell, Jerry Dykeman, Don Joe, Dick Lamberty, Ed Lewis, and Victor Wennstedt.

By putting forth as much energy and determination in practice sessions as in actual meets, Don Joe, a letterman, became a top notch short distance runner.

It took Joe Chrisman, versatile Tiger letterman, many hours of practice to perfect the art of throwing the javelin; but practice paid since Joe placed second in the state meet.

Although Jerry Fullington was a new member on this year's track squad when it came to heaving the discus, he always put everything he had into his tosses.

Those on this year's track squad were, left to right: first row: Stout, Wilkins, Manager Janowski, Coach Schnabel, Joe, McCarty, Jensen; second row: Emmons, Tanke, Hepperly, Semrad, Johnson, Johnsen, Kennec, Sinnett; third row: Stout, Anderson, Feild, Dykeman, Hannon, Fowler, Jensen, Martin, French; fourth row: Wiegert, Lewis, Christman, Wennstedt, Quay, Fullington, Smutz, Layman, Spohn.

*Dear Fingineer
Lots of luck
to you in your senior year and I'll see you next year.
Vic '33"*

In spite of the fact that the team was considerably weakened, the Tiger cinder men copped the number two spot at the Columbus Invitational, the first meet in which they participated. The Fremonters then journeyed to the Thomas Jefferson Relays where they lost their last year's title by placing sixth. Competing against twelve other schools at the Norfolk Invitational, the Tigers, paced by Ed Lewis, copped the number three berth.

Determined to make up for early setbacks, the Tigers took their own invitational meet by winning eleven out of fourteen events. With the Interstate League championship at stake, the Bengals just missed retaining their title for the second consecutive year when they placed second. Ed Lewis won both the broad jump and the 440-yard dash to pace the Bengals once again. At the state meet Fremont earned four points when Joe Chrisman placed second and broke the local javelin record. Ed Lewis also set a new local record when he placed fourth in the 440-yard dash.

By the end of the season, the Tigers were a strong unit which had won the local invitational meet, placed in five others, and dropped a telegraphic meet with Dover, New Jersey, by only two points.

With the same determination that can be seen on his face, Vic Wennstedt won many hurdle races for the Tigers.

Roy Farris, Bill Schnebel, Ralph Stout, Kenneth Jensen, Bob Murray, Paul Larson, Reinhart Paulsen, Paul Anstine, and Ray Johnson turn their eyes to Bud Johnson as he demonstrates the ideal form to use when serving.

They Love These Games

By Verne Daniel, '42

Despite Donald Nelson's curtailment of materials vital to netmen and linksters, namely golf and tennis balls, rubber tires, cars, etc., Fremont's representatives in these two sports continued to arrange meets. Responsible for grooming golf and tennis hopefuls were Coaches Walden Johansen and Don C. Wilson respectively.

Eight matches were on the docket for the tennis team. To inaugurate the season, the Tigers encountered Creighton Prep on the Dewey Courts in Omaha, but dropped the match, 2 to 1. Although the netmen next won eight and lost but nine games, they were defeated in four out of five matches with Creighton Prep, Omaha Benson, and Lincoln Central. The team's lone victory was at the expense of Benson, 3 to 0.

Representing Fremont at the state tournament held in Lincoln on May 14 were Bud Johnson, Kenneth Jensen, and Bob Murray. To close the year, the netmen met Lincoln Central in a return engagement and entered the Interstate League tournament.

Not quite so fortunate in arranging contests with out-of-town schools, the golf team played only three matches, one of which they lost to Lincoln Central to the tune of 11 to 1. The other two matches were played with Columbus during the third week in May. Practice games were also played with the linksmen of Midland College and Junior High School.

Journeying to Lincoln on May 15 for the state high school golf tournament were the same players who comprised the 1941 aggregation—Bob Pollock, Verne Daniel, Larry Shanahan, and Jim Lonergan. The climax of the season came when the Interstate golf tournament was played in Omaha on the Dodge Park course.

With a smooth stroke Jim Lonergan exhibits excellent form as he drops his putt in the final hole. Don Whatley, Larry Shanahan, Verne Daniel, and Bob Pollock look on while George Brozen and Tink Herman wait their turns. Not shown are Coach Walden Johansen and Bob Weinberg, who were out looking for lost balls.

Pooling Their Resources

By Dale Herman, '42

In some schools it might be considered a reflection on the coach's or players' ability not to gain a victory or a tie for two seasons.

Fremont High School has a swimming team which, since its organization two years ago, has neither won nor tied a single meet. Those who followed the swimmers, however, never once lost faith in the coach's or participants' ability nor did those who participated ever give up.

Although the mermen, tutored by Mr. Kenneth de Freese of the Y. M. C. A. staff, met some of the best trained teams in the state, they were never found to be a pushover. Probably the reason why this was so can be attributed to Fremont's record-breaking trio—Kenneth H. Jensen, holder of the city record for the 100-yard breast stroke; Bob Piercy, holder of two records, the 100-yard and the 156-yard crawl stroke; and Bob Pollock, 100-yard back stroke record holder. These boys were also the main point getters for the tankmen since Piercy collected a total of 17 points; Pollock, 16 points; and Jensen, 14 points.

Four meets, two each with Omaha Technical and Lincoln Central, comprised the season's schedule. The capital city crew won both of its matches, 30 to 27 and 36 to 32, while the Omaha boys also won their encounters by scores of 32 to 25 and 36 to 30. Lack of facilities hampered the Tigers in all their meets since none of the swimmers were able to practice diving. Completing the schedule in March was the state meet at Lincoln in which the Tigers placed third.

In a close race for the honorary captaincy, Don Whalley emerged the victor over Ed Lewis after a second ballot.

Abe Krasne, Bill Reuter, Joe Carlson, Don Whalley, Bob Pollock, and Ed Lewis criticize each other in order to improve their swimming for coming meets.

Relaxing before they practice new strokes are Wilmer Westphal, Dick Hepperly, Warren Moffet, Bob Piercy, Kenneth Tanke, Stan Scott, and Kenneth H. Jensen.

Keeping the Home Fires Burning

By Leo V. Jugler, '42

In one way the American people at home, who keep the home fires burning while their soldiers are in foreign lands, may be compared to those participants in this year's Intramural program, who kept the home fires burning while the Fremont High varsity teams were playing representatives of other schools.

Although the Fremont High Intramuralists could often be seen in the cheering section for all varsity games during the year, they could be found at other times playing their hearts out in Intramural sports so they might improve enough to win a berth on a varsity squad next year.

After issuing his first call for boys interested in fall sports, Mr. L. Hartley Dunlap, Intramural sponsor, received only two responses. Following his second call, eighteen boys reported. The lack of facilities, however, caused Mr. Dunlap to discontinue the fall activities after a month had elapsed.

With the coming of basketball season, Mr. Dunlap again made a call for boys interested in basketball. This time there were thirty-three who responded. The season began with six teams participating: the All Stars, captained by Jack Mundy; the Wildcats, captained by Don Joe; the Yanks, captained by Bud Walraven; the Sheiks, captained by Lloyd Wedberg; the Huskers, captained by Ralph Stout; and the Dodgers, captained by Bob Walls.

Leading the Huskers in the game deciding the Intramural basketball championship were Captain Ralph Stout and Gerald Fullington, each of whom scored a total of 14 points as the Wildcats were defeated by the score of 35 to 19. Although the top scorer for the season was never announced, Ralph Stout, Gerald Fullington, and Lloyd Wedberg were far in the lead.

At the beginning of the second semester, Mr. Dunlap, himself an active bowler, introduced the sport of bowling to over fifty boys and girls. Co-sponsor of the new sport was Miss Jean Westcott, girls' physical education instructor.

The bowling season was divided into two rounds of play, and the local bowling alleys were reserved on Monday afternoons from 3:45 to 5:00 for use of those forming the high school league. Members of the team winning the championship of the first half were Robert Bubbett, captain, Shirley Babendure, Robert Stephenson, Carol Lynn Eskilsen, and Dale Allen. Top bowler for the champions was Dale Allen, who finished with a 126 average for the season. No winner of the second round had been determined at the time this story was written because the finals remained to be played.

After a hard Intramural basketball game, Don Ageton, Don Joe, Frank Wilkins, Hal Spohn, Jack Hannon, Robert Johnson, Duane Kruse, James Otteson, and Larry Shanahan discuss one another's playing as they prepare to take a shower.

Waiting for their turn on the Intramural court, Charles Reis, Ralph Stout, John Kohlmeier, Bud Walraven, Charles Shada, Jim Lonergan, Keith Perry, Jack Emmons, Bob Hahn, and Lloyd McDuffee get a bang out of the game in progress.

For the first half of play, the highest single score for the boys was 214, held by Harold Walters. Highest series was won by Dale Allen with 513. Taking the boys' high average was Lloyd Sinnett, whose average for 36 games was 144. Runner-up to Lloyd for that honor was Robert Murphy, who averaged 139.

The girls' top single score went to Jerry Connett, who bowled 156. With a 386 Jerry also had the high series. The top consistent bowler for the girls was Marilyn Douglas. Second and third places for that honor were held by Betty Bracket and Jerry Connett.

After Mr. Dunlap left Fremont to join the United States Army, Mr. Preston Shaffer, student substitute from Midland College, became the sponsor of Intramural basketball while Mr. Richard West, Junior High mathematics instructor and assistant Junior High coach, became bowling sponsor.

Bill Wood and Stan Callaway are spectators while Mr. Preston Shaffer, substitute science instructor, and John Scoville serve as timekeeper and scorekeeper. Others warming the bench are Tommy Allen, Reinhart Paulsen, Gerald Fullington, Leonard Bishop, Robert Fakh, and Jerry Miller.

(Above) Ready to begin the first frame of the evening's matches, Carolyn Motter and Charis Wells select their balls while Phyllis Johnston, Ronald McDonald, Robert Johnson, Dick Hepperly, and Mr. Richard West, sponsor, check the line-ups. Leo Richter, Everette Charleston, Ole Reis, Harlan Spotts, Calvin Walraven, Duane Kruse, and Tom Bracket stand in the background.

(Below) Robert Stephenson, Jim Paulin, Kenneth Nelson, Jack Mundy, and Betty Bracket start bowling as members of their respective teams form a gallery which will cheer when strikes are made and groan when spares are missed and splits occur.

Bill Schnebel, Ed Lewis, Ray Steen, Bill Reuter, Arlie Atwood, Jerry Cornell, Jack Anderson, and Dick Lamberty hear Dick McDonnell's farewell speech at the F Club dinner given for him before he moved to New Castle, Indiana.

The Mark Is F

By John Byron Johnson, '42

By holding an F Club initiation in which twenty-one fellows were soundly paddled on the evening of February 11, thirteen old members headed by Dick Lamberty, president, more than doubled the number of active members.

Plans for this initiation were made on January 28 when a meeting was held at the home of the president. Another item of business transacted was the election of Jerry Cornell as vice-president to succeed Comer Heine, who moved to Los Angeles, California, in December. In attendance as the group's new sponsor was Mr. Edward Schnabel, head track coach who was named to succeed Mr. Virgil Yelkin, head football and basketball coach.

Not only did Dick Lamberty lead the F Club as president, but he also led its members in another respect—that of earning the most letters. By participating in football for three years and in track for four years, Dick earned a total of seven awards. Others holding over three F's were Don Joe and Ed Lewis, each with five, and Vic Wennstedt, Joe Chrisman, and Bud Johnson, all of whom lettered four times.

Mr. Edward Schnabel, sponsor, Hamilton Manzel, Don Joe, Bill Schnebel, Jerry Jacupke, Dick Lamberty, Charles Shada, Leonard Rice, Jerry Dykeman, Bob Weinberg, George Boosalis, John Kohlmeier, Jack Anderson, Ralph Stout, Dick Hepperly, Gerald Fullington, Ray Steen, Ed Lewis, Jerry Cornell, Dale Wiegert, Joe Chrisman, Bill Rump, Harlan Spotts, Roy Farris, Kenneth Jensen, Don Whalley, Bud Walraven, Bud Johnson, Tink Herman, and Bob Pollock helped make the F Club successful this year.

Those who constituted Mr. Don Wilson's Reserve dream aggregation were: left to right, front row: Furstenau, Hillyer, Zakovec, Johnson, McGath, Sawtell, Nelson, Brown, Stout; second row: Manager Fowler, Carroll, Piercy, Woslager, Carlson, Schiller, Dykeman, Wilkins, Diederich, Semrad; third row: Spohn, Headrick, Runnels, Feild, Hansen, Higgins, Walters, Bader, Boosalis, Arvanetis, Coach Wilson.

Potentiality

By Gerald Jacupke, '42

If the past has anything to do with the future, the Varsity Football squad of 1942 should be a wow; for in not losing a single game and in being scored upon only twice, the 1941 Tiger nubbins could easily be called the Mighty Midgets of Fremont.

During the season they ran up a total of 86 points to their opponents' 13. The Reserve pigskin record reads as follows: Fremont 7, Wahoo 0; Fremont 6, Tekamah 0; Fremont 7, Blair 0; Fremont 27, Tekamah 7; Fremont 13, Wahoo 0; Fremont 26, Valley 6.

Since they managed to win only three games out of a total of thirteen, the Reserve basketballers were not nearly as successful as the gridmen. The Reserve cage record is as follows: Fremont 9, Dodge 16; Fremont 19, West Point 24; Fremont 15, Omaha North 24; Fremont 22, Lincoln Northeast 26; Fremont 25, Yutan 29; Fremont 23, Hooper 25; Fremont 31, Fort Calhoun 23; Fremont 24, Octavia 28; Fremont 21, Leigh 29; Fremont 46, Wahoo 20; Fremont 13, Omaha Benson 26; Fremont 15, Columbus 20; Fremont 47, Blair 13.

During a practice session Coach Don Wilson explains a new play to the Reserve cagers. Squad members, from left to right, are: Student Manager Fowler, Semrad, Schiller, Feild, Higgins, French, Zakovec, Sinner, Hooper.

Girls Active In Athletics

By Darlene Bahle, '43

Through participation in athletics and activities of all kinds, this year's Girls' Athletic Association members, under the guidance of Miss Jean Westcott, acquired finer characters by maintaining at all times the highest standards of sportsmanship.

Helping Miss Westcott to plan the club's work for 1941-'42 were Marjorie Launer, president; Betty Jane Johnson, vice-president; and Marjorie Masters, secretary-treasurer. Assisting them as cabinet members were Betty Bubbert, Vivian Johnson, Betty Bracket, Dorothy Manzel, and Grace Jilg.

To interest freshmen in their club, old members invited them to attend the first G. A. A. party of the school year. Approximately one hundred girls were present. New members were initiated at a candlelight service conducted by the officers in the Junior High gymnasium in October.

In December members held their annual party at which they exchanged gifts and played games. Featuring a valentine theme, a similar party was held on February 14. Next in the line of events was a roller skating party which forty members attended at the local rink on March 31. A May 21 "bike-hike" to Wild Court Park closed the year's social calendar.

For the first part of the school year pugball was the main attraction for the girl athletes. During October, however, part of their time was devoted to learning the fundamentals of badminton. The most popular of all sports proved to be basketball. Two teams, captained by Dorothy Manzel and Marjorie Launer, vied for the basketball championship in January, the latter being the winner. Rounding out a full sports schedule were ping pong, dodge ball, deck tennis, and archery, all offered so each individual might achieve perfection in her favorite sport.

Every year letters of merit are given to G. A. A. members who have worked in order to prove themselves worthy of such an award. To obtain one of these letters, a girl must have devoted thirty-five hours to G. A. A. activity or to outside sports. She is also required to pass certain physical requirements and to keep a health chart for

As Joyce Sievers, Frances Springgate, Arlene Doerneman, and Dorothy Bunney wait for their turn at bat, Marcella Henkens gets ready to pitch to Nadine Brown. Beatrice Mulliken is playing catch in the pugball game.

Beatrice Mulliken watches Betty Bremner, Catherine Wilson, Arville McMahan, Phyllis Adams, Betty Bubbart, and Dorothy Wisner learn the fundamentals of six player field hockey.

Volleyball is but one of the many sports which make Grace Jilg, Roslyn Green, Betty Jane Johnson, Marjorie Launer, and Marilyn Wachter loyal G. A. A. members.

In preparation for a G. A. A. basketball tournament, Vivian Johnson, Betty Bracket, Dorothy Manzel, and Marjorie Masters shoot baskets in order to gain accuracy.

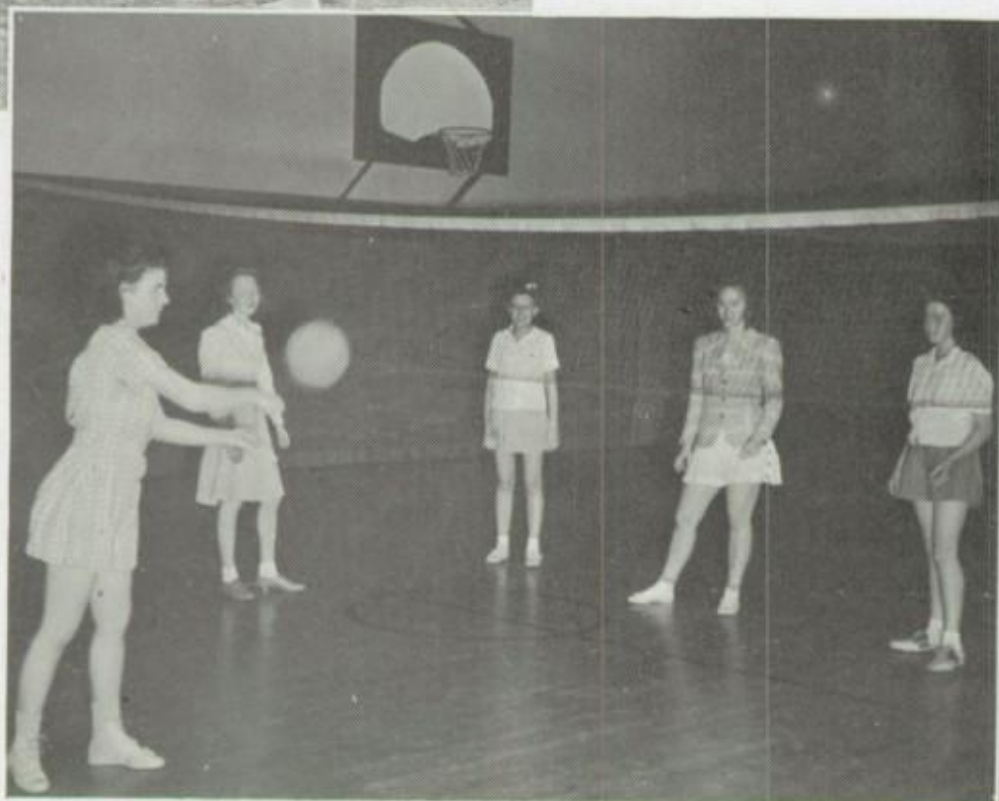

twelve weeks. The chart requires her to get eight hours of sleep, drink plenty of water, brush her teeth twice daily, and never eat between meals. During the last semester Betty Bracket, Marjorie Launer, and Vivian Johnson received their third year letters. Second year letters were won by Betty Jane Johnson, Dorothy Manzel, and Marjorie Masters. Five freshmen received their first year letters—Betty Jean Bremner, Nadine Brown, Phyllis Adams, Betty Bubbart, and Marilyn Wachter.

Remembered this to his English

Looking ahead to next year's club program, G. A. A. members decided to elect their 1942-'43 officers this semester. Marjorie Masters and Marjorie Launer, former secretary-treasurer and president will become president and secretary respectively. Grace Jilg will be promoted from this year's cabinet to the position of vice-president while Betty Jean Bremner will become treasurer. Retaining the positions on the cabinet will be Betty Bracket and Dorothy Manzel. New members are Nadine Brown and Dorothy Nelson.

class luck

*marge
L.*

Each year, as a result of careful planning and work by numerous committees, students and instructors mingle and dance together at the colorful and traditional Junior-Senior Prom.

Preparation Through Self-Expression

By expressing themselves through their creative ability, talents, leadership, and individuality, Fremont students are able to gain treasured memories of beneficial and entertaining times which result from their participation in public performances, formal occasions, and informal parties they have planned.

*lots of luck
in future years*

Ole Reis

Bob Weinberg and his swingsters spent long, grueling hours pouring out music as they worked together to perfect their band for the Junior Orpheum.

Stars are the appropriate setting for the girls' octet as its members appear with their harmonious gowns and music to sing "When Day Is Done."

1-2-3, La Conga! Roy Farris drums out the conga beat as this string of girls performs that dance with professional perfection and lends decided beauty to the show.

Stepping out of the Li'l Abner comic strip with their Kick-a-Poo Joy Juice were Hairless Joe and Lonesome Polecat.

"If I do'dit, I det a whippin'." "He do'dit." Abe Krasne, impersonating Red Skelton, caused a riot among the Dogpatchers and the capacity crowd.

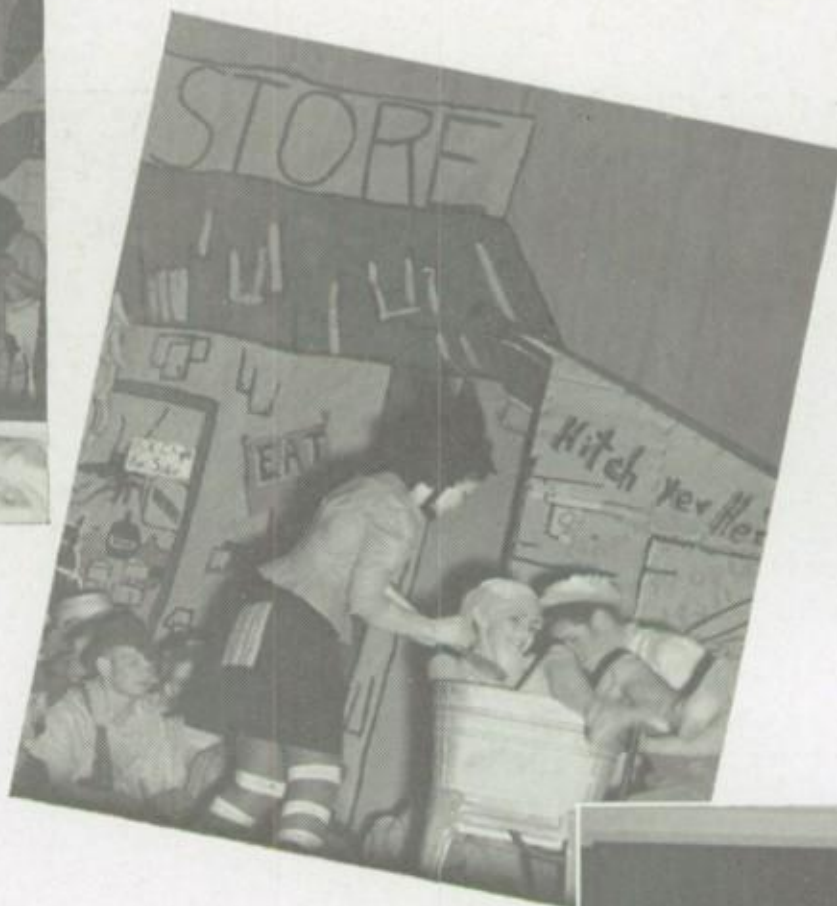

"I think that man winked at me," whispers shocked Zasu Pitts, imitated by Mary Richards, who rehearses her original act at the dress rehearsal.

News Commentator Verne Daniel addresses Adolph Hitler Schicklgruber (Bob Weinberg) and his crony, Mussolini (Bill Reuter), before they begin their tirade of nasal dissertations which convulsed the audience.

One of the many scenes of Dogpatch home life is the tussle Mammy and Li'l Abner have while scrubbing Pappy Yokum in his yearly bath.

"Stars Over Dogpatch" reaches a magnificent climax as Fremont's Fred Waring leads his smooth orchestra and choir in "Keep 'Em Flyin'."

"Can this be Puppach?" is the question naive Miss Pitts (Mary Richards) asks of the bewildered natives who cluster about her after her parachute has landed her in their midst.

As important as the cast was the crew of workers who labored behind scenes. One of the chief technicians was Charles House, who directed all the lighting effects for the production.

(Upper left) As the Pep Band beats out the rhythm, hearty supporters of the Fremont football team parade the city streets to work up enthusiasm for important games.

(Upper center) Special privileges were granted parents when they came back to school for a night; for after their round of classes, they were served refreshments in the teachers' room. For two other Back to School Night pictures, see opposite page.

(Upper right) Because the Junior-Senior Prom is traditionally known to be colorful and fun, Phyllis Jo Greenlee wouldn't let even an appendectomy keep her away last spring.

(Left) Preceding the Prom each year is the annual faculty dinner, which is the last of this group's many social activities held during the school year.

(Lower left) At all-school parties in the City Auditorium, Fremont High School students swing and sway to the music of the best bands a nickelodeon can offer.

(Upper center) Beautiful for the audience in the City Auditorium balcony to view and fun for the participants is the lengthy but impressive Junior-Senior Prom grand march.

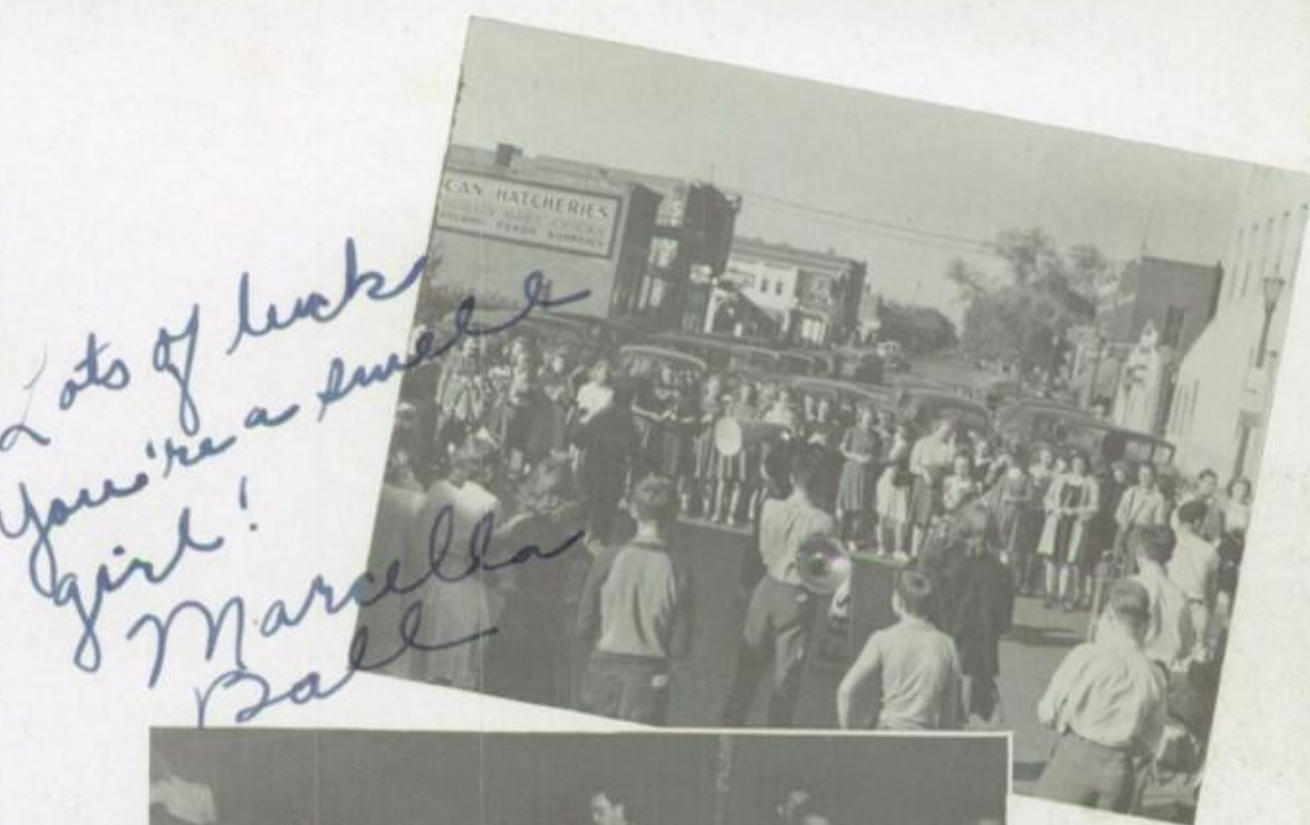

(Upper right) Always careful to treat their "innards" with care, guests at the music department's party took time out to quench their thirst with "cokes."

(Left above) "Fight, Fremont; Fight, Fremont," yells Roy Farris to the peppy crowd at a rally on the corner of Sixth and Broad.

(Left below) Jivin' in the Junior High gym are music department students who turned from their own music to hear that issued by the nickelodeon.

(Lower left) Annuals are out and the rush is on. To get the most pleasure from their books, students spend the last days of school trading signatures.

(Lower right) To afford more opportunity for student participation in school events, Principal Hamilton Mitten selects student speakers for the Honors Convocations during the year.

Bob Weinberg knew that it would take a lot of work to keep The Rustler even with the Black and Gold.

Another Beautiful Black and Gold

ENGRAVED
by CAPITAL

Bob and Susan study the '41 Black and Gold before making plans for the '42 edition.

Rah Black! Rah Gold! was the spirit of a student body proud of its sophomore cheerleaders—Charlotte Ann Lewis, Gene Muir, and Marilyn Douglas.

Publishing an attractive and interesting yearbook that will be accepted by students and patrons of your school is no easy task. Your staff this year set out to surpass the 1941 Black and Gold. Plans were made in the summer of '41, and the real work began when school opened. Continually in our mind was the thought "let's not forget a thing." This 1942 Black and Gold is yours. As engravers and designers of your Black and Gold, we thank you for the opportunity you have given us to serve you.

CAPITAL ENGRAVING CO.
LINCOLN

The camera visited us many places. We knew our every minute would be included.

Index of Pictures

Compiled by John Byron Johnson, '42;
Charis Wells, '42; Charline Bremner, '42;
Betty Jean Launer, '42; and Charles Smith,
'43.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Burkholder, May	9, 16, 50
Clark, Ronald M.	9, 24, 65
Corbett, Florence	9, 10
Dunlap, L. Hartley	9, 17
Elmore, T. Harrison	9
Gardner, Wayne	9, 48, 49
Gerhart, Kathryn	9, 10, 19
Hanlon, Frances	9, 10
Hansen, John G.	8, 9, 10
Harris, Ruth D.	10, 60
Harvey, Dr. Andrew	8
Hatch, Doris	9
Hice, William	10, 54, 57
Johansen, Walden	10, 82
Johnston, R. A.	8
Lang, Mildred	10, 38
Lucas, Elaine	10, 24
Luttman, Harold	10
Marr, Helen	10, 38, 59
Marsh, J. E.	10
McDermand, Clarabelle	10
Mehrens, Anita	11, 23
Mitten, Hamilton	9, 10, 11, 47
Morrow, Dr. H. N.	8
Murphy, Leander	8
Olsen, Walter	11
Schnabel, Edward	10, 11, 74, 81, 86
Smith, Herbert	11
Soker, Bertha	11, 71
Springer, Frances	2, 11, 71
Teal, Lenore	11, 21, 41, 58
Vaughn, Maxine	9, 25
Wells Glenn	8
West, Richard	85, 98
Westcott, Jean	11, 17, 98
Wiles, Helen	11, 50
Wilson, Donald	11, 79, 87
Yelkin, Virgil	10, 11, 72, 74
Yost, Herbert	11
Young, Dr. J. Tilton	8

STUDENTS

Abbott, Eileen	24, 46, 50, 51, 56
Adams, Douglas	24
Ageton, Don	19, 68, 69, 84
Akerlund, Jean	28
Allen, Betty Jane	28, 45, 51, 64, 65
Allen, Dale	28
Allen, Tommy	15, 85
Andersen, Merle	28
Anderson, Anne	16, 71
Anderson, Elmer	19
Anderson, Jack	21, 72, 79, 81, 86
Anderson, Mary	28, 46, 65
Anderson, Warren	14
Anstine, Paul	26, 49, 82
Anthony, Merlin	20
Arie, Richard	22, 28, 49, 66, 67, 71
Arvanetis, John	87
Arvanetis, Mary	19
Atwood, Arlie	22, 86, 99
Atzbach, Harold	24

With the aid of a model house, Mr. N. A. Allen demonstrates to Bud Walraven and Charles Shada the uses that can be made of MELICK-ALLEN'S high quality, long-lasting products.

To gain information about loans, Bonnie Strain and Elaine Hartmann interview President D. D. Rowe at the NEBRASKA STATE SAVINGS AND LOAN where policies are practical and safe.

In WEINBERG'S completely remodeled and smartly decorated store, Jim Paulin, Lynn French, and Leonard Rice find the latest trends in every style of young men's clothing and furnishings.

Since the HOTEL PATHFINDER has achieved its modernistic and metropolitan appearance, Bob Olmsted and Gayle Gainsforth deem it a real treat to dine in the beautiful coffee shop.

A new Cadillac ambulance, which Mary Louise Helt, Phyllis Sorensen, and Charles Butler admire, enables the FRED BADER FUNERAL HOME to give safe, speedy service.

Colorful handkerchiefs and brilliant costume jewelry are only two of the many items seen by Lois Sorensen, Yvonne Christensen, and Darlene Bahle in the large and complete stocks at SCHWESER'S.

Safe and sound banking policies, established through years of service, give Bill Higgins, Bill Gunderson, Bud Jastram, and Dick Hepperly confidence in the FREMONT NATIONAL BANK.

Famous throughout the state, Miss Gladys Planck's FREMONT RECREATION CENTER draws many students and teachers, including Jim Furstenau, Shirley Babendure, Miss Jean Westcott, and Mr. Richard West.

Austin, Lewis	28, 52, 68
Babendure, Shirley	28, 98
Bader, Betty	20, 25
Bahde, Elaine	28
Bahle, Darlene	22, 50, 60
Bahner, Joyce	28
Baker, Betty	28
Baldwin, Betty June	28, 46, 54, 56, 71, 100
Ball, Marcella	16, 47, 50, 64
Ball, Rodney	12, 15
Bartling, Erma	29
Barton, Bonnie Belle	29, 69
Battiato, Mary	29, 62
Bayer, Marcella	17
Beck, Bettie	25, 71, 105
Bennett, Ronald	17
Betkie, Marilyn	29
Betkie, Marjorie	29, 64
Bishop, Leonard	85
Bittner, Morris	29, 103
Blakeney, Bette	16
Blakeslee, Janice	29, 33, 41, 45, 47, 64
Blanchard, Dorothy	29
Bogenreif, Everette	29, 55
Bokowski, Jim	16, 101, 104
Boosalis, George	15, 86, 87, 102
Bracket, Betty	21, 85, 89
Bracket, Tom	29, 66, 67, 71, 74, 76, 85
Brass, Viola	19
Bremner, Charline	29
Brewer, Adeline	29, 60
Brewer, Marian	19
Bronson, Dwain	26
Bronson, Joyce	29
Bronson, Loretha	29
Brown, Clara May	18, 105
Brown, George	15, 82, 87
Brown, James	24
Brown, LeRoy	15
Brown, Lorene	23, 100
Brown, Mary	17
Bruce, Betty	14, 51, 67
Brueggemann, Richard	30, 60
Brueggemann, Robert	30, 56, 60
Bubbert, Robert	14
Buck, Eileen	21
Bucklin, Tommy	53, 99
Bunney, Norma	64
Burbank, Betty	25
Butler, Charles	26, 98
Byorth, Jane	30, 59, 65
Callahan, Melva	18
Callaway, Colleen	14, 18
Callaway, Stan	85
Camp, Daton	26, 49, 64, 65, 71
Canaga, Shirley	22
Carlberg, Verda	26
Carlson, Jeanne	30, 46, 64, 105
Carlson, Joe	17, 49, 59, 67, 71, 83, 87, 102
Carroll, Curtis	17, 87
Carstens Adele	16, 51
Cassell, Harold	30
Cawood, Mary Alice	27, 41, 42, 47, 51, 56, 58, 60, 61, 64, 101
Chrisman Joe	30, 72, 74, 75, 76, 78, 79, 80, 81, 86
Christensen, Calvin	25, 30, 46, 49, 53, 71
Christensen, Sheldon	36, 63
Christensen, Yvonne	24, 27

Christofferson, Albert.....	53
Chudomelka, Beverly	27
Chudomelka, Valburga	30
Clark, Betty	30, 64
Clausen, Dona Jean	14, 16
Claussen, Val Gene	26, 49
Coates, Darlene	18
Coats, Hubert	14
Colley, Bill.....	21, 46, 49, 58, 65, 71, 100, 101
Conrad, Doris	30
Conrad, Ralph	24, 66, 69
Coppock, Halliefae	30
Cornell, Jerry	25, 74, 75, 86
Crouch, Betty Lou	30
Cusick, Darlene	14, 105
Cusick, Dick.....	25
Cusick, Jim	30, 48, 49, 54, 66, 67, 71
Daehnke, Iona	30
Daehnke, Sigurd	14
Daily, Marjorie	31, 63, 64
Daniel, Verne.....	29, 31, 38, 45, 46, 57, 65, 71, 72, 79, 82, 100
Daniels, Myrtle	17
Davis, Herbert.....	25, 58, 66, 67, 72, 79, 101
Dew, Dorothy Mae	15
Dickerson, Elaine	20
Dickhute, Gerald	25
Dickmeyer, Robert	18
Diederich, Albert	18, 87
Diedrichs, Delores	21, 99
Diedricksen, Evelyn	20, 59
Dirrim, Lyle	18, 61
Dobrovorny, Don	19, 24
Dodge, Marjorie	20
Doerneman, Elaine	15, 58
Dorsett, Charlotte	24, 46
Dorsett, Robert.....	31, 38, 45, 54, 57, 65, 102
Douglas, Marilyn	16, 46, 60, 64, 70, 71
Dunker, Doris	31, 62
Dwyer, Phyllis	31, 104
Dykeman, Jerry	25, 48, 49, 64, 65, 81, 86, 87, 105
Eckert, Florence	17
Egger, Dean	18
Eggers, Pete	18, 66, 67, 71
Eidam, Bill	14
Elmer, LaVonne	8, 26, 50, 105
Ely, George.....	29, 31, 54, 56, 65, 91, 100
Emmons, Jack	25, 81, 84, 99
Engel, Neva June	19
Eskilsen, Carol Lynn	19
Fahk, Robert	25, 85
Farris, Roy	31, 54, 56, 67, 70, 72, 77, 79, 82, 86, 103
Feild, Jim.....	16, 48, 49, 58, 67, 71, 81, 87
Feuerstein, Carol.....	31, 63, 64
Foley, Patricia	21
Forsberg, Cleo	18
Fowler, Harold.....	18, 49, 71, 81, 87, 91
Fowler, Melvin	31, 46, 49, 55, 74, 102
Fox, Robert	31, 74, 76, 99
Frank, Nancy	17, 47, 57, 58, 65
Franklin, Virginia	15, 51
Freeman, Carmen	17, 71
French, Lynn.....	16, 49, 67, 71, 81, 87, 91, 97
French, Virgil	31, 49, 52
Fullington, Gerald.....	31, 74, 75, 76, 80, 81, 85, 86
Furstenau, Burnell	22, 32, 49

Because it brings much-needed supplies to the Industrial Arts Building regularly, Tommy Bucklin, Leland Svect, and Bob Fox welcome the sight of the familiar LUEHRS-CHRISTENSEN LUMBER & COAL CO. truck.

"Carole King" junior frocks of unusual style and quality are admired by Delores Diedrichs, Charleen Kelly, and Mary Richards at VERBIN'S.

Through thoughtfulness and care, Mr. Skoglund of SKOGLUND'S STUDIO will produce a photo of distinction and beauty for Donna Lou Peterson and Mary Lou Phelps.

Arlie Atwood and Jack Emmons find that SORENSEN'S is the finest place in which to find modern, attractive, long-lasting plumbing fixtures.

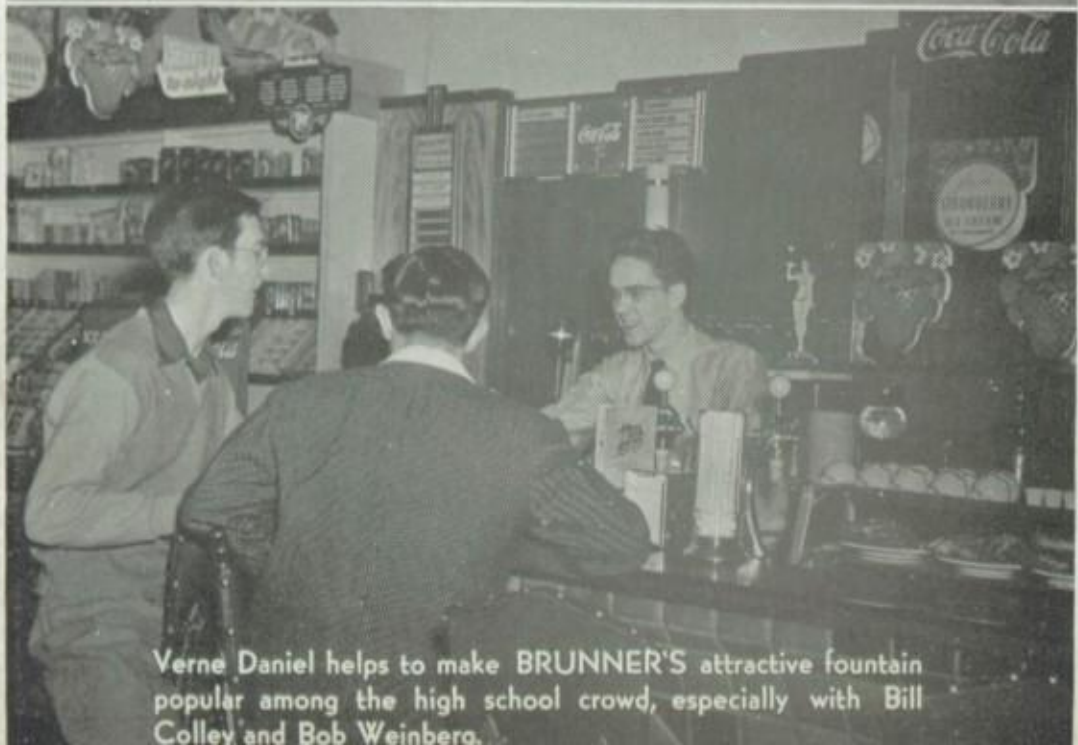

For convenient gas heating at moderate prices, James Robinson, Marjorie Masters, and Lorene Brown know their parents can depend on the KANSAS-NEBRASKA GAS FUEL COMPANY.

Mr. A. G. Christensen proves to Jean Heidenreich, John Kohlmeier, and Ed Lewis that the EQUITABLE BUILDING AND LOAN'S services are invaluable to prospective home builders.

Betty Jean Launer, Betty June Baldwin, George Ely, and Tink Herman stop at the HERMAN OIL CO. to get super and speedy service for Tink's car.

Verne Daniel helps to make BRUNNER'S attractive fountain popular among the high school crowd, especially with Bill Colley and Bob Weinberg.

Furstenau, Harriet15
Furstenau, Jim16, 49, 87, 98, 105

Gaines, Janice25, 68, 69
Gainsforth, Gayle26, 64, 71, 97
Garfield, Gertrude32, 59
Gayton, Fred15
Geiser, Elizabeth32
Giebler, Loren32, 53, 105
Gifford, Ruby21, 27, 63
Glismann, Kenneth14
Gollehon, Warren32, 72, 78
Goodhard, George23, 49
Goranson, Donely24
Gould, Jason18
Green, Roslyn89
Greenlee, Helen24, 68, 69, 71
Grefe, Gretchen15
Grover, Charles18
Grover, Kathryn32
Gumb, William32, 49, 71, 102
Gunderson, Bill22, 49, 61, 64, 98

Hackney, Ethelyn32
Hackstock, Eloise32
Hagedorn, Alvin32, 49
Hageman, Shirley17
Hahn, Bob16, 49, 71, 84
Haisch, Eugene32
Hannon, Jack22, 49, 64, 81, 84
Hansen, Jean32
Hansen, Melvin27, 70
Hansen, Mona Jane32
Hanson, Bill14
Hanson, Jim18, 47, 48, 49, 67, 71
Hanson, Marjory15, 47, 69
Harding, Jack25
Harms, Delores19, 59
Harms, Joan32
Hartmann, Elaine20, 25, 97
Hartsock, Corinne33, 50, 62, 64
Harvey, Don21, 49, 66, 71, 101
Haslam, George26, 46, 48, 49, 58, 59, 104
Haughawout, Dorothy33
Heidenreich, Jean33, 41, 46, 65, 100
Heine, Comer33, 74, 76
Heller, Edward33
Heller, Violet15
Helt, Mary15, 98
Henkens, Patricia14
Hepperly, Dick23, 48, 49, 74, 75, 81, 83, 85, 86, 98

Herman, Nonda33, 61, 62
Herman, Tink33, 54, 56, 72, 74, 76, 78, 82, 86, 100
Herre, Bettie33
Herre, Leola23
Heskett, Ted33, 46, 58, 65
Hickman, Margaret Ann15, 65, 104
Hindmarsh, Glen33, 75, 76
Higgins, Betty Jane14
Higgins, Bill25, 87, 98
Hilgenkamp, Bette Jane20
Hoganson, Mary Lou17
Holub, Opal33
Hooper, Dwight87, 102
House, Charles29, 33, 49, 65, 67, 71
Hronek, Alma14
Hunt, Alma14
Hutchinson, Bob66, 67

Ibsen, Albert16

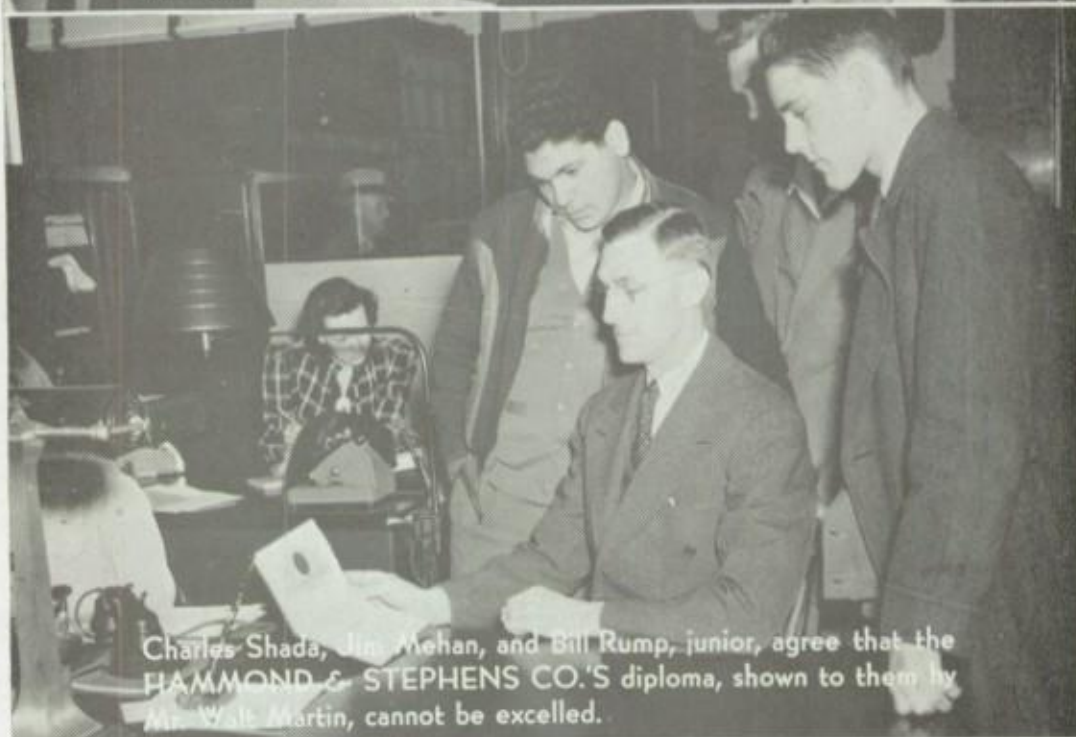

Ivey, Arlene	18, 19
Ivey, Clarabelle	33
Jacupke, Arlene	15
Jacupke, Gerald	34, 46, 74, 76, 86, 102
Janowski, Dale	21, 49, 74, 79, 81
Jastram, Bud	21, 49, 98
Jelinek, Betty Lou	27
Jensen, Dorothy	16, 68
Jensen, Genene	17, 51, 66, 67, 71
Jensen, Kenneth	34, 49, 82, 86
Jensen, Kenneth H.	34, 48, 49, 64, 81, 83
Jensen, Marie	26
Jensen, Merle	27, 81
Jensen, Patty	34, 54, 57, 60, 102
Jilg, Grace	21, 89
Jirovsky, Marcella	23
Joe, Don	34, 55, 73, 74, 75, 76, 80, 81, 84, 86, 91
Johnsen, Paul	22, 49, 67, 81, 103
Johnson, Betty Jane	89
Johnson, Bud	34, 44, 47, 55, 56, 66, 72, 73, 78, 82, 86, 102
Johnson, Calla	34
Johnson, Gerald	34
Johnson, Gladys	34, 65
Johnson, Laura	26
Johnson, Lillian	34
Johnson, Robert	16, 48, 49, 67, 71, 81, 84, 85, 87
Johnson, Thelma	27
Johnson, Vivian	34, 89
Johnson, Wanda	25, 47, 50, 64
Johnston, Phyllis	18, 47, 85
Jugler, Berniece	15
Jugler, Leo	34, 38, 49, 54, 57, 72, 79, 90
Kaarstad, Gennie	33, 34, 46, 58, 62, 64, 71, 103
Kallenbach, Dick	18, 49, 67
Kallstrom, Irene	20, 22
Karlin, Elden	14
Karlin, Norman	14
Keener, Gernelle	18, 65
Keller, Paul	34, 54, 60, 61
Kelly, Charleen	27, 64, 99
Kennec, Richard	81
Kent, Vivian	34
Kingry, Virginia	14
Kissell, Mary Ellen	15, 16, 66, 71
Kluge, Elaine	35, 58
Knapp, Iona	35, 59
Knoell, Helen	35, 62
Knoell, Robert	35
Knoell, William	35
Kohlmeier, John	35, 74, 76, 84, 86, 100
Kohlmeier, Venice	14
Koopman, Lois	19, 46, 69, 105
Kortum, Elaine	15
Kosta, Elaine	35
Kosta, Robert	23
Kounovsky, Jean Ann	35, 62
Krasne, Abner	33, 35, 65, 71, 83
Krcmarik, Don	18, 64
Krcmarik, Marcene	27
Kruse, Duane	15, 49, 67, 84, 85
Kruse, Frances	35
Lahman, Elaine	14, 18
Lahmann, Caroline	17
Lamberty, Dick	35, 72, 76, 86

For comfort and safety, Charis Wells, Dennis Zakovec, Mary Alice Cawood, Don Harvey, Ginger Reeder, Bill Colley, Rex Monahan, Jim Bokowski, Bob Lee, and Donna Lou Peterson pick a UNION PACIFIC bus.

Whenever they want the newest and most dependable electrical appliances, Ginger Reeder, Joyce Neumann, and Herb Davis automatically go to KOLLMAYER'S HARDWARE STORE.

Charles Shada, Jim Mehan, and Bill Rump, junior, agree that the HAMMOND & STEPHENS CO.'S diploma, shown to them by Mr. Walt Martin, cannot be excelled.

Beulah Farris Jennings demonstrates to Lila Woods, Charlotte Ann Lewis, and Kay Murphy that FARRIS' is the place to find gay, mod-ish dresses that are sure to please.

Bill Gumb, Dwight Hooper, and Joe Carlson know they can be always assured of superior quality and smart style in a suit coming from GERALD SAMPTER'S.

Bob Dorsett, George Boosalis, Jerry Jacupke, Betty Rhea, and Patty Jensen give their orders to gracious Helen Petrow at the ever-popular PETROW'S RESTAURANT, always crowded to capacity after any school event.

Judging by these attractive samples, Nanette Sampter, Carolyn Motter, and Virginia Murphy have no doubt that COOK'S wall-paper for girls' rooms excels all others.

When looking for a well-tailored suit or snappy sports outfit, Melvin Fowler, Bob Murphy, and Bud Johnson feel that SONIN'S is their best bet.

Lamberty, Jackie	14, 17, 47, 58
Lamprecht, Orris	26
Larsen, Norman	20, 53
Larson, Darlene	68
Larson, Paul	18, 82
Larson, Phyllis	35
Launer, Betty Jean	51, 100
Launer, Magdalene	14
Launer, Marjorie	19, 36, 89
Launer, Robert	36
Laursen, Roberta	36, 62
Layman, Raymie	81
Lee, Bob	14, 101
Lee, Connie	36, 46, 62, 64
Legge, Kathryn	12, 29, 36, 42, 45, 47, 51, 65
LeGrand, Francis	53
LeGrand, Waunetta	14, 18
Lehman, Bruce	24
Lewis, Charlotte Ann	17, 51, 70, 71, 101
Lewis, Ed	36, 58, 76, 81, 83, 86, 100
Lonergan, Jim	20, 49, 64, 65, 70, 71, 82, 84
Lovell, Dolores	16
Lucas, Pat	36, 50, 55, 57, 65
Lueninghoener, Ardis	18
Lueninghoener, June	20
Lundin, Lawrence	14
Lundin, Louie	53
Lyders, Bill	17, 69
Lyman, Laura Ann	51

Maben, Lavon	16, 67
Madsen, Howard	18
Madsen, Pete	22
Mahlin, Luanna	36, 60, 62, 63
Maiker, Mary Ann	18
Malcolm, Jacqueline	18
Mallonee, Robert	36
Mandrell, Virginia	36, 65
Manzel, Dorothy	15, 89
Manzel, Goldiemae	36
Manzel, Hamilton	36, 86, 103
Markussen, Kenneth	53
Martin, Charles	15, 46, 49, 52, 57, 60, 71, 81
Martin, Glorian	37
Martin, Lois Ann	19
Martin, Pat	16
Maryott, Arlene	22, 62
Masters, Eleanor	37
Masters, Marjorie	14, 89, 100
Matson, Harriet	37
Matson, Melvin	16, 65
McCarthy, Helen	20, 47
McCarty, Ronald	21, 80, 81
McDonald, Ronald	85
McDonnell, Dick	26, 27, 42, 47, 58, 74, 76, 78, 86
McDuffee, Darrell	17
McDuffee, Lloyd	17, 84
McGath, David	18, 69, 87
McGee, Mildred	37
McKenzie, Dorothy	22
McMahan, Beatrice	17
Mead, Margie	23
Mehan, James	37, 47, 64, 74, 101
Meines, Bernice	37, 63
Mendenhall, Betty	24
Mets, Ralph	16, 27
Metschke, Margie	14, 37
Miller, Jacqueline	14, 16, 47, 64
Miller, Jerry	26, 85
Miller, Marcella	26
Milligan, Bessie	37

Milligan, Dale	26
Mitchel, Jackie	27
Moeller, Earl	37
Moffet, Warren	37, 62, 63, 83
Moller, Dorothy	37
Monahan, Rex	37, 47, 64, 66, 71, 101
Monovitz, Ila Lee	25, 46, 51, 104
Montanye, LeVerne	22
Moore, Don H.	37
Mortensen, Evelyn	37, 62
Mosier, Carole	20, 69
Mosier, Wilda	38, 50, 68
Mosley, Betty Jean	38, 69
Moss, Loma	15
Motter, Carolyn	21, 46, 50, 61, 64, 85, 102
Muir, Gene	14, 70, 103
Mundy, Jack	38, 46, 74, 85
Murphy, Bob	38, 49, 55, 56, 90, 102
Murphy, Kay	14, 101
Murphy, Virginia	26, 102
Murray, Bob	38, 49, 57, 82, 90

Nau, Theresa	21
Neisius, Betty Ann	23
Nelson, Alice	38, 51
Nelson, Bill	26, 87
Nelson, Joan	14, 65
Nelson, Kenneth	16, 85
Nelson, Margaret	38
Nelson, Marie	38
Nelson, Marjorie	42
Neumann, Joyce	13, 20, 60, 68, 71, 101
Nielsen, Beulah	38, 64
Nielsen, Elmer	38
Nielsen, Margaret	25

Olesen, Jo Ella	19, 64
Olmsted, Bob	38, 41, 48, 49, 55, 57, 67, 71, 97
Olsen, Laverna	38
Olson, Billy	23
Olson, Margaret	39, 59
Osborn, Audrey	27
Otteson, James	24, 84

Padden, Joyce	14
Parson, Wendell	39, 53, 57, 105
Paulin, Jim	25, 49, 57, 58, 71, 85, 97
Paulsen, Reinhart	39, 82, 85
Paulsen, Vernice	23, 39
Paulson, Dale	39, 53
Payne, Robert	39
Pedersen, Earl	26, 62, 64, 65
Pedersen, Virginia	39
Peirce, Leo	21, 103
Perkins, LaVina	16
Perkins, Marguerite	23
Perry, Keith	25, 67, 84
Peters, Betty	39, 71
Peters, Lucille	27
Petersen, Agnes	27
Peterson, Bob	39, 65, 67, 71
Peterson, Donna Lou	19, 42, 47, 50, 61, 99, 101
Peterson, Doris	16, 105
Peterson, Geraldine	25
Peterson, Lila	27
Peterson, Marilyn	39, 62
Peterson, Marjorie	39, 66
Peterson, Marvin	49, 52, 69
Peterson, Pete	39, 49
Peterson, Richard	24, 39, 49

After inspecting samples of YAGER'S Hybrid Seed Corn, Hamilton Manzel, Lloyd Sinnett, Dale Plambeck, and Morris Bittner agree that it is the best for Nebraska.

Enlarged photographs are used to demonstrate the distinction and beauty of the SMITHORPE STUDIO'S work to Betty Ritchie, Gennie Kaarstad, and Roy Farris.

Paul Johnson, Gene Muir, and Virginia Thulin know that the STEADENS NATIONAL BANK'S policies are as sound as the defense bond Miss Florence Swihart is issuing.

MONTGOMERY & WARD'S beautifully sheer hose of long-lasting quality at amazingly low prices are inspected by Leo Peirce, Jane Schwabe, and Betty Thompson with the help of a clerk, Miss Ogal Christensen.

Although Susan Reynolds finds herself alone in the KERLIN-CHRISTENSEN DRUG STORE at ten in the morning, by noon that popular and efficient fountain staff will be rushed with regular, satisfied customers.

Janice Spotts, Phyllis Dwyer, and Margaret Ann Hickman find that the BROWN McDONALD CO. has not only a modernistic new store but also fine stock, represented by the spring styles in coats.

A suit, expertly cleaned and laundered, is returned to Jim Bokowski and Frances Warring by good-natured Mrs. Charles Johnson of the dependable IDEAL LAUNDRY.

Manager L. T. Parker proves to Tootie Monovitz, Harold Walters, and George Haslam that smart shoes for spring and summer wear can be found in any style at the R & S SHOE STORE.

Pfabe, Betty	39
Phelps, Mary Lou	17, 66, 71, 99
Piercy, Bob	83, 87
Piere, Darlene	25, 64
Plambeck, Dale	40, 64, 103
Pollock, Bob	40, 48, 49, 55, 82, 83, 86
Powers, Don	14
Pred, Floraine	15, 71
Price, John	14
Pruyn, Joan	40

Quay, Charles 23, 81

Ranieri, Rose Marie	14
Raschig, Clarence	14
Rasmussen, Carol	26, 105
Rasmussen, Lucille	18
Rasmussen, Patty	20, 65
Realph, Carmen	15, 23
Rebbe, Louis	40, 48, 49
Reed, Madeleine	40, 69
Reed, Margie	20
Reeder, Ginger	21, 46, 47, 50, 57, 61, 67, 70, 71, 101
Reeson, Denis	40
Reeson, Jeanette	50
Reis, Charles	43, 47, 84
Reis, Ole	71, 85
Reuter, Bill	29, 36, 40, 49, 59, 63, 66, 67, 83, 86
Reynolds, Kay	21, 64, 71
Reynolds, Rosemary	15, 54, 68, 71
Reynolds, Susan	3, 40, 47, 50, 51, 54, 56, 65, 104

Rhea, Betty	40, 44, 50, 51, 54, 56, 70, 102
Rheinschild, Francis	15
Rice, Leonard	40, 55, 74, 86, 97
Richards, Mary	21, 50, 51, 57, 65, 99
Richter, Leo	85
Rieck, Lola	22
Riegel, Dean	14, 18
Rinde, Doris	16, 51, 65, 71
Rinde, Ruth	40, 68, 69
Ritchie, Betty	29, 40, 51, 54, 56, 60, 103
Ritthaler, Marjorie	27
Rix, Arnold	41
Robinson, James	36, 41, 52, 59, 62, 69, 100
Robinson, Paul	41, 52
Rohn, Roma	22, 63
Romans, Ralph	21, 49
Rose, Georgia Anne	41, 67, 68, 69, 71
Rosen, Shirley	41
Rosenbach, Carlyle	41
Rousey, Jim	14
Ruhrer, Dorothy	41
Rump, Bill, Jr.	74, 76, 101
Rump, Bill H.	41, 48, 49, 54, 56, 65, 72, 79, 86

Rump, Jean	16, 64
Rump, Patty	41, 56
Runnels, Arthur	87
Ruppert, Dorothy	15, 65

Salazar, Juanita	17
Sampter, Nanette	25, 46, 51, 61, 64, 71, 102
Samuelson, Lou Jean	27, 64
Sawtell, Robert	27, 87
Schaeufele, Roberta	17, 65
Schiller, Bill	14, 87
Schinkel, Frank	26
Schlote, LaVina	16, 24
Schnebel, Bill	41, 72, 74, 76, 79, 82, 86

*Good Luck
and Best Wishes
from Mrs. Charles Johnson*

Schow, Marian	17, 65
Schultz, Donna Jean	41, 62
Schultz, Wealthy	41
Schwabe, Jane	41, 51, 65, 103
Schwanke, Melvin	19
Scott, Bessie	41
Scott, Stan	83
Scoville, John	16
Semrad, Louie	58, 66, 67, 81, 87
Shada, Charles	41, 74, 76, 84, 86, 97, 101
Shanahan, Larry	22, 82, 84
Shriver, Avis	24
Siercks, Lois	42
Sievers, Richard	25
Singer, Marcketa	18
Sinner, Clarence	18, 87
Sinnett, Lloyd	42, 81, 103
Sinnett, Marie	42
Skoog, Kenneth	21
Smith, Charles	13, 19, 26, 49, 60
Smutz, Larry	15, 18, 81
Sommers, Bernice	21
Sorensen, Bob	42, 52, 55, 57
Sorensen, Lois	23, 63, 64, 65
Sorensen, Marvin	42, 49
Sorensen, Phyllis	19, 50, 51, 98
Sorman, Ruth	42
Soukup, John	42, 59, 64, 66, 67, 71
Spohn, Hal	20, 46, 49, 58, 71, 81, 84, 87
Spotts, Harlan	42, 74, 79, 85, 86
Spotts, J. ice	14, 104
Springer, Frances	20, 88
Steen, Paul	42, 46, 49, 54, 56, 71, 86
Steffen, Paul	24
Stennfeld, Lois	42
Stennfeld, Margaret	25
Stephenson, Robert	14, 52, 85
Stout, John	17, 81, 87
Stout, Ralph	42, 75, 81, 82, 84, 86
Strain, Bonnie	20, 97
Svete, Leland	42, 49, 99
Tanke, Kenneth	14, 81, 83
Tegt, Mary Lee	43, 51, 71
TePoel, Eula Mae	18
Thomassen, Don	27, 74, 75
Thompson, Betty	20, 103
Thomsen, Lorraine	43
Thulin, Virginia	23, 103
Thurm, Elna	43, 60, 62, 71
Thurm, Harold	16
Townsend, Jack	27
Utterback, Bennie	27
Van Horn, Betty	14
Vinderslev, Darlene	24
Wagner, Betty	23
Walls, Robert	43
Walraven, Bud	43, 74, 75, 84, 86, 97
Walters, Harold	20, 87, 104
Warring, Frances	104
Watson, LeRoy	19, 53
Wedberg, Lloyd	43, 56, 58
Weidner, Bonnie	23
Weidner, Elsie Mae	43
Weihe, Dorothy	14, 17
Weinberg, Bob	43, 54, 57, 67, 70, 82, 86, 100
Wells, Charis	43, 46, 51, 55, 57, 60, 71, 85, 101

Gracefulness and beauty in its lines mark the furniture found by Lois Koopman, Jeanne Carlson, and LaVonne Elmer at VON & PIERCE'S.

Mr. A. V. Hill, co-owner of PHELPS' CIGAR STORE, explains the merits of his long-lasting and dependable sports equipment to Loren Giebler, Jim Furstenau, and Wendell Parson.

Marvin Schou, playing the records. Darlene Cusick, Clara Mae Brown, and Doris Peterson select from an album, gives prompt, efficient service in his FREMONT MUSIC STORE.

Having seen the outstanding spring styles, Jerry Dykeman, Bettie Beck, and Carol Rasmussen can understand why Mr. Lee Hintz is Dorothy Jensen, Charles Smith, Pat Lucas, and Eileen Abbott listen to Mr. Herb Olsen's explanation of a new stainless steel vat used to Pasteurize milk at the FAIRMONT CREAMERY CO.

Miss Irene McDonald discusses the excellence of Blackbird Quality Foods with Wilda Mosier, Ruth Sorman, and Mary Lee Tegt at the H. P. LAU CO., Fremont wholesale grocery dealers.

Welstead, Bill	18, 67
Wennstedt, Victor	26, 74, 75, 77, 78, 81
Westphal, Victoria	43, 50, 64
Westphal, Wilmer	18, 83
Wetgen, Lois	17
Whalley, Don	43, 45, 64, 65, 82, 83, 86
Wheelock, Alyce	19
Wheelock, Rella	14
Whiteman, Bob	43
Widman, Betty	21, 26, 64
Wiegert, Dale	42, 43, 46, 66, 74, 81, 86
Wilch, Harold	20
Wild, Donald	25
Wild, Gene	21, 62
Wild, Kenneth	26
Wilkins, Frank	18, 81, 84, 87
Williams, Alice Marie	14
Williams, Lauramae	43
Willmer, Doris	26, 67
Winther, Robert	22, 67
Wittman, Leona	25
Wittwer, Lena Mae	17
Wood, Bill	85
Woods, Lila	26, 58, 101
Woslager, Kenneth	26, 87
Yaryan, Carol	22
Yeoman, Althea	26
Zakovec, Denny	13, 15, 87, 101
Zorn, Roberta	17, 50, 65

Dear Virginia
Remember our good old home room.
All we did is study.
Lots of luck next year.
Betty Thompson

Patrons of The BLACK and GOLD, 1942

Anderson Jewelry
Brown Drug Store
Bracket Motor Supply
Buck's Booterie
Dr. L. W. Connett
The Credit Bureau
Cornhusker Store
Diers Motor Co.
Dunn's Cafe and Ice Cream
Empress-Fremont Theaters
Evans Printing Co.
Fremont Coca-Cola Bottling Co.
Fremont Farmers Union
Fremont Frozen Foods
Fremont Morning Guide & Evening Tribune
Gannon Cleaners
Graham Ice Cream Co.
Green Room Cafe
Green's Greenhouse
J. F. Hanson & Co.
The Hanson Audit Company
Hi-Way Service Garage
James Oil Co.
Johnson Milling Co.
Kavich Furniture Co.

Kavich Iron & Metal Co.
Joe Krasne
Krasne Bros.
S. S. Kresge Co.
Launer Cycle Co.
Pete Marr
Marson's
McClary Paint & Paper Co.
Milady Shoppe
Model Cleaners & Dyers
Nebraska Consolidated Mills
Opal's Cafe
Owen Printing Co.
The Palace Ice Cream Parlor Park Avenue Floral Shop Park View Beauty Shop
Pathfinder Beauty Shop
Herman Petersen
D. R. Phelps Lumber & Coal Co.
Radio Station KORN
Rump Furnace & Hdwe. Co.
Spangler's—Jewelers and Optometrists
Stelk Super Service
Dr. N. F. Svoboda
Wallick Paint & Wallpaper Store

PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY

ATTORNEYS

Abbott, Dunlap & Abbott
Cook & Cook
Richard N. Johnson
Fred C. Laird
William H. Lamme
Howard W. Loomis

E. L. Mahlin
Mapes and Johnson
Fred H. Richards, Jr.
Robins & Yost
John F. Rohn and William F. Rohn
Sidner, Lee & Gunderson

DENTISTS

Dr. C. F. Hansen
Dr. Norris A. Hitchcock
Dr. Iva Lee Keim
Dr. L. S. Perion

Dr. A. L. Rousey
Dr. Carl G. Schlumberger
Dr. W. M. Walla
Dr. Frank G. Williams

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

R. C. Byers, M. D.
Andrew Harvey, M. D.
George A. Haslam, M. D.

Heine & Heine, M. D.
A. J. Merrick, M. D.
H. N. & H. H. Morrow, M. D.
Ira F. Richardson, M. D.

CONGRATULATIONS to the CLASS OF 1942

of the

FREMONT
HIGH SCHOOL

Fremont Printing Co.

This book, produced in our plant, represents the type of craftsmanship necessary for the achievement of QUALITY

Best wishes Virginia, I'll see you next year. Love, Betty Burbank

Dear "Mae" Best wishes and lots of "Hug" "Kiss" and
"Hug"

Good luck Virginia & all to seeing you.
Widman
11

